Ike Orders Navy To Prevent Central American Invasions

Guatemala, Nicaragua Offered Help Of U.S.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower today ordered the Navy to prevent any "Communist-directed" invasion of Guatemala or Nicaragua, which both countries charge is coming from Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The White House said in a bombshell announcement that Navy surface and air units now are in position to help the two Caribbean republics block any possible invasion. The orders do not call for a buildup of forces at the big Guantanamo Navy base in Cuba. Both Guatemala and Nicaragua have charged that recent anti-government revolts against their governments were fomented by Cuban premier Castro.

The announcement was reminiscent of Eisenhower's order on Aug. 2, 1958, that ships of the Seventh Fleet sail into the Formosa Straits to defend Formosa and the Pescadores Islands from a feared Red Chinese invasion of the Nationalist stronghold.

The White House statement issued today said:

"In response to the request of the governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua, surface and air units of the U. S. Navy are in a position in which they could assist these governments, should it become necessary, to seek out and prevent intervention on the part of communist-directed elements in the internal affairs of Guatemala and Nicaragua through the landing of armed forces or supplies from abroad."

The requests for Navy help were received by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in Washington. Herter flew to Augusta, where the president is vacationing, this morning to attend a National Security Council meeting. He conferred with the president yesterday and again today.

Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes charged that

SCHOOL-BOUND CARS HIT; 3 HURT

These two cars, both bound for school, collided this morning in Marinwood, throwing both drivers out of their cars and sending three persons, one of them a 6-year-old girl, to Marin General Hospital. The car in the foreground was driven by Daniel Naughton, 18, a student at College of Marin. The other was driven by Mrs. Joyce M. Roncevic. Naughton's school books sit atop the damaged hood. Violence Subsides In New Orleans Integration Crisis

School Board Asks Judge To Allow Return To Segregated Classrooms

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Violence subsided abruptly in the New Orleans school integration crisis today. But 99.5 per cent of the white pupils in two newly integrated schools boycotted classes and the school board asked a U. S. district judge to let it go back to segregation.

The segregationist Louisiana legislature tried to bring President-elect John F. Kennedy into the dispute by adopting a resolution asking him for an opinion on the "judicial tyranny" of U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright, who ordered the integration.

Police arrested 250 persons, white and Negro, between 8 p.m., EST, yesterday and 4 a.m. today in racial violence. Fifteen persons were beaten or cut and one was shot. But after daylight, the violence ebbed.

There were several reasons for the decrease in violence: Police wouldn't let crowds gather, they kept a sharper than usual watch around two integrated schools and it turned cold and threatened to rain.

ONE WHITE CHILD

But at McDonogh No. 19, one of the integrated schools, only one white pupil attended classes with three 6-year-old Negro girls at William Frantz Elementary School. The normal enrollment of the schools totals 1,038. Negroes entered them for the first time Monday and attendance has dropped increasingly every day since.

The legislature's resolution to Kennedy directed that a committee of legislators personally deliver the resolution and "wait for his (Kennedy's) immediate reply." There was no indication when the committee will try to see Kennedy, who was in Johnson City, Tex., today, visiting Lyndon B. Johnson.

ATTENDANCE DROPS

Attendance in fact, dropped off sharply in the entire New Orleans school system. Of a total 36,726 students in elementary and secondary schools, 12,666 failed to show up for classes today.

Many teen-aged students, both white and Negro, took part in the violence. Negroes

Nixon Captures California In Absentee Vote

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO—Absentee ballots spelled victory for Richard M. Nixon today in the tight race for California's 32 electoral votes, and heightened the vice president's prestige in his home state.

Switching the statewide unofficial count from the Democratic column did not alter the election of Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy. But it choked off opposition jibes that Nixon couldn't even carry his native area.

Unofficial returns from all but 20,000 of 230,000 absentee ballots counted eight days after the polls closed gave the Republican presidential nominee a lead of 13,160.

With only a small fraction of the record high vote still to be counted, a tabulation gave Kennedy 33,926,961 to 33,691,794 for Nixon.

CLARK GABLE

Movie Industry Mourns Death Of Clark Gable

Members of the motion picture industry, from top stars to office boys, remembered Gable as the reigning star who captivated movie audiences for more than 30 years.

Robert Taylor, who with Gable was one of Metro Goldwyn Mayer's leading stars in the '30s and '40s, and his hunting partner, felt the news was a "helluva blow."

Doris Day, who co-starred in 1958 with Gable in "Teacher's Pet," said the actor's death was a "real shock."

Marilyn Monroe, Gable's co-star in "The Misfits," broke down and wept when she was informed in New York of his death.

Private funeral services will be held 9 a.m. Saturday in the Church of Recessional at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. There was no immediate disclosure of where Gable would be buried.

ANNEXATION SNAG

Terra Linda Parks Going To District

Two Terra Linda park sites, which snagged annexation proceedings by the San Rafael City Council last week, will be turned over to the Terra Linda Recreation District at a special meeting tomorrow night.

The Terra Linda Community Services District board last night directed president Joseph R. Gunn III to deliver the deeds of the Del Ganado and Oleander park sites (a total of 4.8 acres) to the recreation district.

Meeting in an adjacent room of the Bernard Hoffman School, recreational district directors set a special meeting for 6 p.m. tomorrow in the school to accept the deeds.

The question of the two park sites halted action on annexation of Terra Linda by the City of San Rafael last week. Councilmen were in the process of setting a public hearing on annexation when they discovered that deeding of the park sites to the city had not been included in the annexation provisions.

"Perhaps the (annexation) petitions should be withdrawn and we should start again—this time including all the provisions," Councilman Fred Jensen declared.

They referred the problem to the city attorney and city manager for a report at the next council meeting on Monday.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said today he believes that the lands will go to the city if the territory is annexed. If part of the district is not in the annexed territory, it may be difficult to obtain the sites, he added.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the act under which the recreational district was established provides for its continued existence even if the area is annexed.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, who returned yesterday from a meeting of the National Municipal League in Phoenix, Ariz., and was not present at last week's council meeting, said he wanted more information of the problem before he made any decision.

Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby declared the city should go ahead with an annexation election. He said residents would

Judge Brusatori Comfortable, Resting Today

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori was resting comfortably in good condition in San Rafael General Hospital today after suffering what appeared to be a heart attack.

The 58-year-old jurist staggered from his chambers at 1:35 yesterday afternoon, clutching his head. He was helped to a couch in the chambers of Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., and given emergency treatment until an ambulance arrived.

Brusatori had been alone in his chambers during a recess in the trial of two San Quentin Prison inmates on perversion charges.

His doctor, Rolla B. Hess, today issued a statement that there is no definite evidence as to what sort of attack is involved.

The judge was given oxygen overnight, but it was discontinued this morning.

Transit Strike End Ordered

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A superior court judge today gave eight leaders of a striking mechanics union until Sunday midnight to call off a metropolitan transit strike or face contempt of court proceedings.

The strike began yesterday after attorneys for the Amalgamated Transportation Union held a temporary injunction against the strike was illegal.

E STREET SITE

Some Favor School For New City Hall

This is the last of four stories on San Rafael's city hall problems, and what proposals have been made for dealing with it.)

By JOHN CHAMBERS

San Rafael city employees may be working in classrooms if the city buys the E Street School as a city hall site.

It is one of the three sites being considered by the city council, which is undecided whether to remodel or build a new city hall.

The San Rafael Board of Education has indicated it may sell the school property on E Street between Second and Fourth Streets within a year. Deed to the school is being held by the state while the school district finishes paying off a one-million-dollar loan.

Advantages of the E Street School as a city hall site according to a 1956 report made by John Blayney, then city planner, include his estimation that 25,000 square feet of floor space could be bought for the same cost as 12,000 square feet at Albert Field.

Blayney said the school

Mrs. Fairhurst, Oldest Marinite, Dies At 106

Mrs. Mary Ellen Fairhurst, Marin County's oldest resident, died yesterday in San Rafael at the age of 106.

Born in Dublin, Ireland, on June 24, 1854, six years before the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln as president of the United States, Mrs. Fairhurst had lived in San Rafael for the past six years. She outlived her late husband, Jackson Fairhurst, whom she married in Liverpool, England, in 1890, by 33 years.

The couple emigrated to the United States on the day they were married, settling in Park City, Utah. From there, in 1901, they traveled to Seattle, and in 1912 took up residence in Tacoma. It was there her husband died in 1927. He was a partner in the wholesale drygoods firm of Warren-Soule-Fairhurst Co.

Her sons, A. W. and C. J. Fairhurst, and a grandson, John, are owners of the Fairhurst Lumber Co. in San Rafael. She is also survived by five other grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Death came in a San Rafael rest home, the result of advanced age. Until a short time before her death she enjoyed "excellent" health, according to her son, C. J. An avid reader, she followed the daily newspapers until last Monday.

The Fairhursts' choice of their first American home came as the result of a chance meeting on the ship which brought them from England.

They had sailed for America three hours after their wedding ceremony with no particular destination in mind. During the trip they met a young man who was the head of a group of building would eliminate drainage of foundation problems and that locating a city hall there would help improve the character of the surrounding area.

CITY HALL OF FUTURE?—The E Street School is expected to be put on the market by the San Rafael Elementary School District next year. Its basement already houses three departments of city government, and at one city councilman believes the building could be converted into a city hall. (Independent-Journal photo)

CITY HALL

Councilman David Menary Jr., who favors remodeling the school as a city hall, said it would enable the city to extend Third Street through to Second Street.

"There is plenty of room on the site," Menary said. "We could remodel the building, and provide landscaping and parking."

He said he thought the job could be done for $200,000 if the present city hall and site were sold.

Blayney said the main disadvantage of using the site for a city hall is commercial. There are very few two-acre sites under one ownership near the center of the city, he said. That makes the site desirable for business use which would bring an increased tax revenue.

An unofficial appraisal of the land, made for the school district in 1954, was about $400,000. The building itself would not be adaptable for commercial use, Blayney said.

Blayney said that nearly all residential development in the area of the school is obsolete so the city might combine city hall development with a federally aided urban redevelopment program.

Most councilmen said they think the city hall—regardless of location—could be paid for in cash. They estimated $250,000 for the sale of the old city hall and site. The remainder, which they guessed would be between $200,000 and $300,000, could be paid out of budget money at $100,000 a year, they said.

Blayney, however, recommended either a bond issue (which would require a two-thirds vote of the electorate) or a lease-purchase agreement under which the cty would lease the proposed site property to a private investor who would construct a city hall according to city plans. The city would then lease the building and gain title to it at the end of a lease period.

'Jubilee Jackpot' Cash Prize Given In Mill Valley

Janice Moore of 14 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, was winner of the $250 cash first prize in the "Jubilee Jackpot" drawing held yesterday by the merchants committee of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Moore held her ticket at the Miller Avenue Shopping Center parking lot.

Approximately 200 persons attended the drawing, which took place in the Locust district as well as at the city parking lot near the bus depot. Other winners were given merchandise orders as well as turkeys and hams, chairman Don Chapman said.

Novato Chamber, Council Review Business Law

In a series of early morning meetings, a committee appointed by the city council and a chamber committee have exchanged views on proposed ordinances.

Probable outcome is a flat rate license fee plus $2 for each employee, excluding the first employee.

A meeting at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow in the chamber offices may conclude recommendations from both sides and send the ordinance to the city council for action.

Ross Fire Chief, Wife Wed 25 Years

"We just had a quiet day together," he said today. "We took a drive since it was such a nice day, went out and looked over the county and enjoyed the beautiful scenery."

Asked for the secret of a long, successful marriage, Chief Henrich says, "Well, we were married by State Sen. Burt Bush, and my wife's boss at the time was the Ukiah district attorney, and they both said I'd never be able to get a divorce up there," he smiled. "Now that I'm getting used to it, I guess I'm good for another 25 years."

Henrich was a fireman in Ukiah at the time. In 1942, he became assistant chief of the fire force at Marinship in Sausalito.

He was appointed chief of the Ross department in 1944.

Youth Sets Fire In County Jail

An 18-year-old youth in Marin County Jail ignited a newspaper "to keep warm" about 11 o'clock last night and set off a fire scare.

Sheriff's Deputy Edward Klementovich and Jailer Newall Snyder said they smelled something burning and spotted smoke pouring out of the juvenile cell where six boys were sleeping.

When they entered, Robert Collins, 18, of Hermosa Beach explained he was just trying to keep warm. He is in jail on suspicion of assault, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace.

The other five occupants were all asleep in their bunks, the jailers reported.

Cars On Way To School Collide, Three Injured

Two cars, both en route to school, collided at a Marinwood intersection this morning, sending a 6-year-old girl and two other persons to Marin General Hospital.

The accident happened shortly after 8 a.m. at Miller Creek and Las Gallinas Roads. According to California Highway Patrolman John Courter, drivers of both cars said they did not see the other approaching.

Injured were Mrs. Joyce M. Roncevic, 39, of 463 Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, driver of one of the cars, and her daughter, Michele, 6. Michele suffered contusions of the face and a fractured nose. Extent of her mother's injuries had not been determined. She is employed as a nurse at Marin General Hospital.

Driver of the other car was Daniel Naughton, 18, of 158 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, a student at College of Marin.

He was treated for multiple abrasions and contusions of the face and transferred to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Naughton's car turned completely over and landed on its wheels, according to Officer Courter. The cars were apparently not exceeding the speed limit, the officer said.

Judge Wright set a hearing tomorrow for the school board's motion that he vacate his integration order and let New Orleans schools be separate but equal.

The board, whose offices were the target of a yelling mob that police had to quell with fire hoses yesterday, said it was tired of letting the schools be a "battleground for the fight between state and federal rights."

The board said its action "should in no way be construed . . . as an abdication of our stand for a continuance of our public education system."

The school board has fought strenuously against state laws designed to close down public education rather than integrate it.

"Contrary to the charges of our critics, we contend now, as we have in the past, that we believe in and have fought for segregated schools. However, we do not now believe in and never have stood for sacrificing our system of public education," the board said.

Its motion said the board found itself "entangled in a legal struggle between the legislature of the State of Louisiana on the one hand and the United States judiciary on the other."

It asked that the board be "allowed to operate the schools of this parish on the traditionally segregated basis, pending a final decision . . . concerning the sovereignty of the State of Louisiana as opposed to the sovereignty of the United States of America."

Pacific Tunzi, Marshall, Dies

A resident of Marshall for about 30 years, he lived in a little shack in town by himself. He was a widower and leaves a sister, Poncetta Cesare of Chileno Valley Road near Petaluma.

Tunzi was last seen alive Tuesday morning. When he failed to go to the Marshall post office for his mail, Bruce Laughlin went to Tunzi's home this morning and found him dead in the bathroom, dressed in his bathrobe. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Tunzi may have been dead about two days.

An autopsy was to be performed today at the Parent Funeral Home.

U.S. To Reduce GI Families Overseas, Cut Spending To Curb Flow Of Dollars

Ike's 7-Point Program Expected To Squeeze Back Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will seek to slow the flight of dollars and gold abroad by drastically cutting its foreign spending and reducing the number of servicemen's families overseas.

The seven-point program, announced by President Eisenhower, was expected to cut U.S. spending in foreign countries by slightly more than one billion dollars a year, substantially improving the problem of America's international payments deficit.

In addition to reducing the number of servicemen's dependents abroad from 484,000 to 200,000, the plan bars the purchase of foreign goods by military post exchanges, orders foreign aid administrators to "buy American" and seeks new ways to increase American exports.

Eisenhower announced the program yesterday at a hastily called news conference in Augusta. The U.S. international payments deficit means, in simple terms, that this country is spending more overseas than it is making overseas. This deficit, which has been steadily draining U.S. gold reserves, is likely to exceed three billion dollars this year.

Defense and Treasury Department spokesman doubted that the measures would significantly damage the economies of foreign counties, even those of West Germany and Japan where the impact will be greatest.

Military sources expressed fear that the curb on servicemen's families abroad would hurt morale, although Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates said he did not think the order would harm the spirit of American troops overseas.

"I think our people are accustomed to sacrifice," he said. Military persons traditionally have been separated from their families, he added, and they would accept the presidential order.

Eisenhower said, "Of course, it's a most unhappy occasion." He said servicemen's tours of duty overseas might be shortened to compensate for the absence of their families.

Defense Department officials said the 284,000 reduction in dependents would be accomplished gradually, mostly by stopping the movement of families abroad rather than by bringing back wives and children immediately.

The normal return of families at the end of servicemen's overseas tours eventually would reduce the number of dependents abroad to the 200,000 limit. Eisenhower ordered a 15,000-per-month rate of reduction.

Officials said some dependents would continue to be sent overseas while some might be brought home a month or two earlier than their scheduled rotation.

Troops who still will be permitted to take their wives and children abroad may have to serve longer overseas, officials said. Their duty period may be extended from three years to four years.

On the other hand, unaccompanied men may get shorter hitches, possibly only 13 months instead of the current 18 months.

Servicemen stationed in Hawaii, Alaska, the Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Guam were exempted from the dependents restriction.

Berlin and Okinawa may be exemtped. They are considered special cases because of their importance to the defense of the free world, which would require the highest morale among the troops stationed there, and because of the importance of the dollar to their economies.

Defense Department spokesmen estimated that the dependent restriction would save 300 million to 500 million dollars annually, after a three-year reduction period.

Treasury Department officials estimated that the International Cooperation Administration, the principle agency for distributing foreign aid, would save about 333 million dollars in its part of the president's deficit-cutting program.

Eisenhower said the program was needed to avoid any inflationary spiral or run on the dollar.

The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that the loss of gold and dollars rose during July, August and September to the highest level of the year. It estimated the outflow hit an annual rate of 4.3 billion dollars which is an increase of 2.9 billion over the preceding three months.

Light From Depths

ANGOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—A huge wrought-iron anchor nine feet long, with flukes six feet across, was recovered from 40 feet of water in Lake Erie by three skindivers — one with great imagination.

Asked what he would do with the anchor, believed lost about the time of the War of 1812, Albert Greenwood, 19, replied: "Make a lamp out of it, I guess."

Sir Winston 'Cheeful,' Despite Pain

His wife, Clementine spent hours at his bedside and the word last night was that his indomitable spirit was high.

The bone damage nevertheless was causing him pain and he has been advised to lie as still as possible.

Prof. H. J. Seddon, a specialist on spinal injuries who examined Churchill, said: "There is nothing to worry about.

"Sir Winston may be in bed for a few weeks, or perhaps only a few days. Great care must be taken when people of his age are injured."

JOHN DALY QUITS

Hagerty Won't Talk On Network Position

NEW YORK (AP) — White House press secretary James C. Hagerty has refused to confirm or deny reports he will take over as vice president in charge of the American Broadcasting Company's news and public affairs department.

Officially, ABC would make no comment on reports that Hagerty would take over Daly's position after his duties end with the Eisenhower administration.

At President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., Hagerty said only: "When I have any announcement about my future plans, I'll let you know."

Daly, a top executive with ABC the past seven years, submitted his resignation to be effective in one month. His role as moderator of the Columbia Broadcasting System's "What's My Line?" will not be affected.

Daly said he was quitting ABC because of a "fundamental difference on policy" with ABC president Leonard Goldenson.

ABC said only that Daly's resignation has been accepted and announced the temporary appointment of Thomas Velota, vice president in charge of special affairs for the ABC news and public affairs department.

Daly was said to have opposed the showing by ABC of a "Bugs Bunny" film and "The Rifleman" early on election night while other networks were concentrating on election returns.

Daly's yearly income from all his broadcasting activities has been estimated in industry circles at about $250,000. The same sources indicated his job as ABC vice president earned him around $50,000 annually.

Mr. And Mrs. Ruling

NEW YORK (UPI)—A recent court decision allows tax deduction of expenses for wives who accompany husbands on business trips.

The ruling in the U.S. Fifth Court of Appeals, was based on statements that such trips educated the wife about her mate's business. The new look at his business was said to enlarge her contribution to his success. Time will tell if the ruling's upheld.

Women were first admitted to Democratic primaries in Arkansas in 1918.

Deer Hunting Lures Kennedy In Texas Visit

The president-elect and vice president-elect left Johnson's LBJ Ranch at 6:55 a.m., and drove off in raw, cold weather.

ARRIVED LAST NIGHT

Kennedy arrived at the ranch last night a few hours after the opening of the deer season in Texas.

Johnson was at the wheel as his white limousine drove out the ranch gate and headed east toward one of Johnson's favorite hunting sites.

BRIEF TOUR

Later in the day House Speaker Sam Rayburn planned to travel from his home at Bonham, Tex., to join with Kennedy and Johnson in talks mapping the executive branch switch of power from Republican hands in January.

Still later today, Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, and perhaps other Democrat leaders of the state are expected to be on hand for a round of socializing before Kennedy starts back to Palm Beach.

There was no definite advance word on whether Kennedy and Johnson would hold a news conference or put out a statement on their discussions at the end of the day.

It was the first time Kennedy and Johnson had met since their election victory last week over Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Johnson, casually informal in Western clothes from 10-gallon hat to Texas boots, was waiting alongside the plane when the door swung open. He and his wife, Lady Bird, went aboard and exchanged first greetings with Kennedy there.

Johnson then led his guest to a nearby hangar and introduced him to rancher Simon Burg, representing the nearby village of Stonewall, population 200.

Burg told Kennedy that people of his community were proud and happy about the election outcome.

"We want to wish you a lot of luck and congratulate you on the way you conducted your campaign," Burg said.

Then he presented a 10-gallon hat to the president-elect who held it gingerly—a bit incongruously in his pin-striped business suit — and smilingly but firmly rejected the pleas of photographers that he put it on.

"I'll wear it tomorrow morning," Kennedy promised. "We'll have an unveiling then."

Industrialist Dies At Hunting Lodge

PHELPS, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin industrialist Carl J. Kohler Sr. has been found dead in his secluded hunting lodge on an island in a north woods lake.

Two of his sons, James and Peter, flew to the scene today and told newsmen that their father "apparently died of a heart attack."

Terra Linda Bond Issue Session Set

Size of the bond issue and date of the election will be decided at the meeting at 8 p.m. in the Bernard Hoffman School.

This was the unanimous decision of the five-man board last night. It followed a three-week delay during which the board first decided to write its own bond issue resolution, but later reneged and turned it over to the county counsel.

DEFEAT LAST YEAR

Following the defeat of a $350,000 recreation bond issue by 66 votes in September, 1959, a recreation steering committee of the Terra Linda Community Services District recommended a $220,000 issue as the highest chance of passing.

Directors last night examined preliminary plans for the recreational development of the Del Ganado and Oleander park sites submitted by San Francisco architects Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes (who worked on the last bond issue).

Plans call for major development at Del Ganado rather than at both parks as in the defeated plan, board chairman Walter J. Fairweather said.

RECREATION BUILDING

Included are purchasing and remodeling of a community recreation building at 650 Del Ganado Road and addition of an L-shaped meeting room to the structure, a swimming pool, and playground facilities for elementary and pre-school children.

The recreation steering commitete said a children's playground would add about $24,000 to the bond issue.

Planned for Oleander Park are planting and landscaping.

Fairweather said he would meet with the architects in San Francisco today to discuss the cost of the project.

Terra Linda Unit Asks For Bomb Shelter Fund

The application was made to William W Ward, head of the California Disaster Office in Walnut Creek.

"We feel that Terra Linda is qualified to participate in the bomb shelter program of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization," Johnson declared. He was appointed coordinator by the services district board on Sept. 21.

With a population of 7,000, Terra Linda doesn't have an adequate concrete or brick building to serve as shelter in an emergency, Johnson said. In addition there is only one exit road to Highwaly 101 and it would probably become impassable, the coordinator added.

Johnson said he had no idea of the size or cost of a bomb shelter for Terra Linda, but thought it could be located on one of the park sites.

In other action last night, the services district directors authorized Fire Commissioner Richard Flaherty to buy 2,000 telephone stickers containing the fire department's number and distribute them to residents. He was given $30 to do it.

HAPPY NOTE

'Other Man' In Belvedere Divorce Case Now Gone

The "other man" in the lives of Belvedere attorney Carl Edwin Hoppe and his estranged wife, Marjorie, has left California, leaving the Hoppe household in a much improved state.

With this happy note, Hoppe today stipulated that his wife could continue to live in their home at 101 Belvedere Avenue with custody of their two children, pending arguments in the main divorce proceedings.

"It appears Mrs. Hoppe has regained her emotional stability . . . and has conducted herself in an unusually exemplary manner," Hoppe's attorney, Richard V. Bettini, reported to Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Bettini said he understands that the "other man" Norwegian inventor Gunnar Frenger, 54, has left the state.

Mrs. Hoppe, 41, filed for divorce on Nov. 1, charging cruelty. Hoppe, 42, charged that house guest Frenger had stolen his wife's affections in about two weeks time.

Now, with Frenger gone, Hoppe said he has no objection to Mrs. Hoppe's living at the home and having custody of the children.

Jerome Duffy, Mrs. Hoppe's attorney, declared he would accept that stipulation on condition that Hoppe stays away from the main house and does not harrass or argue with his wife.

Hoppe said he was willing to keep his law books in the beach house so he would not have to bother her when he comes in for papers and books.

Under this truce arrangement, the rest of the divorce proceedings are continuing in Marin Superior Court. Mrs. Hoppe is asking for $1,145 per month support for herself and her children.

She testified that house payments and taxes alone come to about $350 per month.

Only Talk

He had been told that a male voice was heard in the housewife's home at night. As the census taker was about to leave the housewife's home, a masculine voice boomed from the kitchen. "Breakfast is ready, honey." "My parakeet," explained the woman.

Two Airmen Hurt As Car Strikes Auto

Two airmen were hurt by driving into a disabled car parked beside Highway 101 in the Terra Linda area at 1 a.m. today.

A/2c Laurence A. Church, 19, of Covina, who is with the 78th Civil Engineers at Hamilton Air Force Base, later told the California Highway Patrol that he had been driving north at 60 to 65 miles an hour, slowed to 50 or 55 for a construction zone, and braked too late when he saw a car ahead. The stationary car was parked on the road shoulder, officers said.

Church and his companion, John V. Dial, 17, also of the 78th Civil Engineers, were taken to San Rafael General Hospital and later transferred to the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Dial had a cut over his right eye and Church had a cut right middle finger, complained of chest pain, and bled from the mouth. Both men were released after treatment, hospital attendants said.

The driver of the stationary car was Ronnie Dale Wright, 17, of 592 Woodbine Drive, San Rafael. He told the patrol he had engine ignition trouble and parked on the shoulder, fixing his emergency brake and with tail lights on.

Patrolmen Charles Heart and Richard De Marco recommended an engineering survey by the state Department of Highways with a view to posting lower speeds while construction was under way in the Terra Linda area, suggesting 45 miles an hour.

Strawberry Asks More Information For Bond Issue

Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District last night decided that much more information is needed before another bond issue is planned to raise money for recreational activities.

Mrs. James W. Gowen, secretary, said that the trustees also felt a bond issue might not be needed.

Strawberry resident James Allroggen said response to a letter to other citizens asking for community volunteer help on recreational facilities has been very encouraging.

The board, Mrs. Gowen said, feels that the five-acre area must first be graded and it will look into seeing how this can be done and at what cost.

Chicago Matrons' Killings Confessed

OTTAWA, Ill. (UPI)—A muscular former bus boy with a record of sex offenses today confessed he beat to death three Chicago matrons in a lonely, snow-covered canyon in nearby Starved Rock State Park last March.

The state's attorney's office said Chester Otto Weger, 23, a former bus boy at the park, calmly admitted the triple killings after several hours of questioning.

Authorities said he showed "no remorse and a complete lack of emotion" as he told them how he killed Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47; Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, all wives of Chicago business and civic leaders.

La Salle County State's Attorney Harland Warren said he would take Weger to the park for a re-enactment of the crime. A special session of the grand jury was called for this afternoon to consider indictments.

Weger, a short but muscular blond-haired father of two, was charged early today with 11 crimes, including the three killings in Starved Rock.

Assistant State's Attorney Peter Feracutti said Weger was also charged before Justice Goetch with raping a 17-year-old girl, robbery, assault with a deadly weapon and other crimes.

In his oral confession to Feracutti, Weger said he met the three women while out on an afternoon break from his bus boy job in the park lodge.

Weger told authorities the three women were just emerging from the canyon when he accosted them. He said he told the women he intended to rob them and a struggle began.

Weger, who described the killings as a "robbery that got out of hand," said he dragged two of the women to a tree and tied them to it. He said when Mrs. Murphy continued to fight back, he hit her with a tree branch and then beat the other two women.

The cord that he used to bind them was one of the factors that helped tie Weger to the crime. It was the same type used in the kitchen at the Starved Rock State Park Lodge, where Weger worked. He quit his job a few days after the killings.

He told police Mrs. Murphy regained consciousness for a time and he struck her again. He then carried the three women into a canyon cave about 200 yards away. He said he took them into the cave because he heard a plane overhead and wanted to get them out of sight.

He laid the bodies in a neat row, he said, and then searched their purses for money. He neglected to take the jewelry and rings they were wearing, however.

COP Gets $1,900 For Marine Study

A $1,900 grant has been awarded to College of the Pacific for basic research on marine bottom communities and sediments of Tomales Bay.

The grant was made by the National Science Foundation and research will be conducted by David H. Mertes, zoology instructor at the college and a research associate at the college's Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach.

Selected Stockton College and Pacific students will form a research team to study the seasonal cycle of reproductive and alimentary activities of worms and other animal life found in the bay.

Warning Signals Cited In Gas Tax Slowdown

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston warned today of a possible slowdown in the multi-million-dollar flow of state gasoline taxes which have built California's road system.

He cited two warning signals: the trend toward smaller cars which use less gas and the laboratory experiments that could make gasoline engines obsolete.

"The omens are there and those of us in state and local government in California cannot ignore them," Cranston said in a talk prepared for the annual meeting of the County Supervisors Assn.

"Fuel taxes have been the principal financial support of California's highways, streets and roads since 1923, and any factors that might diminish governmental income from these sources are certain to cause some headaches in the centers of state and local government."

While gas taxes will produce a half-billion dollars in the current fiscal year and more than a three-quarter billion by 1970, he said, it may only be because of an added number of cars on the highway.

"Whether the greater volume of vehicles will be enough to offset the anticipated pre-vehicle decline in fuel consumption is something on which we can only speculate at present," Cranston added.

National estimates, he said, note that if the trend to smaller cars continues, fuel tax revenues nationwide will fall 548 million dollars short of estimates by 1964.

Seizure Claims Clark Gable; 'Hollywood King' 30 Years

COMBINED AP & UPI

HOLLYWOOD—Clark Gable, the "king" of Hollywood, died of a heart attack late last night in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital as his wife rushed to his side. He was 59.

His wife, Kay, expecting their first child early next year, was alerted in her room across the hall next to Gable's where she was sleeping when the fatal seizure came.

She dashed to his side, but he did not speak, and minutes later he was officially pronounced dead despite attempts to revive him.

Only minutes earlier he had been sitting up in bed, cleanly shaven, and chatting with a nurse. He had dinner last night with his wife in his room.

Mrs. Gable, who also suffers from a heart ailment, had been staying in the hospital to be close with her husband since he suffered his first attack and was taken there Nov. 6.

Mrs. Gable cried loudly with grief after his death about 11 p.m.

"He suffered no pain," said hospital administrator B. J. Caldwell. "He died instantly."

The strapping he-man with the big grin and big ears was one of the greatest movie idols the world has ever known from the time he became a star in the early 1930s.

Gable's fatal attack came after he had appeared to be on the road to recovery.

Born in Cadiz, Ohio, on Feb. 1, 1901, Gable's film career included an Academy Award-winning performance in "It Happened One Night" in 1934 and tremendous success in such other movies as "Gone With the Wind" and "Mutiny On the Bounty."

He was married five times. His matrimonial record, like his many mediocre movies, was seldom criticized because of his friendly, honest and clean manner.

The world mourned with him in 1942 when his third wife, Carole Lombard, plunged to her death in a plane crash on her return to Hollywood from a war bond rally.

Gable was known as a loner. Despite brash movie roles, the actor was a bashful man, and nervous in crowds.

His favorite pastimes were hunting and fishing.

On the screen, he made women swoon in the days before anyone ever heard of bobby-soxers. He said he had received 5,000 marriage proposals by mail.

"They almost always enclose a picture," he said. "And let me tell you, the toughest job a man ever had is saying 'No'—politely—to 5,000 women."

In a career of 90 pictures, Gable portrayed a man's man, adored by women. Tall, broad-shouldered, husky, he was trade-marked by jug ears—initially they almost blocked his career—and a crackling, staccato voice with a recognizable note of authority.

His phenomenal appeal to both sexes was as versatile as it was durable.

He was a frontiersman in "Call of the Wild," a sailor in Mutiny on the Bounty," a gambler in "San Francisco," a gangster in "Manhattan Melodrama," a daredevil in "Test Pilot," an oil man in "Boom Town."

When time came to cast one of the most male of American fictional heroes—Rhett Butler in "Gone With the Wind"—no one but Gable was seriously considered. It was the greatest money-making film of all time.

His favorite role was that of a newspaperman with Claudette Colbert in "It Happened One Night." The romantic comedy, made when he was on loan to Columbia Pictures, swept the Academy Awards, one Oscar going to Gable. It got him out of a career rut of playing mostly heavies.

Gable was the son of a farmer-oil field worker, and worked in an Akron rubber factory when he was in his teens.

At 19, he joined a touring theatrical troupe at $10 a week and later, in the Northwest, lumberjacked and sold neckties in a department store. Stage roles and movie parts came next.

Early in World War II Gable, then 41, enlisted in the Army and became a $66-a-month corporal in the Army Air Forces officer's candidate school at Miami Beach. Later he was commissioned a second lieutenant and won his wings as a gunner.

He formed a photographic unit, went to England, was made a captain and won the Air Medal for "exceptionally meritorious achievement" in five combat bomber missions. The citation mentioned his "courage, coolness and skill."

The first of Gable's five wives was Josephine Dillon, a dramatic coach 17 years his senior. The second was Maria Langham, a Houston socialite also older than he; the third, Carole Lombard; the fourth, Lady Sylvia Ashley, once the wife of Douglas Fairbanks Sr.

In 1955, he married Kay Williams Spreckels, a then 37-year-old divorcee who had been married three time previously and had two children by sugar heir Spreckels. His wife is his only survivor.

HAD MAGIC QUALITY

Film Personalities Were Devoted To Him

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "The king is dead . . ."

That was the feeling in movie-town today with the passing of jug-eared Clark Gable, the most virile he-man who ever brawled and loved his way across the silver screen.

Gable stood alone and apart from a community populated with inflated egos. No matter the factions, petty feuds and gossip that swirled around "King Clark, he was much-beloved by those who knew him. He had no enemies.

His last co-star, Marilyn Monroe, typified Hollywood's regard for the man early this month when she completed work with him.

"Clark, I found out, is a real king. It was an honor working with him," she said on the final day of shooting "The Misfits."

This feeling for the big guy penetrated throughout the industry. Grips, cameramen, electricians and all the others who help make movies were devoted to him.

To everyone who approached him, Clark flashed his warm grin. He gave you the feeling that at that particular moment you were the most important person he knew.

And it was sincere.

Gable exuded masculinity. In his presence women became more feminine and men experienced a rare camaraderie. It was a magical quality about which he seemed entirely unaware.

While other stars complained about lighting, unflattering camera angles and battled with directors, Gable held his peace.

He believed an actor should take direction and leave the script and technical supervision in the hands of the professionals.

If he found fault with costars and fellow workers he kept his thoughts to himself.

"This is a business, like any other," he once said. "I'm an actor, not a genius. I do what they tell me and it works out pretty well."

Gable cherished his private life and was devoted to his fifth wife, the former Kay Spreckels, and her two children.

He had no illusions about his age and decided last year to leave romantic young lovers to the likes of Rock Hudson. "My days of playing dashing young heroes is over," he said recently.

"I don't think the public likes older guys wooing leading ladies half their age. I don't like it myself. The actresses I started out with 30 years ago have long since quit playing glamour girls. Now it's time I acted my age—59 years old."

Clark first was called "king" during his marriage to Carole Lombard, when they were Hollywood's reigning couple.

The "king" soubriquet referred to his unequaled magnetism at the boxoffice. But with the years the nickname "king"—which amused him—was applied to Gable the actor, the gentleman, the warm human being.

The king is dead of a heart attack, and today Hollywood discovered there is no one to take his place. And the belief is that no one ever will.

OUT WITH FRILLS

Public Education Overhaul Asked

SANTE FE, N.M. (AP)—A drastic overhaul of public education, designed to raise the quality and eliminate the frills, was proposed today by a group of education experts.

ANNUAL MEETING

The proposals were made during the annual meeting of the Council of Chief State School Officers, an association of state commissioners and superintendents of schools.

Highlights of the prepared statements:

G. Bailey Price, executive secretary of the Conference Board of the Mathematical Sciences, told of a Yale experiment in which intuitive geometry is introduced in the fourth grade, vectors in the eleventh grade, and matrix algebra and probability and statistical inference in the twelfth grade.

START ALGEBRA

"Many schools now start algebra in the eighth grade instead of the ninth," he said. "Previously much time has been lost in the seventh and eighth grades in review and on too much drill on trivial social application of arithmetic."

Floyd Rinker of the College Entrance Examination Boards' Commission on English said the problem in his field is to bridge the gap between what is taught in high school and what is required in college.

Robert E. Henze of the American Chemical Society told of two experimental programs being taught to a small number of high school students. In one there is emphasis on "atomic and molecular structures of substances and the nature of chemical bonding between atoms."

George E. Smith of the Indiana State Department of Public Instruction called for a 10-year course in modern foreign languages, starting with all third grade pupils. Those who show aptitude and ability would continue the language through the twelfth grade.

Roy E. Simpson, superintendent of public instruction for California, reported on a survey of the social sciences program in that state. He said the committee agreed that non-academic subjects attached to the social studies, such as driver education and instruction in the ill effects of alcohol and narcotics, be removed.

Some school officials believe driver education should be part of the civics course, because it teaches respect for the law.

Simpson also said it was agreed that the eight academic disciplines which should make up the social studies program are geography, history, political science, economics, anthropology, psychology, sociology and philosophy.

Stabbing Still Mystery At Quentin

An investigation by the San Quentin Prison disciplinary board yesterday failed to uncover the reason behind a stabbing which sent Duane R. Hall, Marin County murderer, to the prison hospital in serious condition.

Hall was sentenced to a life term in 1953 for the murder of a Salinas man, whose body, punctured by screwdriver thrusts, was found on a slope of Mount Tamalpais. Hall was stabbed in the prison library yesterday morning by Stephen M. Eksala, a 20-year-old Contra Costa County robber, who used a table knife, stolen from the mess hall and honed into a razor sharpness, in the attack.

Hall was badly injured in the assault, but was expected to live. He has been working in the library for six and one-half years. Eksala was assigned to the library only last week. He arrived at the prison in May after a year in the reception center at Vacaville.

Eksala was given 29 days in isolation by the board and his case was turned over to the Marin County district attorney.

Curiosity Saves $$

Two men in one car got curious, however, and stopped to pick up the envelope. Inside was $300. They turned it over to police. The money was returned to Donald Cozzolino, a service station operator, who had placed the envelope on the roof of his car, forgot it and drove to the bank.

Auto Repairman Reports Theft Of Truck, Tools

Joseph Faustine, San Rafael auto repairman, worked in his shop for almost two hours yesterday before he discovered his truck and $4,000 worth of parts and tools were missing.

"I went outside to get something from the truck—and the whole thing was gone," Faustine said.

Faustine said the truck must have been missing when he arrived at the shop at 423 Francisco Boulevard about 8:30 a.m., but he didn't notice it until 10 a.m.

The 1953 truck contained $3,000 worth of tools and parts valued at $1,000 according to Faustine. It was insured, he added.

War Threat Hangs Over Caribbean

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The threat of war hung over the Caribbean today, with President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes and other Guatemalan leaders calling for retribution if alleged Cuban interference in the Central American republic's internal affairs continued.

Ydigoras' government accused the Fidel Castro regime of "aiding and abetting" the latest abortive revolt in Guatemala, and threatened to bring charges against Cuba in the Organization of American States.

Nicaragus, which also has been the victim of a revolt that was put down this week, also accused Cuba of aiding the rebels. Guatemalan Foreign Minister Jesus Unda Murillo said that both Nicaragua and Guatemala would bring charges and prove to the OAS that Cuba had been instrumental in their respective revolts.

Costa Rica, which routed rebel guerilla troops who said they were en route to help in in the revolt against Nicaragua, was calm, still mourning the death of civil guard commander Col. Jose Monge, who was killed fighting the revolutionaries.

Ydigoras was backed up by Manuel Orellana, whose anti-Communist party is a major force in the Guatemalan congress. Orellana said he and his supporters would call for a declaration of war if the government could prove Cuba had a hand in the revolt.

Guatemalan leaders from Ydigoras down warned that Cuban aid allegedly given to the rebels could touch off a war between the two nations.

The warning sent Cuban government officials into hurried conference in Havana, without Castro, who was reported by his office to be "out of town." He was reported in touch with the situation by telephone.

Castro was having his own troubles.

Two-thirds of the members of his hand-picked supreme court were in hiding, trying to avoid the necessity of branding two fellow justices as "traitors."

Only 10 of the court's 30 members had signed a government-sponsored "declaration" denouncing Chief Justice Emilio Menendez and Associate Justice Jose Morell Romero who sought asylum in Latin American embassies Tuesday.

The other 20 were unavailable and had not signed. There was no indication that any of them would seek to leave the country, however.

Mobutu Parades Might

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu marshaled 5,000 of his troops for a march through Leopoldville today in a demonstration of his power over the Congo.

Officially the parade was in observance of Congolese dead of the two world wars but its size was aimed at showing the United Nations command, with which he has been feuding, that he still is in control.

A communique issued by the army strongman yesterday said the observance also would commemorate the installation of his ruling body of commissioners just two months ago.

RESULT OF LAWS

Jobless Insurance Cost Will Increase

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Unemployment insurance taxes are going to cost California businessmen more money in the next two years.

The Employment Department yesterday issued a memorandum outlining how two state measures and one federal law will affect employers' ledgers.

The legislature last year raised the unemployment insurance tax rate from a maximum of 2.7 per cent to a maximum of 3 per cent of taxable wages. The employer pays taxes on only $3,600 of the wages paid each employee.

The same legislature added a two-tenths of 1 per cent tax to take care of unemployment benefits during hard times.

Then Congress raised the employer contribution to the federal unemployment fund to four-tenths of 1 per cent. This begins in 1962.

Under the new state laws, the government figures employers' contributions on a scale ranging from a low of three-tenths per cent to the high of 3. per cent.

How much a businessman pays depends on the amount he has contributed to the state fund and the amount California has had to pay to his former workers.

One reason why employers will have to pay higher taxes is unemployment, particularly in the aircraft and construction industries. This cut down the money in the unemployment fund.

The additional tax to take care of hard times is for those who have exhausted regular unemployment payments.

Plane Halts Run As Birds Enter Engine

BOSTON (UPI)—An Eastern Air Lines DC-8, with 108 persons aboard, was forced to halt its takeoff run at Logan Airport today when birds were sucked into one of the engines.

Last Oct. 4 an Eastern Air Lines Electra crashed on takeoff at the same airport, killing 62 of 72 persons aboard. Some investigators have blamed birds for that disaster.

The airliner involved in today's incident was bound for Philadelphia and Miami, Fla. The craft was brought back to the terminal where mechanics cleaned out the dead birds. No damage to the airliner was evident. However, it was held at the airport for further inspection and the passengers were transferred to other flights.

Nixon Wins In Hawaii, But Recount Scheduled

HONOLULU (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon was yesterday officially declared the winner of Hawaii's first presidential election by a scant 141 votes.

Both parties have agreed to a recount, however, which could change the tally in either direction.

Democrats pointed out that two complete audits have turned up discrepancies in all but 22 of the state's 240 precincts. They were hopeful a third more complete count might bring a switch to Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The first audit changed apparent victory by Kennedy to a Nixon triumph by 96 votes. The second audit added 45 more votes to Nixon's margin. Present figures give Nixon 92,505 votes to 92,364 for Kennedy.

A famous Civil War commander of the Army of the Potomac, Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside, popularized the whiskers known as "sideburns"—properly called "burnsides."

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey's chief of state, Gen. Cemal Gursel, last night appointed 14 former members of Turkey's ruling military junta to embassy posts abroad. Gursel dismissed the 14 from the junta last week after accusing them of seeking to set up a military dictatorship.

Tax Relief Vowed

ALBANY, N.Y., (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller yesterday promised New York state's 6.5 million taxpayers a 10 per cent rebate on income taxes withheld on present earnings.

The Republican governor ran into immediate opposition from his own party's majority leader in the state senate and from state Democratic leaders. They objected not so much to tax relief for the taxpayers, but to the manner in which Rockefeller proposed to institute it.

Visa Renewal Denied

BERKELEY (UPI)—A 26-year-old Scot, only a semester away from obtaining his Ph.D. degree in physics, must leave the country by the end of the month mainly because he participated in demonstrations against the House Un-American Activities Committee.

John Robert Johnston of St. Andrews, a teaching associate in biophysics at the University of California at Berkeley, said yesterday the immigration service has refused to renew his visa.

Johnson said he had been picketing the committee outside San Francisco City Hall last May 13 at the time of the riot inside at which 64 persons were arrested. He was not arrested.

Korea Mob Quelled

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean national police today fired warning shots and tear gas to disperse 1,000 Yonsei University demonstrators demanding the release of 56 students arrested after a riotous attack on the homes of two American officials of the university.

The flareup against the American university officials climaxed a two-month dispute over the dismissal of three professors by the school board for alleged neglect of duties and other reasons.

Big Cable Ship

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world's largest underwater-cable laying ship will be built for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. by 1962, it was announced today.

The ship, which will be capable of carrying 1,800 miles of deep-sea cable, is expected to be used in proposed telephone cable-laying operations in the Pacific, Atlantic and Caribbean.

Earliest Surgery?

BERLIN (AP)—Human skulls, believed to be about 3,700 years old and showing signs of surgery, have been found near Magdeburg in East Germany. The newspaper, Thueringian Landeszeitun, said examination of the skulls showed their owners lived for several years after their operations.

Red China Has Subs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With more than 20 modern submarines transferred from the Soviet Union, Communist China now has the third largest undersea fighting force in the world, says the commander of U.S. anti-sub forces in the Pacific.

"And China is starting to build its own submarines," said Vice Adm. John S. Thach to a news conference. He is here to address the Naval Reserve Assn. convention.

Cells In Capsule

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Human cells, along with bacteria and plant spores, were aboard the capsule blasted into space Monday by Discoverer XVII.

The cells, grown from a culture taken from a human arm, were sent aloft in an attempt to learn what effects man may suffer when he ventures into the bands of radiation which surround the earth in space, an Air Force spokesman announced yesterday.

TO CONSULT BROWN ACT

Larkspur Council Delays Action On Dinner Meetings

Larkspur city councilmen last night postponed a decision on holding dinner meetings until they get an opinion on whether such sessions would be legal under the Brown Act.

Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug suggested this type of meeting to give councilmen and department heads an opportunity to "get better acquainted." He invited the press to attend.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper asked if he could get City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner's opinion on the Brown Act in regard to a dinner meeting.

Sausalito has been holding such meetings, Mayor Storhaug said, and "the Independent-Journal has not said anything about it." (The Sausalito City Council meets for dinner before each regular meeting at the city hall; the dinner meetings are open to the press.)

"I'm not worried about the Independent-Journal," Piper replied. "All they can do is make a lot of noise."

Added Piper: "Personally I am no supporter of the Brown Act. It has hurt government more than it has helped it."

The Brown Act is a law governing meetings of public commissions, boards, councils and other agencies. It requires all meetings to be "open and public," and permits private sessions only to consider hiring and firing and to hear charges against employees.

Piper said that councilmen, for their own protection, ought to check with the attorney.

Councilman Lesly A. Daveler said he could not reconcile himself to the fact that what might be discussed at the dinner meeting would not be discussed in public. He felt there should be "full discussion" of matters, and the "only way to keep from being bored" was to hold such a discussion once. "I'm not in favor of the proposal," he said.

Mayor Storhaug said he didn't think at the dinner meetings that things would be discussed that were to come up at a meeting afterwards. But he added, "it wouldn't bother me if it were discussed twice."

Councilman Daniel Allen said that in certain cases he has differed with the Independent-Journal on its "diligence" in supporting the Brown Act. "It has complicated council's lives . . . but it is the law," he said.

Allen said it would be very valuable for councilmen to talk with department heads, "but I hesitate to start this thing. We have an approach by a local paper which seems to be overdiligent and hampers government. So I hesitate to start this."

Later Allen declared he objected "to the Independent-Journal sitting up there as God."

Councilman James T. Lienkaemper said the council has to view a meeting of this sort as a "work session . . . merely an effort to accomplish a certain amount of discussion necessary to get into the background of subjects which are complex. It's hard to get all the details in the heat of a busy meeting."

The mayor commented that he thought the Brown Act was good. "I don't see anything that violates it in a dinner meeting," he said.

Larkspur Given Plan To 'Stimulate Public'

Larkspur City Councilman James T. Lienkaemper last night offered his fellow council members a list of proposals intended to "stimulate greater public participation in Larkspur city government and thereby to improve council-community understanding."

Lienkaemper said the proposals were submitted to serve as a basis of discussion, with the idea that some policies might be developed in these areas.

He offered suggestions under three main headings: Improvement of communication, enhancing of the effectiveness of council meetings through public participation, and relation of council to commissions.

Highlights of Lienkaemper's proposals:

Establishment of a "complaint log" so that citizen complaints will be known to the council. He noted that regular administrative procedure could deal with most of the problems, but stressed that the council should be informed—perhaps through tabulation of the nature and extent of complaints.

Preparation of an advance agenda in newsworthy form and submitting it to the Independent-Journal and other news media enough in advance so that people would know in time to plan to attend if any items interest them. (Only the press was present for last night's session.)

Sending postcard notices to a certain portion of registered voters each month, in rotation, inviting them to attend the council meeting.

Calling on specially qualified citizens and/or outside experts to help in presentations.

Allotting time at meetings for group discussions and/or study of specific municipal topics.

Council should provide adequate direction to commissions by indicating problems it especially wants studied.

Special temporary citizens committees should be established to carry out specific studies.

Six Injured In Fighting Vehicle Fire

Three Sausalito and Marin City firemen and three citizen volunteers were injured yesterday while fighting fire in a semi-trailer truck which plunged off Waldo Grade near Rodeo Avenue.

Driver Joe Villareal Arrida told the highway patrol the brakes gave away. Arrida leaped from the truck, which plunged 150 feet downhill. He was unhurt.

Sausalito fireman Ralph K. Pedersen said the 150-gallon gasoline tank on the truck ruptured and the truck "went up in a wall of flame." The truck was a complete loss as was the cargo of 300 wall furnaces, all boxed in cardboard.

Firemen worked four hours extinguishing the fire in truck and cargo. In working through the cut aluminum, Pedersen, and Marin City fire warden Frank Machado were cut on the hands, as were three volunteers. Warden Robert Starcher required five stitches to close a wound in his right hand.

With no water at the scene, tank trucks from the Sausalito, Marin City and Marin County Fire Department ran relays to take water to the fire, working under Sausalito Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry and Capt. Frank Machado of Marin City.

Pedersen said Juanita Musson was "our guardian angel" since she, as in other fires, took the men coffee and refreshments.

Christmas Mail Reminder Given

It costs four cents to mail a Christmas card to Canada or Mexico, whether or not you seal the envelope.

Warren H. Williams, San Rafael postmaster, today noted that with the start of every Christmas mailing season, many cards are addressed to Canada and Mexico bearing only three cents postage.

Although the first class mail rate to the two countries is the same as within the United States—four cents per ounce—the rate for unsealed printed matter is four cents for the first two ounces, instead of three cents as for domestic mail, he reminded.

If no return address appears on an envelope bearing three cents postage which is dispatched to Mexico or Canada, the addressee will have to pay postage due, Williams said. If there is a return address on the envelope, it will be returned for additional postage.

Marin Dairyman Cited For Farming Service

ALFRED J. BIANCHI
Service record honored

Alfred J. Bianchi, Point Reyes Station dairyman, last night was honored with an award for distinguished service to agriculture by the California Farm Bureau Federation at its annual convention banquet in Oakland.

Bianchi, chairman of the Farm Bureau's statewide dairy department, is the seventh California farmer to be so honored.

Bianchi has been a member of Farm Bureau since 1922, which was also the year he started farming. In 1925 he became chairman of Point Reyes Farm Bureau Center, where he is still a member. Bianchi was county president for 14 years, and has been a member of the county Farm Bureau's board of directors since 1925. He is known throughout his area for his intensive work in membership drives.

Bianchi served as Farm Bureau alternate state delegate from Marin County for many years, and from 1950 to 1958 was state delegate. After serving as chairman of Farm Bureau's Region 8 dairy activities, he became vice chairman and later chairman of the federation's statewide dairy department. He has held the latter position during 1958, '59 and '60, and early this year was re-elected to the chairmanship for another 12 months.

This year Bianchi has also been a member of the dairy committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Bianchi has been a member of the San Francisco Milk Producers Control Board since its inception some 25 years ago, serving as chairman of the board for the past five years; is president of the Sonoma-Marin Dairymen's Assn., past president and member of the board of the Consolidated Milk Producers Assn., and was secretary of the American Dairy Assn. for three years.

The award winner has been a member of the Marin County Agricultural Stabilization Committee for six years and now serves as chairman. He has been a director of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair since 1937.

In still other activities, Bianchi is vice president of the Valley Livestock Marketing Assn., and a member of the California Beef Council. He has been a director of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael for 18 years.

20 YEARS BEHIND

Report Claims California Lagging In Airport Needs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California is 20 years and 224 million dollars behind in its airport needs, says the State Aeronautics Commission.

The big need is for facilities to serve business and industry in smaller cities, the commission said in a report yesterday.

It said about 1,200 publicly owned, but non-airline, airports are needed, but that only 250 are available.

In past years, federal aid of a maximum 5.6 million dollars yearly has been made available to help build California facilities. But most of it went to large, international-type airports—which the commission said are not needed.

Most of the requests for federal aid, it said, have come from smaller cities and counties, but it doubted whether federal aid would be available in the future.

Pointing up the need for non-airline terminals, the commission noted that California has 13,500 business and private aircraft, while in the United States there are but 2,000 airline aircraft.

Open House Slated

An open house for Marin County social workers will be held in offices of the newly established Marin Counseling Service, 749 B Street, San Rafael, between 8 and 10 p.m. next Tuesday.

Bufano Statue May Be Moved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Is the 12-ton statue of St. Francis which Benny Bufano carved out of 32 tons of black Swedish marble about to lose its home?

Since 1955 the 16-foot-high statue of the patron saint of San Francisco has stood smiling from the steps of St. Francis of Assisi Church in North Beach.

Now the word is that Rev. John J. Curtin, worried about cracks in the stone steps of the church, wants the statue removed to a park. Father Curtin is reluctant to comment.

But Monsignor Leo T. Maher, archdiocesan chancellor, confirmed that Father Curtin has received permission to remove the statue.

After Bufano made it, the statue was in a Paris warehouse for 28 years. In 1955, the late Annunciata Sanguinetti of the St. Francis parish paid the storage bill and had it brought to the United States.

When the first Zionist settlers arrived in Israel, the land was virtually treeless. Since 1948, more than 53 million trees have been planted and Arbor Day, dedicated to reforestation, is a national holiday.

U.S. Lifts Trade Bar On Poland

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today ended U. S. tariff discrimination against Poland in a move obviously intended to drive a wedge between Polish Communists and the Soviets.

He directed that the "most-favored-nation" clause of the Trade Agreements Act of 1951 be re-applied to Poland starting Dec. 12 after an eight-year lapse.

This means that tariffs on Polish imports covered by trade agreements will be at least as favorable as the duties on imports from other nations.

"The termination of the 1952 suspension of such treatment represents a further advance in the development of economic relations between the United States and Poland," the White House said in announcing the action.

The tariff reductions would not affect Polish canned ham, which accounted for 21.9 million dollars worth of Poland's total exports to this country in 1959, valued at 31.7 million dollars.

Lower duties would apply to Christmas tree ornaments, wire, nails, casein, poppyseed and calves hides, the White House said.

Eisenhower's order will make Poland the only Red satellite country to benefit from the most-favored-nation treatment.

The United States canceled this arrangement with Poland on Jan. 5, 1952, but started selling surplus food for Polish currency in 1957 under public law 480.

Since then, agreements totaling 365.3 million dollars have been made with Poland under this law.

Today's action would involve reduction of tariffs on about 5.5 million dolls worth of goods of a 1959 total of 31.7 million, the White House said.

Issue Of Sino-Soviet Differences Tied To China Wanting Formosa

By JAMES D. WHITE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It is now possible to reach a tentative conclusion about the real nature of the much talked of split between Peiping and Moscow over the question of peaceful co-existence.

In a word, co-existence is not the central issue. The real argument—never admitted—seems to be over Red China's determination to take Formosa.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been proclaiming that the great imperialist war with the West predicted by Lenin is not inevitable. The Communist world is now strong enough to deter Western imperialists from waging such a war, and has more to gain through peaceful co-existence —permitting economic and political penetration — than it would through a nuclear war where it too would be left in ruins, the Soviet boss argued.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of Red China has replied that Lenin was right and that anyone who says differently is guilty of being soft on Western imperialism. Behind Mao's obvious defiance of Moscow lay a whole series of statements by Red Chinese leaders to this general effect:

With 650 million people Red China is best suited of all the powers to survive a global nuclear holocaust.

But neither Moscow nor Peiping acknowledges that these deeply antagonistic attitudes amount to a disagreement.

Since 1957, when the first signs of a split appeared, the world has wondered what it really meant.

The answer seems to be that co-existence certainly is involved, but that the big, underlying issue is Formosa.

Peiping claims Formosa as a province of China and Moscow fully supports this claim.

But the tipoff comes from Felix Greene, a British businessman who lives in Palo Alto, and who recently returned from 4½ months in Red China.

The Englishman, a journalist as well as a businessman, said this was a part of a much more hardboiled attitude in Peiping than he had found on his first visit three years ago.

He told a radio panel that the Chinese Reds will insist upon settling the Formosa question on their terms before even considering taking the Chinese seat in the United Nations. They are aware that a U.N. trusteeship for Formosa has been discussed, and they want no part of it.

Green asserts the Red Chinese won't talk on anything else with the United States until American forces withdraw from Formosa—leaving it open to conquest.

Here is where co-existence enters the picture. Moscow is obligated by the Sino-Soviet Treaty of 1950 to come to Red China's aid in the event of "hostilities from the direction of Japan." The United States is committed to the defense of Formosa.

Scouts Name Area Leader

The Miwok serves the San Rafael-Novato area.

Sias, an official of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., is a former Eagle Scout and has served as district vice chairman for the last two years. He takes over for Dr. E. Mark Hinton, headmaster of San Rafael Military Academy.

Elected as district vice chairman was Sam Young of Novato, a retired Air Force officer who served as district vice chairman while stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base several years ago.

They will be installed at the district's appreciation dinner Dec. 14 at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Burdell Students May Go To Lincoln Next Year

Trustees of the Burdell and Lincoln School districts will meet Nov. 29 to negotiate the possibility of Burdell students attending the Lincoln School next year.

The Burdell School was burned down by youthful arsonists in November, 1958. Since then, pupils have been taught at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato.

The five pupils up to sixth grade expected in the Burdell district during the next school year would attend the Lincoln School, off the Petaluma-Point Reyes Road. The Burdell School was near Stafford Lake.

There now are 12 students in the one-room Lincoln School taught by Mrs. R. W. Sigman.

The meeting Nov. 29 will be the second among trustees to discuss the school change. Trustees say there will be no merger, but the Burdell District will pay a contract fee for sending its youngsters to Lincoln.

The meeting will be in the home of Burdell district clerk James Grossi, and attended by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Well-Intentioned

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Advice can come from unexpected sources. Bill Judkins returned home from a convention, parked his car and went indoors to kiss his wife.

Then he went back out for his luggage. As he was about to re-enter the house, he heard an urgent "Ps-s-s-t!" A stranger delivering handbills said, "Hey, buddy. Better wipe that lipstick off your cheek before you go in."

College Board To Meet On Pay

SAN JOSE SCHOOL — Grading will begin soon for this unusual-appearing new school in the San Jose District in Novato, designed by Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics of San Francisco. When the first phase of construction is completed—the center unit and units on either side—the school will house about 400 students in seventh and eighth grades.

Twin Cities Recreation Commission Said In 'Dire' Condition For Money

The Larkspur - Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission is in "dire condition," and may not have enough money to complete its program for the 1960-61 year, Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug told the Larkspur City Council last night.

Storhaug, a member of the commission, said the Larkspur School District has not committed any money to the recreation commission, and probably will not. It was expected to give $1,750, he said.

The cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera are giving $4,250 each to the commission's program. The summer program cost $2,671. The commission now has $2,000 on hand and has about $2,700 coming from Larkspur, the mayor said.

Councilman Daniel Allen said the school district has a sort of moral obligation to give the money. Storhaug said the district was going to do what it could and might give double the amount in July. He said the school district was "charging everything it conceivably can" into the community service tax budget and "they don't have anything left." The mayor said it was "conceivable" that the recreation commission could get by until next June.

The council discussed the work of the committee studying the interim zoning ordinance. Councilmen agreed that fees for variances, use permits and rezoning should be set by resolution, rather than in the ordinance.

Councilman Lesly Daveler noted that the present interim zoning ordinance establishes certain flat fees which may not be realistic. The fees are $15 for a variance and $50 for a use permit or rezoning.

Councilman James T. Linekaemper said the committee would try to make a complete report to the council Jan. 4.

The council also:

1. Accepted the resignation of John Barry from the Larkspur Recreation Commission, and decided to leave it to the commission to recommend a replacement. Barry said that because of his activities with the California State Agents Assn. it was impossible for him to devote the necessary time.

2. Decided to call for bids for the Doherty Drive extension sometime after the Dec. 7 meeting, since approval of the state is expected next week.

3. Heard city manager Ronald E. Piper report he has told the Northwestern Pacific Railroad he would like to discuss purchase of its abandoned right of way from Doherty Drive to the old Baltimore Station site.

4. Asked about the possibility of having a Larkspur post office address for a section of Greenbrae which is in Larkspur but has a San Rafael post office address. Piper said the post office told him it could be considered only if the rest of Greenbrae became part of Larkspur.

5. Referred to the recreation commission a suggestion by Lienkaemper to consider beautifying a small parcel of city property at the pumping station at Midway and Diane Lane. The spot is an "eyesore," Lienkaemper said.

6. Heard a motion from councilman Daveler for adjournment to next Wednesday (Thanksgiving eve), heard a long list of items that Daveler wants discussed, then by a 5-to-0 vote—including Daveler—turned down the idea.

Sausalito Board Meets On Hiring

Savings Company Plans Open House

Free gifts and refreshments will be offered visitors to open house celebrations at the Homestead Savings and Loan Co. offices at 675 Bridgeway, Sausalito, today and tomorrow from 7 to 9 p.m.

The firm was formerly known as Sausalito Savings and Loan Co.

Welcoming the guests will be Board President Lawrence Weissberg, and other directors.

San Jose School Site Grading To Start Soon

Grading of the site for a new San Jose School District intermediate school will begin in about a week.

Low bidder on the project yesterday was Piombo Brothers of San Rafael, who will clear the 17½ acres at San Jose Boulevard and Sunset Parkway for $35,536.

Bids on construction of the $800,000 first section of the school are awaiting approval of plans by the state, Supt. Phillip Schneider reported.

The school, when completed in fall of 1961, will house about 400 youngsters in seventh and eighth grades. Eventually, when all wings of the unit are completed, about 900 students will attend classes.

The first section to be built will consist of 12 classrooms, administration rooms and library. Future sections will add 14 classrooms, a multi-purpose room, showers and locker rooms.

Architect Hired For Firehouse

The architect is Bruce Moody of the firm of Walker and Moody, who resides in Tiburon.

The first remodeling stage is to provide sleeping facilities for the all night firemen is expected to cost approximately $1,500, commission secretary Kelly J. Wheeler said.

Couple Fetes Half Century Of Marriage

The Elders, who settled in San Rafael in 1937, were married in Dayton, Wash., when both were 20. Shortly after their marriage, they moved to Santa Rosa, where he became employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. as a technician.

Retiring from the telephone company in July of 1956, Elder now devotes his time to gardening at his home at 210 Marin Street. Mrs. Elder is a active bridge player, belonging to several clubs in the county. They spend their summers at a summer home in Mineral, near Mount Lassen.

Saturday night a reception was held for them at the home of their son, Leiton Elder, of 56 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael. More than 40 friends and relatives from throughout the state attended. The younger Elder has been an engineer at Hamilton Air Force Base for 20 years.

Elder is a member of the telephone company Pioneers Club and a Mason. Mrs. Elder, in addition to bridge clubs, is a member of the Eastern Star

Septic Tank Approval Called Key In Planning

Official approval of individual septic tanks is a key point in plans for development of the San Geronimo Valley, according to information put before the valley's master plan committee at the Woodacre Improvement Club last night.

Marin County Planning Director Mary Summers showed two maps, one giving a general idea of what might be done with unincorporated undeveloped acreage largely belonging to the Lagunitas Development Co.

The other map was highly detailed with layout of lots, streets, a golf course on the floor of the valley, a shopping center, some multiple dwellings at the valley edge close to hills, and individual homes on lots no smaller than a quarter-acre and most at least a half-acre or larger.

Though all represented luxurious living, it was stressed that this planning was based on ultimate Public Health Department approval of individual septic tanks unusual in a development of this scope.

Detailed geological and soil tests have shown feasibility of the tanks, it was said, while development of a sewage system would not only entail enormous grading but entail a problem of ultimate disposal. Preliminary official indications have been favorable, Mrs. Summers said, but no formal approval has been given as yet.

LONDON (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor's doctors said she had recovered enough from her painful virus ailment to leave the hospital sometime today.

Miss Taylor was taken to the London clinic by ambulance Sunday when she complained of head pains. Her illness was diagnosed as meningism, a virus infection.

Priest Leanrs

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Catholic priest took the mechanics service school course offered by a local manufacturer of outboard motors.

The Rev. Thomas J. O'Leary, a Redemptorist priest, explained he was on his way back to South America where he uses an outboard motorboat as a missionary along the Amazon River.

The largest block of commercial forest land under one management is the 81,314,000 acres in national forests. Of this, some 15 million acres are in national parks or game refuges where no logging or hunting is permitted.

Presenting the 1961
LINCOLN CONTINENTAL
So brilliantly engineered,
so carefully built it is dealer-warranted
for two full years or 24,000 miles,
whichever occurs first*

"Classic beauty in a smart new size." Here is the first fine car that is truly luxurious to drive in today's traffic. Thoughtful engineering has created a superb six-passenger automobile that is 14 inches shorter—yet as heavy or heavier than other American luxury cars, to provide the solid ride you expect. It also has devised center-opening doors that make entrance far more convenient, contour-zoned seats that are cushioned with nearly three times the usual amount of foam rubber, vacuum-locked doors that bolt shut at a flick of the driver's finger, silent, hydraulic windshield wipers with 50 per cent more power, a quality program that puts every car through a 12-mile road test and brings high precision standards of construction to America's largest V-8 engine. A glance reveals the character of this tremendously advanced car, the enduring beauty of true classic design, the excitement of America's only four-door convertible. But it is only at the wheel that you begin to understand the real significance of the new Lincoln Continental, the brilliant blend of sensible size and total luxury. Why not make that discovery yourself, this week? Lincoln-Mercury Division, Ford Motor Company.

*The terms of the extended warranty provide that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers, of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of such maintenance items as filters, spark plugs, ignition points and wiper blades.

TENSION ON THE SIDELINES

Tension filled the air above Redwood High Schools bench last week when the Giants had seen their 19-0 lead melted away to a mere 19-12 margin in final minutes of game against Drake. Players above and Coach Bob Troppmann (below) showed great concern, for in the balance of this game was the Marin County Athletic League championship. For pictorial outcome of the contest, turn to page 16. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

Otto Graham To Announce All-Marin Team Tomorrow

Marin County Athletic League's 1960 football season will come to a dramatic close tomorrow with announcement of the All-League squad and presentation of certificates by former All-Professional quarterback Otto Graham.

Ceremonies will take place at College of Marin's Olney Hall, starting at 4 o'clock, where Graham will appear on behalf of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, of which he is national chairman. Graham, head coach of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, also will answer questions about entrance requirements and football prospects at the Academy.

The former Cleveland Browns' hero will congratulate the All-Marin League stars and pose with them for pictures besides making a speech.

Cal Riemcke, sponsor of the Marin Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, has invited all athletes to the ceremonies—especially the prep football players. Announcement of the All-League team is being withheld until 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The Marin All-League squad has been selected by the coaching staffs at all six schools—headed by Bob Troppmann of Redwood High, Marlin Olsen of Novato, Jim Hanretty of Tamalpais, Dick Read of San Rafael and Harry Moore of Marin Catholic. That, incidentally, is the order in which their teams finished in final standings.

Meanwhile, the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM announced selection of Redwood end John Whitney as final "Prep of the Week" for the season—the third Giant so honored.

In spite of thick mud and a slippery pigskin, Whitney caught a 44-yard touchdown pass last Friday and played an all-around outstanding game to help the Giants in their 19-12 victory over Drake — clinching the league championship.

Other Redwood "Preps of the Week" were tackle Mike Hoffman and halfback Mike Alessio. The I-J and KTIM during the season similarly honored halfback Steve Blair and quarterback Sam Johnson of Drake, end Lu Haas and tackle John Cook of Novato, quarterback Jack Soveregin and tackle Chris Yaeger of San Rafael, fullback Jerry Crowe of Marin Catholic and end Tom Yarborough of Tam.

Pirates' Groat Selected MVP By Landslide

BOSTON (AP) — Dick Groat, captain and shortstop of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, today was selected the National League's most valuable player for 1960, ending the two-year domination of Chicago's Ernie Banks.

Groat, who led the Pirates to their first pennant in 33 years, won in a landslide.

He was named first on 16 of the 22 ballots cast by a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, was listed on every ballot and picked up 276 points in the voting, far ahead of teammate Don Hoak, who was second with 162.

"It's a wonderful thrill, of course," the Pirates' field leader said from his home in Pittsburgh, then quickly gave credit to the team.

"I honestly feel it wouldn't have been possible without the fabulous year enjoyed by the Pirates. Just to play on the club was great, just great. It was a wonderful team effort and I was just a part of it."

He was the first Pirate named to the coveted award since the writers took over the selection in 1931. And his teammates drew all the other first place votes, Hoak getting five and strong-armed outfielder Roberto Clemente one. Clemente finished eighth in the voting.

MAYS THIRD

San Francisco's Willie Mays was named on 21 ballots and was third with 115 points. Banks, Chicago's hard-hitting shortstop who won the last two years, was fourth with 100 points.

Groat, the National League batting champion with a .325 average, came to the Pirates straight from the Duke University campus in 1952.

The 30-year-old native of Swissvale, Pa., included only two home runs in his 186 hits last season, but was generally credited with being the spark-plug of Pittsburgh's drive to the pennant.

He suffered a broken bone in his wrist when struck by a Lew Burdette pitch Sept. 6, and didn't rejoin the team until the final week of the season.

Miracle Horse, Bum Hook Up For Fabulous Daily Double

ALBANY (AP) — Five daily double bettors hooked up a "miracle" horse with a "bum" and came off with payoffs of $8,711.40 each for their $2 bet at Golden Gate Fields.

The same racing reporter happened to ask jockey Roy Yaka what he thought of his mount, Covinan, a starter in the second race.

"I have come to the conclusion that this horse is a bum," Yaka replied.

FOUR COLLECT

Four of the five lucky long-shot players dutifully turned in their names and addresses to the cashier to comply with new federal income tax regulations requiring such information from $2 daily double winners of more than $600. The fifth happy soul did not appear. None was identified.

The $8,711.40 was the third largest in daily double history.

The record U.S. payoff is $10,772.40 collected at Washington Park, Chicago, on Aug. 14, 1939.

Had a horse named Wide Ration won the second race yesterday every daily double mark in the book would have been wiped out. There was one person who had a $2 ticket on Oriolo and Wide Ration, so the payoff would have been the entire daily double pool after the track and the state's share had been deducted.

That little piece of paper would have been worth $43,-55720.

But Wide Ration finished dead last.

Bears Rated Slight Edge In The Big Game Saturday

Ron Fernandes, who hasn't seen action in three weeks because of an ankle injury, is expected to start at a guard position.

California, with assurance that quarterback Randy Gold will play Saturday, worked an hour and 45 minutes and stressed defense.

Gold, who had been ailing with the flu, returned to practice. Coach Marv Levy said his sophomore signal caller would be in good condition.

History Repeats Itself As Giants Drop Posedel, Just Like Leo Did

CONNOLLY

Chickens, they say, come home to roost. And after checking through my old time sports file, I'm convinced.

I've just read a little item about Leo Durocher, the former Brooklyn manager, who did such a snazzy job.

But Leo, back in 1939, got no plums for allowing pitcher Bill Posedel to slip away from him to the Boston Braves.

The Braves, so my story goes, got the best of the trade that sent Posedel to Boston. Seems Durocher and Posedel had an argument on pitching tactics.

Posedel, using his own methods, couldn't see eye to eye with Durocher and hence the trade.

And now, almost 21 years later, we find the Giants replacing Posedel as a pitching coach because he wasn't born and raised in the Giants' school of baseball.

ONE OF the real tragedies of sport is Freddie Steele, former middleweight champion of the world.

In the height of his fighting prime, Steele lost his manager Dave Miller, who died suddenly and unexpectedly. They were close friends, the closest. The death of Miller took all the heart out of Steele and he quit a long time before his time for retirement.

I know Freddie Steele better than most reporters. He was my "seeing-eye dog" the night Joe Louis knocked out Jimmy Braddock for the heavyweight championship of the world.

I dunno where Freddie is today, but wherever he is I know he still carries the torch for a grand guy and his manager—Dave Miller.

THERE IS a very definite obligation on the part of a baseball manager. And it has been entirely overlooked. I refer to the fact that managers of ball clubs seldom ever live in the city where they manage.

Oscar Vitt, former manager of the Hollywood Stars never lived in Los Angeles. He resided in Oakland and still does.

Alvin Dark, new manager of the S.F. Giants, lives in Lake Charles, Louisiana, and he doesn't intend to move to S.F.

I think inasmuch as Civil Service regulations call for city employees living in the town where they make their living, should also apply to baseball managers.

But who am I to get such an idea across?

SOME OF these days I'm going to corral Eddie Muller, my favorite fight writer, and really give him a roasting.

I have in mind the Robert Edgren Boxing Trophy that has yet to arrive.

Bob Edgren belonged in sports. He died at the age of 65 and was a member of the first U.S. Olympic Games team.

He brought his athletic prowess into the sports writing game, distinguishing his interviews with famous fighters by actually donning the gloves and entering the ring with them.

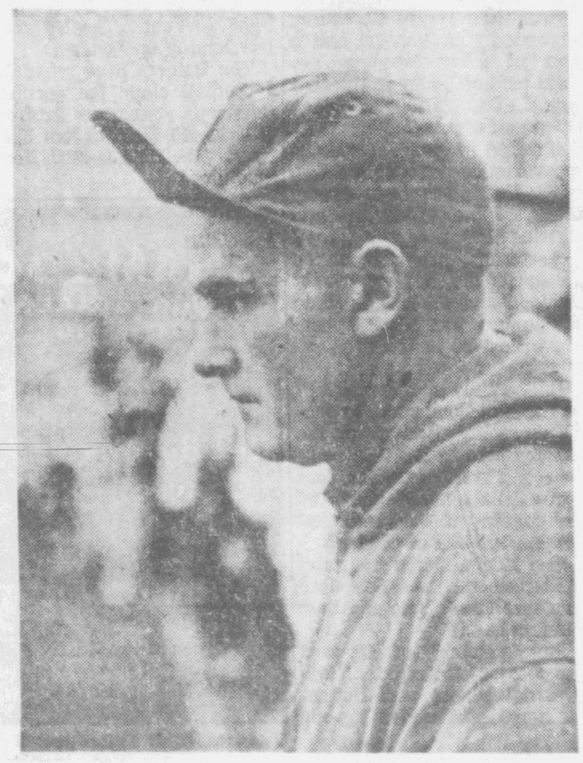
I think Eddie Muller should create some sort of a remembrance to him, if only a Golden Glove Tournament in his memory.



Honolulu Okayed For PCL Club If Sacramento Folds

SPOKANE, Wash. —Sacramento has about a week or 10 days to decide whether to bow out of Pacific Coast League baseball in favor of Honolulu, PCL President Dewey Soriano said last night.

Soriano spoke after league director, meting here, unanimously approved Honolulu as the replacement for Sacramento if the California capital is unable to continue in the league.

"The fans of Sacramento must be considered first," he added. "The club is now $60,-000 in debt and that would have to be paid. But if the fans can get up the money to pay off and operate, then the franchise will stay right there."

Soriano indicated he doubts Sacramento can make it.

FREE RIDE TO A HAPPY ENDING

Jubilant Redwood High players carry their relieved and smiling coach Bob Troppmann off the muddy field on their shoulders after holding on for a 19-12 victory over Drake. Last week's game, final one on the Marin League schedule, gave Giants their second straight championship. Tomorrow the All-League team will be announced at College of Marin. Story on page 15.

Let's Face It: 49ers Lack Long-Gainer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Latest NFL statistics sadly proved again today that lack of the long-gainer is costing the San Francisco 49ers heavily.

Among the loop's top 18 quarterbacks, the 49ers' tandem of John Brodie and Y. A. Tittle both have a high percentage of completions, but are at the bottom in average yards gained per pass.

Tittle has hit on 64 of 115 tosses for a 5.73 per pass average. Brodie has completed 50 for 96 at 4.92 a completion. Only 10 completions by the two tossers have gone for 20 yards or more.

GOOD ENDS, BUT . . .

Ends like Clyde Conner, R. C. Owens and Monty Stickles have the good moves and hands to complete the short ones, but lack the speed to go out and get the long ones.

The 49ers are trying to make a flanker out of sprint king Ray Norton, but he is reported having trouble hanging on to passes in practice. But Norton is expected to see action Sunday against Dallas anyway.

Coach Red Hickey has said he will use Norton "Only when the situation demands." With the 49ers 3-4 on the year, the situation could become demanding any day now.

QUEEN SANDY OVERWHELMED

S.R. Bowling Star Fires 749 Series

Don Bickford, young manager of Diablo Bowling Supplies and the highest bowler in Marin County, ripped off a sensational season-record three-game series of 749 pins Tuesday night in the classic league at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Bickford finished off his series with a breathtaking 279 game cheered by a large gallery. Working on nine straight strikes, his 10th try left the 10 pin standing—wobbling, but still upright to ruin his bid for a 300. He struck on the last ball. Bickford's first two games were 225 and 249 with seven straight strikes in the latter game.

In his last three series of competition Bickford, who packs a 208 average, has scored 710, 660 and 749.

Last week he won the Northern California Match Game Championship and qualified for the National All-Star Tournament in San Bernardino in January. A victory there would send him to world competition back east.

Bickford's 749 Tuesday night rubbed some of the polish off another sparkling series of 712 by Zeno Gelatti Jr. as the Country Club Classic enjoyed its highest scoring night of the season. Gelatti put together games of 216, 268 and 228.

ON THE WOMEN'S front Jean Molino, secretary of the Marin Women's Bowling Assn., turned in a nifty 514 three-gamer, featuring a 205 solo in the Coffee Cuppers League at Greenbrae Lanes.

GEORGE DOBBS, manager of the restaurant and cocktail lounge at Country Club Bowl, has retired because of ill health and his friends are wishing him a speedy recovery.

Warriors Handed 3d Straight Loss

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Warriors, who couldn't lose early in the season, now can't win.

The Eastern Division leaders in the National Basketball Assn. suffered their third straight setback as they lost 119-118 last night to the red-hot Detroit Pistons. It was the Pistons' fourth straight victory.

In other games last night the Syracuse Nations smothered the Cincinnati Royals 124-87 and the Boston Celtics outpointed St. Louis 124-106.

The Warriors won their first nine games.

Big Game History Thrilling; Another Whopper Expected

Yes, sir! Despite the rumors going around, the annual "Big Game" between California and Stanford will be played this year—as usual.

But never in the history of football will teams with such miserable records compete before such a big crowd as this traditional battle attracts.

California goes into the fray with a 1-7-1 record; Stanford is 0-9. Between them they have won just one game in 18 outings!

But the attendance for the battle will be 76,780—capacity for Cal's Memorial Stadium.

"It's the phenomena of the ages," says Chuck Taylor, one-time Stanford coach and now assistant athletic director. "To think that these teams will play to a sell-out. Especially when the game is being televised regionally and locally."

NO OVER-CONFIDENCE

"There's one thing about this game," says Coach Marv Levy of California, "you can bet that neither team will have overconfidence."

This is the 63rd "Big Game," which started before the turn of the century (in 1892)—when a young fella named Herbert Hoover was managing the Stanford team.

During all those years, California has won 27, Stanford has won 25 and 10 have been ties.

A one-point edge is a fine margin in this Ivy-clad encounter—which sells out annally, no matter where the teams are in the seasonal standings.

SPREAD GROWS

In recent years, the spread is getting a bit wider. For the last four big games, the total point spread is 8—or two per tilt.

There used to be a day when the team with the best record was installed as a heavy favorite—to win by maybe six to 20 points. But no more. The odds-makers took a look at the statistics and found out that one point was a big margin in this torrid encounter.

On the surface, this year's game doesn't have much to offer. But that doesn't hold. In fact, the two top passers in the Big Five will be in competition against each other for the first time.

It'll be Dick Norman, sometimes called the greatest collegiate passer in the country, for Stanford. He has thrown the ball 180 times, completed 84 for 924 yards. His percentage of completions is .467—and would have been greater with good ends.

CAL'S GOLD

For California it's Randy Gold, a sophomore. He has tossed 116 times, completed 64 for 692 yards. He has a .551 completion average.

Additionally Stanford has Skip Face, the northern California "Back of the Year."

After these fellows, "names" are hard to find. But you can bet your bottom dollar that every man on both teams will play his best game of the season.

Edelweiss ski resort, on Highway 50 will open the 1960-61 skiing season this weekend, managing owners Ken and Bunny Cotton announced yesterday.

However, there will be only limited accommodations available, with the cafeteria open only for lunch. Until Dec. 16, Edelweiss will be open on weekends only for limited skiing.

The early snow that has fallen marks one of the earliest openings in the history of the ski resort. The resort did not open until late December last year.

Venturi Defends Almaden Title Starting Today

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Defending champion Ken Venturi and a host of other big-name pro stars teed off today in the first round of the $7,500 Almaden Open golf tourney.

Yesterday, pro Bob Duden an damateurs Val Beatriz of Oakland and Carl McLaughlin of San Jose won best-ball honors with a 60 in the pro-amateur tuneup for the event.

Duden fired an individual 67 on the Almaden course to pace his threesome. Duden won the tourney here in 1958.

Second at 63 were San Jose professional Bob Wagner and Mel Figeira of San Jose and Warren Mitchell of Oakland.

Professional Jerry Loustalot of Sacramento and San Jose amateurs Frank Valo and Bart Fanning had 64.

Great Steelhead Sport On Menu From Now Through Next February

STEVENS

It is time, I think, to talk about the greatest piscatorial pastime prevailing from now until the 28th day of February, 1961. I refer to the catching of tide-run winter steelhead.

As a general rule the steelhead trout enter the coastal streams immediately following the runs of silver salmon. Probably the month of December can be called the actual time when the steelhead start running in the "loop" streams, despite the fact that the season officially opens on Nov. 1. In the northern streams steelhead frequently appear earlier. In the streams south of the Bay cities, the season doesn't open until Dec. 1, and fishing is permitted only on opening and closing days, Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Most of the loop streams depend upon a good rain to open a channel to the ocean through the bars that build up at the mouth. When the bar is opened the steelhead leave the ocean and come into the fresh water on their annual spawning runs. Here they remain in the deep holes and lagoons fairly near the mouth of the river to become used to the increased oxygen in the fresh or brackish water. They may haunt these "resting" spots for days and even weeks before starting upstream to the spawning grounds.

THE BEST period for successful fishing is usually from two to three days after the rains have come and the color of the water is neither too clear or too muddy, but assumes a "milky" appearance. As the level of the water lowers and all color disappears, it becomes increasingly hard to get a rise from such fish that are still around. Whereas the roe-berry is the killer when the water is milky, it fails when the water is crystal clear (the exception is when a light rain roughens the surface and hides rod, line and angler).

THE NEXT storm generally sends most of the "resters" upstream; new ones come in and take their place and cycles are repeated.

After spawning and before returning to the ocean the fish again haunt the resting hole until they gain back their tolerance of the decreased oxygen, hence it is toward the end of the season, from the middle of February to the 28th that a number of spawned fish are hooked. Bear in mind, however, a spent steelhead caught in tide water will often put up as game a fight as one fresh in from the ocean.

IT IS AN unfortunate fact that quite a few misinformed steelhead fishermen treat a spent fish with contempt despite the gameness he has shown. As a matter of fact, I have yet to meet a man or woman who can tell the difference between a fresh-run fish and a downstreamer when it is served at the dinner table. Many people confuse a spawned steelhead with a spawned salmon. Believe me, there is no comparison. Those same misinformed hombres never consider whether a brook trout or a rainbow has laid her eggs. Yet they should know a steelhead is a trout—actually it is a sea-going rainbow trout. One of the most tragic sights I ever saw was the bank of the Navarro littered with dozens of discarded steelhead, a few of which had spawned so recently that a residue of the roe was still present. That was many years ago and seldom does it happen today, thank goodness.

I will have more — much more — to pass along on the how, when and where to try for steelhead in future columns, but space grows short, so I will close on the subject with a warning.

THE SUCCESS or failure of a steelhead fishing trip is predicated on the conditions of weather and water. The wise guy will check on both before shoving off for any given stream. Take a check, not a chance. It may be raining hard in Marin County and the Bay Area region while the sun is shining to the north along the coast, or vice versa. Light showers (after the first two or three hard rains) may make for ideal conditions. A hard rain back in the hills will kill all chances. The tributary streams carry silt from woods and fields into the main streams. When contemplating a trip check with the weather bureau or the airports as to amount and location of rain. Spend a dime or two and contact someone on the scene to learn if the stream is barbound (when the mouth of any stream closes, fishing is a waste of time) or if the color is conducive to fishing. And that's that.

U.S. Grand Prix Scheduled Sunday

RIVERSIDE (AP)—A score of world-famous drivers began to assemble today for the Grand Prix of the United States. The auto race will be at the Riverside Raceway Sunday.

The local course measures 3.275 miles, and the race over the twisting strip will consist of 75 laps.

Cruisers To Be Headed By McCarthy

Newton B. McCarthy of Mill Valley will be installed Dec. 10 as commodore of the Sausalito Cruising Club for 1961, replacing John Gudelj of San Francisco.

McCarthy, who lives at 95 Cornelia, moves up from vice commodore and that post will be held by Harry Kramer of Mill Valley. McCarthy is state director of the U.S. Treasury's savings bond program with offices in San Francisco.

Once with the Dollar Steamship Line during which time he sailed around the world 11 times, McCarthy now owns what he calls the "smallest brigantine in the world." The craft is 17 feet long, has two masts and carries seven sails.

Richmond outfielder Don Lock hit 35 homers for Binghamton, N.Y., last season. His total set an Eastern League record.

USC Official Fears Sports Saturation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the University of Southern California says he fears for the future of collegiate athletics in Los Angeles because of the saturation of the area by professional teams.

Dr. Norman Topping pointed out that New York once had an abundance of sports attractions "and all they did was kill off each other."

"Los Angeles is going the way of New York," said the educator yesterday. "We should take a page from history and learn.

"I am going to appeal to the Coliseum Commission to extend us a reduction in rental rates, starting next year."

The Trojans and UCLA pay 10 per cent for use of the Coliseum, the same as the pro teams—the Chargers, Rams, Dodgers and the proposed new American League team.

Topping says he is opposed to establishment of an American League team in Los Angeles and that he is making his feelings known on this through Lou Carroll, attorney for the National League.

Bernie Everson, who made fame as Native Dancer's exercise boy, now is devoted to It's a Great Day. He sleeps in the adjoining stall.

LYTTON SQUARE RESTROOMS VOTED

Mill Valley To Hire Policeman For Park School Street Crossing

After pleas from worried mothers and fathers of Park School children, the Mill Valley City Council last night authorized hiring a special policeman to direct traffic in front of the school at 360 East Blithedale Avenue.

The policeman is to be on duty during hours to be worked out by City Manager A. E. Almcrants with the police.

Robert H. Andresen, president of the Mill Valley School District Board, told the council last night, after a scheduled report on the crossing by a traffic expert failed to appear: "The study stage is passed. We should be in the action stage."

William Everts boomed out: "This situation has been going on since 1958. I've watched the kids come burning up that road. I suggest there be a cop there until the problem is solved."

Applause rang out from the audience.

The council also yielded to requests that toilets be restored in the Greyhound Bus Depot on Lytton Square and asked that bids on cost of restoration be submitted to see if the city can afford the facilities.

Many people spoke in favor of the reopening of the toilets, led by secretary-manager Granville L. Beedle of the chamber of commerce, who spoke for the merchants.

Fred Berick, owner of the Old Mill Tavern which is across the intersection from the depot, said "I have been handling the toilet business in Mill Valley for a long time . . . I'm not going to do it any more." He threatened to put up a sign telling people to go to the city hall.

"I'll help you with the sign," Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said, "to be sure my name is spelled right." The audience laughed.

Councilman George Blackwell said the toilets must be tiled, must be put in first class condition and must be closed at night. He said, if the city has to spend between $5,000 and $6,000 on the two toilets, it might mean a five-cent tax increase.

Councilman Michael Wornum said, "in a city of 10,000 people, we should be able to keep open one set of restrooms in the center of town." The audience applauded.

He later suggested they be pay toilets.

Greyhound Bus Lines, by letter, said it would not pay any money to help with restrooms unless it added the cost to the passenger's tickets.

In another action concerning Greyhound, the council voted 4-1, Wornum dissenting, to deny the application of Greyhound to lease land near Project 17 to store its buses.

Also at last night's meeting:

1. The council turned down 3-2 a request for reconsideration of its Nov. 2 denial of a variance to Dorothy Kell to permit her to construct a residence on a substandard lot at 647 Throckmorton Avenue. Voting "no" were Mayor Huber and Councilman Wornum.

2. An ordinance annexing Cascade Reservoir to the city was adopted.

3. Given first reading was an ordinance creating the office of finance officer; it also authorizes City Auditor Warren G. Lefort to work with the fiscal department in streamlining the accounting system, at a fee not to exceed $2,400.

4. Hearing on an amendment of the zoning ordinance to create a commercial-recreation district and change the minimum acreage from five acres to two acres was postponed to Dec. 7.

5. The bid from Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. of $1,734 for a new police car, with trade-in of an old car, was accepted. It was the only bid.

6. The chamber of commerce was granted $250 to help pay for Christmas decorations for the city.

7. Low bidder Huettig and Schromm of Palo Alto received a contract at $3,751 for planting on Miller Avenue center strip between Tamalpais High School and Evergreen Avenue.

8. Councilmen agreed to deannex a small parcel of property on East Blithedale Avenue between Ashford Avenue and Tower Drive. The property is a ditch, often water filled.

9. City Manager Almcrants reported the planning commission favors use of "Plan B" in developing Corte Madera Ridge property and wishes to use the plan as basis for a public hearing Dec. 13. "Plan B" would employ some cluster type development, houses built close together, as well as some conventional type of single family residential development.

SIREN SIAMESE BLAMED FOR TOMCAT'S ZEAL

ALAMEDA (UPI) — A hearing will be held next Wednesday in an attempt to decide whether Herman the tomcat or a group of blue-blooded female Siamese felines next door was the aggressor in their stormy relationship.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Cook have sued Herman's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowler, for $3,500 in damages. They claim Herman attacked Mrs. Cook in his zeal to befriend her cats.

The Cooks are also seeking to have surgery performed on the yellow and white striped Herman as a guarantee the blood line of the expensive Siamese will not be disrupted.

But Mr. and Mrs. Bowler have now countersued, charging that Herman had been approached "in a connubial manner" by the Siamese.

Attorneys said "They (the Siamese cats) have lured, cajoled and through every known Siamese cat blandishment have caused Herman to throw caution to the winds."

The countercharge said Herman is only a "red-blooded American tomcat . . . led astray by the plaintiff's females, being the more deadly of the species . . ."

The Bowlers are asking $1,500 damages to soothe Herman's hurts.

Architect Ruled Out For Recreation Area

There will be no city architect hired by Mill Valley to work out plans for buildings in Project 17, the city's 17-acre recreational area.

The Mill Valley City Council defeated two moves last night to hire one.

Councilman Michael Wornum moved that Mill Valley architect Eugene Crawford be hired. The proposal was defeated 3-2, Mayor Robert D. Huber and Councilmen George Blackwell and George D. Monardo voting "no."

A second motion by Monardo to appoint city engineers Stanley M. Bala and Jesper C. Strandgaard as architects was also defeated, with Mayor Huber, Councilmen Blackwell and Joseph E. Sheeks voting "no."

City Manager A. E. Almcrants was then instructed to send a letter to the Mill Valley Optimist Club to advise it may submit a new plan for a locker room and toilet facilities for Project 17. A previous plan was turned down by the planning commission and council.

When Mount Holyoke College for women opened in 1837, its Book of Duties said: "The young ladies are to be required to walk one mile per day until the snow renders it desirable to specify time instead of distance." The time was set at three-quarters of an hour.

California Leads U.S. In Special Districts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — California probably has more special districts than any other state, and the number keeps growing, reports Controller Alan Cranston.

At the end of the 1958-59 fiscal year, most recent available statistics, Cranston said there were 3,038 of them, carrying on 66 different special activities, ranging from fire protection to street lighting.

Marin County with 74 special districts has the 13th highest number in the 58 counties. This is two more than in the year earlier. It does not include multi-county ditsricts, like the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, the rapid transit district and the smog district.

Marin's districts received $5,579,000 during the year, but only $1,066,000 of it was tax revenue. The major portion of it was in fees paid primarily to the county's two biggest districts, Marin General Hospital District and Marin Municipal Water District.

The districts' revenue, however, did not equal its expenditures, Cranston said. The districts spent $6,567,000. Presumably the extra million dollars came from bonds which had been sold earlier.

The revenue for the fiscal year was $300,000 higher than it had been the year before. But expenditures for the previous year was nearly a million and a half dollars less.

Cranston made the accounting in a special report showing that more than 1,000 districts have been added to the list in the last year, and reporting their monetary transactions for the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The districts took in more than 287.5 million dollars and spent about 264.2 million. Income was up 61.8 million dollars over the previous fiscal year, expenditures up 54.5 million.

B'nai B'rith Women Presenting Dolls For Democracy At Shows

"So you see, children, America is just like a great big jigsaw puzzle. You've all worked jigsaw puzzles and you know it takes pieces of all shapes, sizes and colors to make the complete picture. And it takes people of all races, religions and nationalities to make this great nation of ours. And that's why we are all proud to be Americans, aren't we?"

The group of wide-eyed girls now file slowly past the table on which are arranged replicas of Abraham Lincoln, Jackie Robinson, Emma Lazarus and Father Flanagan. The Doll Lady has just completed a presentation of short stories of these famous Americans, pointing out that athough they are different, they are alike in one important way:: They were and are great Americans, setting good examples for all of us to follow.

This presentation is sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) of B'nai B'rith and performed by Marin Chapter B'nai B'rith Women.

Mrs. Philip Landa of Navato, chairman of the Dolls for Democracy program, is arranging for such shows before Girl Scout, Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scout groups of the area. Working with her as Doll Ladies are Mesdames Richard Osterman, Richard Wagner, Morris Bode, Joseph Land, M. J. Greenberg, Morton Colvin and Aaron Schwartz.

Presentations were recently made to two Blue Bird groups in San Anselmo led by Mesdames Guido Zanotti and W. A. Lehigh; four Blue Bird troupes in Novato; three Camp Fire troupes led by Mesdames Theodore Lilienthal, Hume Kincaid and Norman Mitchell.

Future showings have been requested by Girl Scout troupes in Greenbrae whose leaders are Mesdames Raymond Ponath and Harold Sonnenberg; five Girl Scout troupes in Fairfax arranged by neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Jerry Schuman; Blue Birds in Mill Valley led by Mesdames John J. O'Brien and Eric C. Johnson; Cub Scouts of Corte Madera whose pack leader is Ken Graham.

Other presentations are scheduled for January and February. The program will be made available to any interested groups who contact Mrs. Landa for shows during and after that time.

Marinites Attend Scout Convention

The 35th annual convention of the National Council of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. convened in St. Louis on Nov. 14. Among the 4,000 delegates attending the convention were four Marinites.

Mrs. Harold F. Green, Marin Council president, Mrs. James D. Adams, council first vice president, and Mrs. Frank E. Duhme Jr., member of the regional committee, Region XII, arrived in St. Louis for the regular sessions from Nov. 14 to 18.

Leaving Marin ahead of the others, Executive Director of the Marin Council, Miss Dorothy Erthle, attended special sessions planned for the professional workers before the convention convened.

For consideration before the delegates were changes in the constitution and various proposals submitted by councils throughout the United States.

Hartzell P-TA Has Talk By Paul Dowall

There will be no P-TA meeting in December. The children from Oliver R. Hartzell School have extended an open invitation to their Dec. 15 program, which will be directed by Mrs. Barbara Whiteley.

West Novato P-TA Honors 31 Teachers

These foreign teachers, all of whom teach English in their homelands, have been sent to the United States for six months under Fulbright grants and Smith-Mundt fellowships to study methods of teaching English at San Francisco State College.

Lloyd Pritchard from Costa Rica, master of ceremonies and spokesman for the group, introduced each te acher individually to the membership and then presented a program in which the entire group sang and danced each other's native songs and dances. Particularly enjoyed by the children present was the pantomiming by Hideshi Sato of Japan as he did a comic Japanese dance.

Earlier in the evening the visiting teachers were entertained at a buffet dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Sereda. This dinner was hosted by members of the P-TA board.

Roger Garety Guest Of Legal Secretaries

A thumbnail sketch of the origin and functions of the Grand jury was the subject of the talk by District Attorney Roger P. Garety, guest speaker at the recent dinner meeting of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association, held at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon.

Garety stated that it has been said the Grand Jury had its beginnings in certain institutions in Athens; however, its origin and development can be traced to England and the commonlaw. According to statute, the Grand Jury is composed of citizens of a county, 19 in California, who are sworn to inquire into public offenses committed and triable in a county. The selection is at the control of the judges. Each of our three superior court judges submits 10 names of interested citizens who are willing to serve. Of that 30, 19 are drawn by lot. If they are qualified and able to serve they are the Grand Jury. The presiding judge selects a foreman, and they serve for one year, or until discharged by the presiding judge.

The district attorney further stated that the functions of the Grand Jury are to consider crimes within the county which are reported to them and evidence presented. If they are satisfied there is a reasonable and proper cause to believe a person guilty of a crime, they return an indictment. They do not decide the guilt of the accused beyond a reasonable doubt—that is the work of the trial jury. The Grand Jury also is charged by statute to inquire into the needs of the various county offices, and charged with the responsibility of examining the books of the offices of the county, particularly those to do with revenue, examine the salaries of the auditor, supervisors and district attorney, and makes recommendations in that regard. Garety's talk was followed by a question and answer period participated in by the association's members.

A brief business meeting followed, conducted by president Elsie Caminita. Mrs. Jean Martin was initiated to membership by vice president June Tanforan. Reports were given by Mrs. Gladys O'Neal on the recent Day in Court, and on the sale of dolls which have been dressed by the club, and the possibilities of a future sale of those remaining.

An invitation from the Sonoma County Legal Secretaries Association was read, inviting the local association to their next meeting on Nov. 21 in Santa Rosa. It also was announced that the next meeting of the Marin Association will be in the form of a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Jan Steuer in San Rafael.

THREE YOUNGSTERS and a patroness of the Cathedral School for Boys in San Francisco displayed the paintings which will be given away at the 1960 Imported Car Show in Brooks Hall, in San Francisco, Nov. 21-27. The youngsters, all of San Rafael and attending the school include George and Steven O'Neill, surrounding their mother Mrs. John S. O'Neill and Christopher Hoy, son of the Rev. Trevor A. Hoy, director of religious education for the diocese. Members of the auxiliary will be official hostesses at a cocktail party opening the car show on Monday, Nov. 21. Seated in the car is Stan Petersen of Napa, renowned tempera painter of sports car scenes and donor of the paintings. (Aero photo)

Decorations Guild Members Gather Materials For Sale

Recently Mrs. R. P. Forster of Fairfax, Mrs. A. E. Ward of San Rafael, Mrs. Phyllis Green of San Anselmo, and Mrs. John A. Kauscha of Larkspur went on a field trip to Napa County. They brought back bushels of tree moss, used as backing for Christmas wreaths and other articles now in the making at the Guild's daily workshops.

Planning a similar trip are Mrs. Gordon Zimmer, president of the Decorations Guild, and Mrs. Calvin Terwilliger, both of Mill Valley. Their destination will be a friend's estate, where they will obtain eucalyptus bark for Yule logs, among other materials.

The logs will be one of the featured items at the Guild's annual Christmas Greens Sale Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 16, 17 and 18, at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Mrs. Fred H. Sloat of San Anselmo is chairman of this part of the sale preparations.

Mrs. Zimmer has issued a special appeal for fresh greens, asking Marin residents who plan to trim their evergreens to wait until the early part of December. The cuttings, she explained, can be used in the Guild's workroom. Holly, mistletoe, and dried materials such as cones are also needed.

Delivery may be made to the Decorations Guild building at the Center, or pickup may be arranged by calling the Center office. It is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, when the Decorations Guild Building also is open to the public during the current early sale of items prior to the Greens Sale.

Helen Gapen Oehler Lectures, Exhibits

Helen Gapen Oehler, nationally known Mill Valley artist, will be giving her illustrated lecture, "Faces of Africa," twice within a week.

Tomorrow night she will be the featured speaker at a family dinner night sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in San Rafael, and Monday she will give the same lecture at 7:30 p.m. at the Oakland Public Library under the auspices of its education department. It is open to the public.

Mrs. Oehler's work is appearing in two current annual exhibits, the Crocker Gallery in Sacramento from Nov. 6 to Dec. 4, and at the Santa Cruz annual exhibit through the month of November.

Smith Alums Plan Sale Of Dates

Marin County Smith College alumnae made plans this week for their annual sale of dates to finance the award scholarship for a local girl to attend the Eastern college at the home of Mrs. Edgar Chiswell in Belvedere.

A New Trick

A new trick of the eye technique in the jewelry world is responsible for schizophrenic pins. The split-personality pins are tailored on one side, studded with jewels on the other. A simple twist lets you change the pins's forward face. The reverse idea also is showing up in earrings, with ear fitting clips wearable on one side to show a solid design. Flipped over, there's an enamel motif.

North Marin P-TA Council To Join Clothing Drive

The decision to support "World Clothing Week", a clothing drive sponsored by the Christian Children's Fund, a non-denominational charitable organization, was made at a recent meeting of the North Marin P-TA Council.

According to a letter read by William J. J. Smith, the clothing collected is used in not only the depressed rural areas of the United States "for kids who can't go to school because they haven't a rag or shoe to wear" but for "kids in Asia, who sleep on the streets and spend the daylight hours begging or stealing; kids everywhere who have neither home nor parents."

The drive headed by Mrs. Philip Rosenberg, will start December 5 and continue through December 9, with each P-TA unit being responsible for clothing collected by their respective schools. Boxes and barrels will be set up at all the Novato schools. It is hoped that much good used clothing, both children's and adult's, too will be deposited.

Mrs. Charles Ridgeway, president, submitted the following list of names as being North Marin P-TA council's present executive board and chairman: Mrs. George Pelmear, 1st vice-president; Wm. J. J. Smith, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. James Sturken, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Panholzer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Coniglio, treasurer; Ray Monson, auditor; Mrs. F. J. Also listed were the unit presidents: Mrs. W. J. Groves, Hill; Robert Money, Marion; Mrs. James Studley, West Novato; Mrs. Harold Marsh, Olive; Mrs. Louis Graxiola, Lu Sutton.

The next Council meeting will be held at 9:15 a.m. tomorrow at the administration building.

New Officers Of Mill Valley Tennis Club Are Announced

Other officers who will take over their duties at the December luncheon meeting are Mesdames Jack Creighton, vice chairman; Warren Hodgdon, social chairman; Gordon Harrington, secretary; Paul Clark, treasurer; James Rutledge, women's tennis; William Breeze, junior tennis; Melvin Klyce, hospitality; John Laurie, publicity; William Daegling, swimming; George Wickham, high school activities; Eugene Crawford, junior high school activities; Gabriel Lehrer, elementary school activities; Donald Gallagher, art, and James Stephenson and Warren Erskine, phone committee.

At one end of the room, sailing over a white paper goal post, was the souvenir football from the Los Angeles Rams' championship year of 1951 when Larry Brink was on the team. Football gear such as helmets and sweaters were used around the walls, together with red berries and trophies and footballs on the mantel and piano.

Table decor consisted of the berries and miniature football players and tiny facsimiles of the pennants of all the professional football teams in the American and National Leagues.

Annual reports called for by Mrs. Ziegler were those of women's tennis, presented by co-chairman Mrs. Crawford in the absence of Mrs. Hirsch; swimming, given by chairman Mrs. Robert B. Earl, and junior tennis activities, presented by chairman Mrs. Breeze.

Mrs. Breeze announced that the club's Junior Wightman Cup girls' team had been named outstanding for hospitality among the girls' teams in Northern California Tennis Association, and she displayed the engraved plaque they had received as an award.

She credited the friendliness of the girls and the fine cooperation of the club's co-manager, Mrs. Gene Marker, in providing exceptional service.

Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, mother of Mrs. William Peavey of Mill Valley, was the founder of the National Wightman Cup program. A native of California and a former tennis champion, she lives in Boston and at 74 years of age is still playing tennis and giving lessons.

On behalf of the outgoing board Mrs. Larry Brink, secretary, presented Mrs. Ziegler with a large bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and fall leaves.

Other outgoing board members in addition to those named are Mesdames Stephenson, assistant secretary; R. S. Gilfillan, treasurer; Laurie, junior tennis activities co-chairman, and Robert Laughead, reservations.

Tunic Is The Top Garment With Big Choice Of Length

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—California sportswear designers have come up with numerous variations in their collections for spring and resort wear, especially in the length of jackets.

By the end of the second day of the California Fashion Creators' 10th annual national press week, it's becoming increasingly clear that the tunic is the top garment with the biggest choice of lengths. To hew to the definition of tunic, its shortest length is about hip-bone, shown either loosely fitted or more frequently loosely belted.

Longer tunics of mid-thigh length, shown over either pleated or slender skirts make up the handsomest of the elegant casual dresses in rich silk linens or raw silk from India.

Lengthened further, the tunic stops just short of the knee, and takes on a faintly reminiscent look of Nehru's coat . . . but here almost invariably sleeveless. Worn with sleek tapered pants, that match or contrast, the result is a charmingly feminine look with exotic overtones.

Diametrically opposed to this lengthened silhouette outer tops are brief enough to end just below the bosom. Others tie in a knot, and both expose bare midriffs. Cropped tops of waist length just miss fitting the figure.

'Juniors Roaring Twenty Follies' To Be Held Dec. 3 At Ignacio

The event, to be held Saturday evening, Dec. 3 at the Marin Golf and Country Club in Ignacio, will begin at 6:30 with cocktails and hors d'oevres and show time is set for 8 o'clock.

Upon entering, guests must knock three times and give the secret password and only then will they be allowed to enter and turn the calendar back to the days of the gay and glorious twenties. Dim lights, beaded lampshades and velvet fringed tablecloths will create the mood.

CHORUS LINE

The show will open with a chorus line of 12 girls in follies costumes. The chorus line will include Mesdames Ronald Hill, Richard Lloyd, William Slocum, Gordon Walker, Leonard d'Arteney, Domenic Selmi, William Donohoe, Auxiliary president, Robert Rouse, Donald McCarthy and Terrence Rooney. Five couples will sing and dance the "Charleston" and "Varsity Drag." These are Messrs. and Mesdames William Donohoe, Jack Coddington, Robert Rouse, Mrs. James Hetrick and Mrs. Leroy Wilkie.

Chairman of this "first of its kind" for the Junior Auxiliary is Mrs. William Roberts of Marinwood. Her ideas have inspired the entire theme for the evening, and acting as co-chairman is Mrs. Alex McClure. In charge of costumes are Mesdames Jack Coddington and Donald McCarthy. Invitations and reservations chairman Mrs. Clyde Jones has announced that reservations are limited to 250 guests.

AUTHENTIC DRESS

Commentating the fashion show, which will depict authentic dress of the day, will be Mrs. John Roll acting as Miss Louella Parsons. Each model will act out some star of the Roaring Twenties, such as the familiar names of Clara Bow, Greta Garbo, Mae West, Mary Pickford and Gladys Glad, the statesque beauty of the Ziegfeld Follies, and Vilma Banky, who made so many movies with Rudolph Valentino. Those who will be acting out one of these personalities will be Mesdames Ralph Tierney, John Parsons, Marcel Fiore, Gimi Sessi, Robert O'Donnell, Ronald Hill, Rome Brustati, Charles Gondyck, Richard Lloyd and Jose Alicastro.

Conclusion of the evening is scheduled for 9:30, when many groups have planned to go on to dinner at various restaurants and private homes. All funds derived from this occasion go to help those needy children who are under the care of the Catholic Social Service Agency of Marin County.

At Fonteyn Reception

Cecile Preble, who has her school of ballet in San Anselmo, attended by reception given Dame Margot Fonteyn of Britain's Royal Ballet in the Peacock Court of Mark Hopkins Hotel on Thursday. The reception was given by the Northern California Branch of the Royal Academy of Dancing. Miss Preble was accompanied by one of her pupils, eight year old Wendy Evans of Mill Valley. The two also attended the master classes taught by the stars of the Royal ballet.

Square Dance Party

The Stump Jumpers will hold a square dance party on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the IDESI Hall in Novato.

Bill Owens will call and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hachmayer will be hosts.

They're Holy Terrors On School Bus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is a school bus ride a learning experience.

Now there's a question that begs for an answer, and maybe one of the big foundations could sponsor some nation-wide research. Until then, we'll have to go along with about 100 school superintendents who batted the question around at an education convention earlier this year.

They agreed, emphatically, that a school bus ride is a learning experience.

"It's a basic extension of the school program," they said. "It develops the democratic processes. Children learn certain arts on a school bus, like the art of conversation."

To one bemused observer on the sidelines, the discussion didn't seem realistic. As the educators themselves might put it, their judgments were not based on a life experience within their peer group.

Trouble is, these folks never drove a school bus. I did, for three never-to-be-forgotten weeks. Against the nightmarish background, here are some statements made during the discussion, and some balancing comment from one who knows:

Comment — The democratic way to do it is for the driver to pick out the biggest bully on the bus, and threaten to make him walk home if he doesn't keep the other little monsters quiet.

WCTU To Review '60 At Meeting

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Roy Lindberg, 824 E Street, San Rafael. Business session begins at 11:30 followed by noontide prayer and luncheon.

The afternoon devotion will be given by Mrs. Ray Kitzmiller on "Not Where You Live, But How." Scripture from St. Luke 6:31: "And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

This being the Thanksgiving season, there will be a review on what the WCTU has done in 1960.

Mrs. H. R. Soderstrom will give a resume of Chapters four and five from the Study Book on "What Alcohol Is and What It Does."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

Chevrolet Sports Wagon Arrives At Two Marin Auto Display Rooms

Long awaited by many—I know, because I've heard them say it—has been a chance to look at Chevrolet's Greenbriar sports wagon in the Corvair line.

Both De Long Chevrolet, San Rafael, and Campbell-Bishop in Mill Valley now have a model in their showrooms available for inspection; Anderson Chevrolet in Novato is expecting a delivery any day.

Equipped with six doors and rated for a 1,600-pound payload, the 95-inch Greenbriar can be converted from a nine-passenger bus to a wide assortment of duties by rearranging the seats.

All dealers have received deliveries of the Corvair Lakewood station wagon—a conventional type six-passenger model. It offers 68 cubic feet of cargo capacity—10 cubic feet of lockable storage space under the hood.

FOUR YEARS AGO, manufacturing and industrial employment in Marin County accounted for 1,486 persons on an annual payroll of $6,750,000. Last year the figures went up to 1,937 persons and $10,100,000 respectively.

Carroll Snyker, executive vice president and manager of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, told a meeting of the real estate board he estimates 1960 reports will wind up with about 2,400 persons so employed and a $12,750,000 payroll, indicating that, slow as it may seem, the county is showing some progress in industrial growth.

In suggesting the possibility of a promotional brochure for the county he received suggestions from members for data to be incorporated in it ranging from information on schools, transportation and traveling times, to recreational activities for children.

Also — added one member brightly—something to explain why Marin County property is so much higher than any place else.

Snyker urged real estate men having suitable properties for industrial use to list them with the Development Foundation as many inquiries are channeled through the organization —also to call on the Foundation for statistical information helpful to prospective buyers.

SPEAKING of industrial sites, the H. C. Little Burner Co. property at Woodland and Du Bois, San Rafael, still hasn't captured a potential occupant.

True, it's large, with five acres of ground and some 60,000 square feet of space under roof, calling for a substantial investment — but it's already equipped with modern offices, loading docks and spur track facilities.

All adding up to an attractive, almost ready-made location—if the price is right.

PROBABLE MARIN food-buying habits—or are they? Households located in cities of between 2,500 and 50,000 inhabitants make 25 per cent fewer foodstore trips than do large city dwellers, according to market research studies. They spend about the same on each visit as families in larger cities—consequently their total annual expenditures are less.

But people living in towns of 2,500 or less make more shopping trips and their total expenditures are greater.

Farm area families spend 40 per cent less in grocery stores than small-town residents and make one-third fewer trips—and eat off the fat of the land.

Or, so they say.

The working agreement between St. Louis and Rochester has been dropped by mutual consent. The pact was supposed to run until 1962.

Yule Decor Planned For Mill Valley

Christmas decorations in Mill Valley this year will be a community affair.

Grammar school pupils will make ornaments for large Christmas trees; Tamalpais High School students will make a plywood caroler scene; the 666th Aircraft and Airways Communications Squadron on Mount Tamalpais will put up the trees as well as decorations. The city, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will assist, and merchants, under the chamber of commerce, will finance material costs.

Chairman Norman Black said decorations will go up Nov. 25, the day after thanksgiving.

Seven 30-foot lighted trees will be placed on the center strip of Miller Avenue between the high school and the Locust district shopping center. Trees are to come from Marin Municipal Water District lands on Mount Tamalpais.

In the Throckmorton business area, Redwood garlands will be set on poles and strung with red lights. There will be a lighted Christmas tree in the square as well as a carolers scene. Plans for decorations of a similar nature are being worked out for the East Blithedale Avenue area, Black said.

Shopper Wins Prize For Name

Mrs. Rene Borloz was picking out $250 worth of merchandise from Grant Avenue merchants in Novato today after thinking of the winning name for the street's merchant group.

The nine stores in the newly formed group now will be known as the Central Grant Avenue Merchants Assn. About 100 names were submitted.

The next meeting of the organization will be in about two weeks.

HEAD SQUIRE—Bill Magee of Lucas Valley has been named manager and buyer of the new Squire Room of Junior Esquire in San Rafael. The new department will feature clothing for college age men and "the gentleman who is young in heart," said Magee, who has been with Junior Esquire more than a year.

Portable Crane Lift Operating In Marin

A portable crane lift, believed to be the only one of its kind in the Bay Area, and capable of raising cruisers and sailboats weighing more than 11 tons from the San Rafael channel to dry land, is a new addition to the boat service facilities of San Rafael Marin Repair at Harbor and Canal Streets, San Rafael.

The lift operates on a 35-horsepower motor and is driven on channel iron tracking over the water. Two reinforced slings cradled under the bow of boats up to 45 feet in length hoist them above ground level. They may then be transferred to any part of the firm's yard for repair and painting by do-it-yourself owners or by the company's own mechanics, or for storage.

Still maintained is the firm's shipway and winch equipment

The new lift is part of an over-all remodeling program which began in September, following the firm's incorporation last May. Principals in the operation are Harold Potter, 57 Oxford Drive, San Rafael, president; Richard McCarthy, 252 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, vice president; and Howard Bean, San Mateo, secretary-treasurer.

Tightening Of Loans For Harbors Indicated

BURLINGAME (AP)—There are strong indications there will be a tightening of regulations covering state loans for building small boat harbor facilities.

The California Commission on Small Boats and Harbors will make such a decision either at its January meeting in Fresno or at the one after that.

Tuesday the commission heard opposing views on the proposal.

C. R. Kirby, commissioner for the Port San Luis Harbor District in the San Luis Obispo area, attacked the proposed requirement that when land is purchased it be cleared through a title company. Kirby said some of the lands involved were submarginal and that title companies will not touch them.

Julius H. Selinger, San Rafael attorney representing the California Inland Harbor and Fishing Resorts Association, voiced support of proposals to tighten up methods by which loans are repaid by cities.

Moss Landing asked the commission for $500,000 for a water system. The chairman, Donald Loker, directed his staff to meet with Dick Myers, harbor master at Moss Landing, to work out details.

Redwood City was given $30,000 as an addition to its $300,000 harbor marina loan because of increased costs.

Fusselman, Ludy, Blair Should Act To Clear Air

It has been that way increasingly since the county elections last June.

At that time, Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who for several years had been a frequent dissenter on the five-man board of supervisors, won reelection handily.

They were defeated by George Ludy of Inverness and J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley. Ludy and Blair—and the backers who elected them — have been in agreement with Fusselman's expressed points of view.

So it has been apparent that when the new "order" takes office right after the first of the year, what's left of the old majority (Supervisors Walter R. Castro of San Rafael and William A. Gnoss of Novato) will become a minority.

Fusselman, the dissenter, will command a majority composed of himself, Ludy and Blair. There are some who half-way expect Gnoss to join with the Fusselman force.

Fusselman never was a supporter of the county administrator idea, the county counsel idea, nor the civic center plans. Likewise, he frequently balked at Assessor Bert Broemmel's requests for supervisorial backing to continue county-wide reappraisals to keep the tax rolls up to date.

Soon after the June election, talk spread through the courthouse that Fusselman would use his new majority to "dump" County Planning Director Mary Summers and Public Works Director Marvin Brigham.

Further, the Fusselman-Ludy-Blair trio would abolish the separate office of county counsel. They would abolish the office of county administrator. And there would be no further work contracted on the civic center.

The assessor's budget would be curtailed, leaving him insufficient personnel to carry on continuing reappraisal. This was not all, but it is enough to convey the type of talk going through the courthouse.

As we say, the result was unrest and turmoil which has NOT been good for our county government.

All we have heard from Fusselman, Ludy and Blair is denials that they have met to make concrete plans. But there is plenty of evidence that they have been together for discussion on more than one occasion since election day last June.

What have been the results of the unrest and turmoil so far?

Some good people have left county service: County Counsel Leland Jordan and County Administrator Don Jensen. Planning Director Mary Summers has announced her intention to leave during the coming year.

There are those who say that Mrs. Summers was offered a deal through an intermediary; if she would publicly signify her intention to quit, she wouldn't be harassed or fired when the Fusselman command takes over.

There are those who say that the assessor, too, was offered a "deal" by another intermediary who described himself as representing Fusselman, Ludy and Blair. "Pull in your horns on this reappraisal stuff and get in line or the new majority will ruin you at budget time," Broemmel was told, so the story goes.

What can be done about this unhappy state of affairs?

Fusselman and the majority he commands—Ludy and Blair— could clear the air quickly.

And we believe they should, in the interest of getting county government back down to earth.

They ought to say yes or no on abolition of the separate office of county counsel, on the administrator, on continuing reappraisal. They ought to clarify Brigham's status.

Employees who are going to be axed still have six weeks to find another job before the first of the year.

Those whose fears are unfounded could quit worrying and get back to work.

Our columns, of course, are open as always to Messrs. Fusselman, Ludy and Blair to help in this necessary job of clearing the courthouse air. We hope they act quickly to bring this unhealthy situation to swift conclusion.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

The Government Ought To Give Fat People Reduction In Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—It is time the federal government did something to help the fat man.

At it is now, nobody does much for the fat man except jeer him.

Yet fat people are vital to the American economy. Since we have some 25 to 30 million overweight people, they outnumber farmers or manufacturers by a large margin.

Congress regularly rushes to the rescue of the farmer with crop benefit payments and to the aid of the manufacturer with protective tariffs.

But the only government help fat people get is a periodic warning from the U. S. Public Health Service that if they don't lose weight they probably won't live as long.

The government should encourage them to reduce by offering them solid inducements, just as it helps the farmer and the manufacturer and the oil well owners.

For example, why not a fat depletion allowance on your income tax?

Under this plan your doctor would indicate how much overweight you were, and give you a diet. Then when you went to pay your income tax, the collector would give you a 1 per cent reduction for each pound you had lost, in recognition of your valiant and patriotic effort to save a worthwhile part of America—namely yourself.

A FEDERAL FAT control program such as herein outlined may sound like another raid on the Treasury by another special privilege group.

Actually, it isn't. Unlike the federal farm surplus program it probably would more than pay its own way—because it would keep millions of former fat people alive longer, paying taxes years beyond their expected span.

ONE THING you can say about any one who opposes this program of national recognition.

He ain't a fat man. The fat man already gets enough advice. What he needs is real help with a weighty problem.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Basic Facts Of Election Results

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Now that John Kennedy will be our next president (bitter pill to some of us), there is no question that, for the good of our country, we must all co-operate. BUT, we must never lose sight of certain basic facts to be re-evaluated in 1964, especially by "labor" which apparently had much influence in the national election, if not locally.

1. Will the economy rise at a faster rate than during the Eisenhower-Nixon administration?
2. Will the dollar remain relatively stable, or will it do a Truman?
3. Will taxes increase?
4. Will we stay out of war?
5. Will civil rights take a big forward step?
6. Will we maintain and improve foreign relations?

If any of these questions become answered in the negative, Democrats as well as Republicans should begin to wonder if they have not been sold down the river on the oft-repeated phrase that "the Democratic party is the party of the people."

Republicans: Let's not be pessimistic or deliberately try to dump the apple cart just so you can say, "I told you so."

Democrats: Bear in mind that the margin of victory was so slim that there is not a "mandate of the people" and that the people do not want a radical shift in policy or program. You represent all the people, not just Democrats.

Democrats and Republicans: The large voter turnout indicated an unprecedented interest and the power of the ballot. Let's keep that power and be sure that our representatives "toe the line" in keeping their campaign promises. Let's make sure that they were not just lullabies. Be constantly alert to our power as a voter and not just forget the election now that it is over.

Labor (what a poor title for men who earn their living): Apparently the people (including union members) want candidates who will represent all the people, not just labor. Let the sound trouncing of the labor-sponsored candidates in the Assembly and state-senatorship be a warning. It is not a question of their personal attributes (who could have wanted finer men) but it is common knowledge that no labor-sponsored representative will vote against a labor measure no matter how badly or unwisely drafted on the assumption that any labor-favored legislation is good legislation. This does not mean that our newly elected representatives will be anti-labor.

Capital (if there is such a thing as we are all capitalists to a degree): There is no such thing today as a status quo. Strict conservatism is dead. But you must guard against a rush to the new, which so-called liberals may wish to make without consideration that often a mixture with the old makes a better brew.

These are just the opinions of one man but may well represent the fellings of many others.

Death Knell Of Public Schools?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As an appendage to the excellent I-J editorial and Henry MacArthur's column of comment on the resolution adopted by the Cal. County Superintendents' Assn., may I submit the following paragraph, taken from an article appearing in a recent issue of American School Board Journal.

"One of the most interesting developments in American education is the recent shift from public to non-public schools at the elementary and secondary levels. Between 1940 and 1956, enrollment in non-public schools grew four times as fast as enrollment in public schools. Twenty-nine per cent of the additional children who sought admittance to school in this period chose non-public schools. The shift is indeed remarkable when one stops to consider that a much greater share of the cost of staffing, constructing and financing is borne by parents who send their children to private and parochial schools than those who send their children to tax supported schools. For the satisfaction of thinking that they are sending their children to a superior school, they are willing to pay a price. It has been estimated that the trend toward non-public schools saved the taxpayer 1.8 billion dollars in 1955-56."

In repudiating critical intelligence, are not the superintendents sounding the death knell for the public school system?

Should we, whether or not we can afford private school education, renounce the right to be thinking human beings for fear we might undermine the public schools by analyzing them?

Puerto Ricans Vote Contrary To Advice Of Their Three Bishops

WASHINGTON — As in the American elections this year, the religious issue showed itself elsewhere. In the race for the Puerto Rican governorship all of the issues which were present but muted in the Presidential campaign were sharp and tangible and out in the open.

In Puerto Rico the issue was propelled into the election by the Catholic hierarchy, not by the candidates or by the small number of Protestants who live there. The three Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico read two pastoral letters from their pulpits "forbidding" members of the church—about 90 per cent of the population — to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin and decreeing that disobedience would be a "sin."

This clerical intervention on American soil and its effects have some bearing on the problems President Kennedy might have to face. They tend to confirm one statement which Mr. Kenendy often made and call into some doubt two other Kennedy assurances.

He said many times that he was sure that American Catholics would not take voting orders on how to vote. Well, the Puerto Rican Americans showed with a venegance that they wouldn't take such orders, regarding these orders as invalid and improper. They voted overwhelmingly for Gov. Munoz Marin who was elected to a fourth term by a larger vote than ever.

BUT THE PASTORAL letters could give President Kennedy some concern. He often remarked that he was confident his church would not bring any pressures to bear on him and he said that he could not conceive that there could be any conflict between his loyalty to his oath of office and his conscience as a Catholic.

The Catholic bishops of Puero Rico did bring pressure to bear against their chief of state and they sought to enforce that pressure by trying to control the votes of members of the church. This is direct and massive pressure.

The San Juan correspondent of the "New York Times" reported that when it was "unable to advance Catholic dogma from the pulpit with sufficient success," the church turned to attempting to control the elections in order to force the government to give "legal backing to its moral strictures."

Mr. Kennedy does, of course, speak authoritatively for his conscience and for his own assurance that there could be no conflict with his constitutional oath. But a spokesman at the Vatican stated that the Puerto Rican Catholic bishops "were within their authority" in telling the members of the church how to vote and in telling Gov. Munoz Marin how to act and in prescribing disobedience as a "sin." This view is not unanimously held by all members and clergy of the Catholic Church.

It is reassuring that it didn't work, that these American voters refused to be told. I suspect that most Catholic laymen in the U. S. dissent from and resent this clerical intervention. It helps us to see that the "religious issue" is not a matter of theology but a matter of the proper role of the church and its clergy in temporal affairs. There is a vast difference between the right of advocacy, which should be denied no one, and the right to "forbid."

Screening Group Narrows Field Of Applicants For Hospital Job

SOMETIME NEXT month a new administrator will be striding through the corridors of Marin General Hospital, taking over the tough task of running the overcrowded hospital.

For the past seven weeks a special screening committee has been searching for the man to fill this job — ever since the present administrator, S. Ames Pence, announced that he will leave about Dec. 1 for a new position in scientific research.

The post of Marin General administrator apparently is a much coveted one. About 250 applications have poured in so far, and new ones are coming in at the rate of 10 a day. Most are from the midwest, south and east.

WHAT WILL HE be like, this new hospital head?

Odds are he'll be between 40 and 55 years old, a tried administrator who has been in full charge of a hospital and had a number of years of experience.

He may have a master's degree in hospital administration, but not necessarily. He will be a man who considers running the hospital adequately his first job. He may participate in professional and community activities, but these he will feel are secondary to his main task.

The new administrator probably will have had special experience in hospital planning and equipping and will have a good business management sense. He may be a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators. And he'll have no history of "subversive affiliations or ultra-liberal activities."

THESE ARE some of the general qualifications the hospital board has set forth as a guide for the screening committee — ideals that board members consider desirable in an administrator.

A woman, incidentally, will not be considered for the post —because of what a spokesman termed the "intricacies of working with the medical staff and personnel." A woman might be handicapped, despite her capabilities, it is felt.

The man who is finally selected will have no easy task ahead of him. He will have to run a hospital and maintain good service while a building program is underway. It'll require a lot of juggling, and a lot of ability.

MARIN GENERAL is overcrowded—and this is the big problem. In September, for example, the hospital operated at 104 per cent of capacity on the surgical floor, 101 per cent on the medical floor. During the month 168 babies were born. The hospital has the only maternity section in Marin County, outside Hamilton Air Force Base hospital limited to military dependents.

How does Marin General meet this problem? Until a new 116-bed wing is completed and relieves the crowding, some patients are put in halls or shifted around to other floors. Some, scheduled for admission for non-emergency operations or treatment, are put off for another day.

So the committee is screening very carefully the applicants for the post of administrator.

SINCE PENCE is scheduled to leave about Dec. 1, the board wants to hire a replacement as soon as possible and maintain an unbroken chain of authority.

The screening committee—composed of two prominent hospital administrators and a Marin County marketing executive who represents local citizens—already has narrowed the field down to about eight possibilities for interview by the hospital board. The board will make the final decision.

Possibilties for the post of assistant administrator (which is also vacant) also are being considered as the committee pores over the applications. The best of these will be referred to the new administrator for his study.

On the screening committee are Alfred Maffly, administrator of Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley since 1933 and president elect of the California Hospital Assn.; Harold H. Hixson, administrator of the University of California hospitals, San Francisco, and Mel J. London of Ross, vice presidenti n charge of marketing at Calaveras Cement Co.

LEAVES SATURDAY

Three From Marin To Sail On Wanderer

Three men from Marin will be aboard the schooner Wanderer when it sails at noon Saturday for the South Seas from Fishermen's Wharf in San Francisco.

Omer Darr of Mill Valley will captain the vessel, as on last summer's voyage. Medical man will be Dr. Gray Stahlman of 126 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito. The third Marinite is Richard Pinneo of 117 Third Street, San Rafael.

Dr. Stahlman, who is to be the doctor for the round trip, will be met in Tahiti by his fiancee, Gloria Drake of 78 Central Avenue, Sausalito, who will fly there. They will be married in Tahiti and return together on the Wanderer.

Passengers, about 15, will be charter members, each paying his part of the way, according to organizer Marvin Hand.

It will call first at Pitcairn Island, where one passenger, Mrs. Robert Willis of Alabama, will deliver some cotton cloth and "T" shirts for the natives. The ship will also visit Henderson Islands, Mongareva Islands, the Tuamotus and Moorea, and return about mid-March.

Reason for the San Francisco debarcation point, Hand said, is to enable passengers to load directly from their cars on the pier.

Enthusiasm Greets Suggestion For Day Honoring Our School Teachers

Teachers work hard, get few rewards and need recognition. Might we have a National Teachers' Day to honor them?

A girl named Patricia Ann Bryson wrote to me suggesting a National Teachers' Day. I relayed it to you last month and was amazed at your response. A snowstorm of letters came, every one of them agreeing with Patricia Ann.

Most teachers are too modest. The public takes them for granted. But we parents know how much they help our children.

Johnny is at odds with the world. He fights with other kids and refuses to read or write. Then he gets into the room of an understanding, capable teacher who spots his trouble and rescues him, and in no time at all he's back on the beam. That sort of thing happens a thousand times a month, but we parents are the only ones who know it.

Teachers are important another way. They are the bulwark of democracy. They teach our children how to think and indoctrinate them in good citizenship and patriotism. It is no accident that dictators grab the schools when they take over a country and mold the younger generation to fit their pattern. They know how important teachers are.

Could we have a National Teachers' Day? One way to get it would be through a Presidential proclamation. Many of our other special days were started that way. If you approve of the idea of a National Teachers' Day write to President Eisenhower and suggest that he proclaim it.

Marin Motel Group Elects Officers

Other officers elected at a luncheon meeting in the Wiltshire Towers restaurant were vice president Paul Thompson of the Villa Rafael Motel, San Rafael, and secretary-treasurer Mrs. Ray Murice of the Mission Lodge, Novato.

The association was formed as a Marin chapter of the California Motel Assn. on Oct. 19. Six of the 30 motels in the county joined as charter members.

Officers will meet on Dec. 7 for approval of bylaws and final admission of charter memberships. The membership will meet on Jan. 11.

Youth Given 30 Days For Speeding

A 19-year-old Petaluma youth must spend 30 days in Marin County Jail for speeding in Santa Venetia Sept. 24 at a time when his driving privilege was suspended.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday sentenced H. Merle Hicklin to the jail term, with work furlough privilege.

Sheriff's Deputy Harvey Teague testified Hicklin was going about 65 to 70 miles per hour on North San Pedro Road about 1:30 or 2 a.m. Another youth and two girls were in the car.

The judge noted that Hicklin's driver's license had expired, and he was already on probation for reckless driving and running a stop sign.

A BOILING POT

Sausalito Man Tells Of Visit To Africa

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"Africa can be likened to a pot that is getting ready to boil over. Every politician wants to tip that pot so it will spill to his advantage. He doesn't care how many Africans or other people get scalded as long as it is to his advantage."

This is one of the impressions of Carl Spring of Sausalito, who, with his wife, returned last week after a three and one-half month visit to central, southwest and eastern Africa.

Traveling by car over 11,000 mimles to visit the country and watch wild animals "in the bush," the Springs found many changes from their prior 1951 visit, not the least being a feeling of "impersonal tenseness."

Two major changes were in transportation and clothing. There were few bicycles in 1951; now they are numerous. There are also markedly more Afrikanders driving commercial and farm vehicles, and there is an increase in air service.

Clothing, which used to be tribal dress on the edge of cities, has changed. "Now, due to further permeation of civilization into the hinterland," Spring said, "you have to go farther from the cities to find the native dress."

The Springs found Kruger National Park "practically ruined for game viewing by just too many people and too many automobiles," Spring said. "We are pretty demanding on our game viewing . . . Up in Rhodesia, we could really get close to nature and see game."

Spring said "all of Africa has been taught to cry for freedom." Over the areas they visited, they saw many youngsters holding up their fingers in the "V for victory" sign and saying "Uhuru," meaning freedom in Swahili.

"There seems to be a general misunderstanding that when freedom comes, everything will be free," Spring said. "The food in the store, the white man's property, his farm, house, his family or his industrial holdings."

He said there is a visible lack of maintenance of property, a decrease in the size of the merchants' stock of goods, a flight of capital and no replacement of worn-out items.

The Springs had "excellent lion luck" at Tsavo Park near Mount Kilamanjaro, which means they saw lots of lions. Mrs. Spring said: "Where the grass is gray the lions are gray. Where it is yellow, the lions are yellow. And that goes for the other game."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Spring said they were delighted to hear a rhinosceros mew like a cat, a zebra bark and an elephant roar instead of trumpet.

Spring said they did not come upon any sign of animosity against them. He said there was a sense of "impersonal tenseness" in Africa.

Resources Held Key To U.S. Survival

WASHINGTON (AP)—Survival of the United States as a nation may depend on wise use of its natural resources, the Army Engineers, the nation's main dam builders, in a report printed by a special Senate Committee on National Water Resources.

Army engineers called attention to wasteful exploitation of resources, including reckless timber cutting and other practices which added to erosion and caused costly flood damage.

"Modification of existing laws is now far more important than it has been in the past," the engineers' report said.

"Today our resources are, as it were, under our feet,' and the very existence of the nation may depend upon the efficient use of those resources."

The engineers noted that many witnesses heard by the committee had testified the ation would be hard-pressed to supply enough water in the next century to satisfy demands for food, industrial and other use by a fast-growing population.

The engineers said flood control laws, under which they operate, should be changed "to make them responsive to emerging needs caused by rapid and radical changes.

"Dams and reservoirs should be planned to regulate the rivers for all purposes.

"If a stream could be fully regulated there would be no floods . . . a reservoir system capable of providing a high degree of regulation is simply a means of converting floods to a steady flow so the stream will be of greater value for power generation, water supply for irrigation and municipal use, pollution abatement, navigation and other purposes."

Army engineers build dams, levees and other facilities costing about $300 million a year. They have recommended that the program be increased to $500 million annually.

Blood Donated

Residents of Marinwood and Terra Linda donated almost 200 pints of blood—75 pints over their quota—during the visit of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank mobile unit on Nov. 3. The two areas donated about 100 pints each.

COAST TO COAST UNDER ROBOT CONTROL

Two supersonic Republic F-105 Air Force jets race through the sky from Florida to California under robot control. The pilots handled the controls only for takeoff and landing of the 1,400-mile-an-hour fighter-bombers on the flight.

In 1613 the Virginia Company sold its rights to the Bermuda Islands to a London business group for about $10,000. Now the tourist business alone in the islands is worth an estimated 25 to 30 million dollars a year.

Here's a rare car on the market. It's a little '53 Buick Special 4-dr. Sedan that we sold new and has only 48,000 miles on it. It's really a clean car. Original paint doesn't show any wear. New seat covers on the interior. Almost all new rubber on the car. Dynaflow transmission, heater and many other items. One of the safest used cars we've seen in a long time.

Here's a really low mileage two-year-old car that you can buy with complete peace-of-mind. 16,000 miles on this Invicta hardtop coupe that we sold new in 1959 to local original owner. He traded in on new Buick hardtop. Not a spot or mark of wear either inside or out on this car. It has all the Buick luxury items such as power steering, power brakes, dynaflow, radio, heater and others. We've just installed a brand new set of white wall tires on the car. Turquoise with white top and matching interior.

A record Halloween collection for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) was made in Marin County with a total of more than $3,500, according to announcement by Mrs. Eric Moeller.

Mrs. Moeller said that between 3,000 and 4,000 children in the county canvassed Halloween night. Their collections have been going to the First National Bank in San Rafael for the past two weeks. The money will go for milk and medicine for children in foreign lands.

Collections by areas follow: Corte Madera $158.94, Fairfax $53.74, Kentfield $190.33, Laguitas School District $25.39, Mill Valley $316.38, Novato $550, Reed District $240, Ross $147.56, San Anselmo $204.35, San Quentin $10.63, San Rafael $833.38, Dixie District $534.76, Sausalito $77, Marin City $25.01, forts $91.

Librarian Quits Sausalito Post

Mabel Wosser, librarian at the Sausalito Public Library since 1937, has retired as of Nov. 1, it was announced at Tuesday's Sausalito City Council meeting.

City Manager Charles A. Brown said Miss Wosser has agreed to remain for six weeks from her retirement date until the library board recruits a qualified librarian to fill her place.

Miss Wosser has had a permanent appointment since 1937 but worked at the library as a substitute for five or six years prior to that. She is from an old Marin family and lives with her three sisters at the old family home at 517 Pine Street. She has retired under the city retirement plan.

There will be a short subject and cartoons in addition to the feature film.

Tickets may be purchased at the theaters, or at the San Rafael Toy Shop, PayLess Drug Store and Junior Museum in San Rafael, Toy and Hobby Mart in Sausalito, both Dimitroff's Art Stores in Mill Valley, Pini Hardware and Johnson's Hardware in Novato, Hoy's Music Store in San Anselmo, Bank Pharmacy in Fairfax, Jewel's Toy Box in Kentfield and from members of the Service League.

Teacher Pay Session Scheduled In Novato

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District will meet with a teacher committee Tuesday to negotiate a teacher salary schedule.

Representatives of the Novato Teachers Assn. will sit down with trustees and an outside financial consultant. Teachers have asked for confirmation by Dec. 15 that salaries for the next school year will go up.

Trustees at Tuesday night's meeting took the first step toward implementing the four-million-dollar construction program approved by voters. Architects Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics of San Francisco were ordered to prepare plans for a six-room addition to the high school.

Supt. W. J. J. Smith reported district officials are continuing negotiation for purchase of about three acres southwest of the present high school site and adjacent to it. Appraisals are being made, he said. The site, with an additional five acres from the high school, would be used for a school for 450 youngsters.

Muni Court Clerk Going To Session

Mrs. Anna M. Franke, deputy clerk of Marin Municipal Court, will go to Fresno Saturday to attend a board of directors meeting of the State Assn. of Municipal Court Clerks of California.

Mrs. Franke is a director representing Marin Municipal Court clerks.

The meeting will be held at the Hotel Californian in Fresno at 2 p.m. Michael P. Kurey of Stockton, president of the state association, will preside.

From the drawing board to reality

Contractor WILCO CONSTRUCTION COMPANY'S Walt Wilson teamed with nearly thirty of the finest craftsmen in Northern California in completing this modern and different bowling center. First of all, the ground had to be absolutely level. There had to be a grading operation. Then the carpenters preparing the forms for the concrete base . . . the cement workers and finishers. The number of carpenters and piles of material grew. Soon electricians, plumbers, bricklayers joined what appeared to be a horde of workmen. Thick rolls of blueprints were being scanned seemingly at every point of the construction.

As you'll note, the design of the building, particularly the front, is without corners. Everything is circular. This is harder to build and obviously, much costlier. By now, it's difficult to remember what a confusing maze a structure of this type is in its early stages. The plasterers spraying ceilings and walls, apparently unending coils of wire, stacks of wire lath, tripping the unwary, and trespassing onlooker.

Finally the master craftsmen from Brunswick arriving to put down the fine maple flooring of the lanes. Things are beginning to shape up. Equipment arrives and is stacked, inevitably in the way. Sheet metal men bang away on the various phases of their work, the cabinetry is being sanded ready for the painters. Suddenly one day the automatic pinsetters were clacking away and the big door opening day neared.

No phase of the construction that would contribute to the visitors' pleasure and comfort must be overlooked. Everything has to be checked and double checked. But now the day has arrived. Just about everything is completed.

This is Nave Lanes.

SCHOOL-BOUND CARS HIT; 3 HURT

These two cars, both bound for school, collided this morning in Marinwood, throwing both drivers out of their cars and sending three persons, one of them a 6-year-old girl, to Marin General Hospital. The car in the foreground was driven by Daniel Naughton, 18, a student at College of Marin. The other was driven by Mrs. Joyce M. Roncevic. Naughton's school books sit atop the damaged hood. Violence Subsides In New Orleans Integration Crisis

School Board Asks Judge To Allow Return To Segregated Classrooms

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Violence subsided abruptly in the New Orleans school integration crisis today. But 99.5 per cent of the white pupils in two newly integrated schools boycotted classes and the school board asked a U. S. district judge to let it go back to segregation.

The segregationist Louisiana legislature tried to bring President-elect John F. Kennedy into the dispute by adopting a resolution asking him for an opinion on the "judicial tyranny" of U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright, who ordered the integration.

Police arrested 250 persons, white and Negro, between 8 p.m., EST, yesterday and 4 a.m. today in racial violence. Fifteen persons were beaten or cut and one was shot. But after daylight, the violence ebbed.

There were several reasons for the decrease in violence: Police wouldn't let crowds gather, they kept a sharper than usual watch around two integrated schools and it turned cold and threatened to rain.

ONE WHITE CHILD

But at McDonogh No. 19, one of the integrated schools, only one white pupil attended classes with three 6-year-old Negro girls at William Frantz Elementary School. The normal enrollment of the schools totals 1,038. Negroes entered them for the first time Monday and attendance has dropped increasingly every day since.

The legislature's resolution to Kennedy directed that a committee of legislators personally deliver the resolution and "wait for his (Kennedy's) immediate reply." There was no indication when the committee will try to see Kennedy, who was in Johnson City, Tex., today, visiting Lyndon B. Johnson.

ATTENDANCE DROPS

Attendance in fact, dropped off sharply in the entire New Orleans school system. Of a total 36,726 students in elementary and secondary schools, 12,666 failed to show up for classes today.

Many teen-aged students, both white and Negro, took part in the violence. Negroes

Nixon Captures California In Absentee Vote

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO—Absentee ballots spelled victory for Richard M. Nixon today in the tight race for California's 32 electoral votes, and heightened the vice president's prestige in his home state.

Switching the statewide unofficial count from the Democratic column did not alter the election of Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy. But it choked off opposition jibes that Nixon couldn't even carry his native area.

Unofficial returns from all but 20,000 of 230,000 absentee ballots counted eight days after the polls closed gave the Republican presidential nominee a lead of 13,160.

With only a small fraction of the record high vote still to be counted, a tabulation gave Kennedy 33,926,961 to 33,691,794 for Nixon.

CLARK GABLE

Movie Industry Mourns Death Of Clark Gable

Members of the motion picture industry, from top stars to office boys, remembered Gable as the reigning star who captivated movie audiences for more than 30 years.

Robert Taylor, who with Gable was one of Metro Goldwyn Mayer's leading stars in the '30s and '40s, and his hunting partner, felt the news was a "helluva blow."

Doris Day, who co-starred in 1958 with Gable in "Teacher's Pet," said the actor's death was a "real shock."

Marilyn Monroe, Gable's co-star in "The Misfits," broke down and wept when she was informed in New York of his death.

Private funeral services will be held 9 a.m. Saturday in the Church of Recessional at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. There was no immediate disclosure of where Gable would be buried.

Guatemala, Nicaragua Offered Help Of U.S.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower today ordered the Navy to prevent any "Communist-directed" invasion of Guatemala or Nicaragua, which both countries charge is coming from Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The White House said in a bombshell announcement that Navy surface and air units now are in position to help the two Caribbean republics block any possible invasion. The orders do not call for a buildup of forces at the big Guantanamo Navy base in Cuba. Both Guatemala and Nicaragua have charged that recent anti-government revolts against their governments were fomented by Cuban premier Castro.

The announcement was reminiscent of Eisenhower's order on Aug. 2, 1958, that ships of the Seventh Fleet sail into the Formosa Straits to defend Formosa and the Pescadores Islands from a feared Red Chinese invasion of the Nationalist stronghold.

The White House statement issued today said:

"In response to the request of the governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua, surface and air units of the U. S. Navy are in a position in which they could assist these governments, should it become necessary, to seek out and prevent intervention on the part of communist-directed elements in the internal affairs of Guatemala and Nicaragua through the landing of armed forces or supplies from abroad."

The requests for Navy help were received by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in Washington. Herter flew to Augusta, where the president is vacationing, this morning to attend a National Security Council meeting. He conferred with the president yesterday and again today.

Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes charged that

ANNEXATION SNAG

Terra Linda Parks Going To District

Two Terra Linda park sites, which snagged annexation proceedings by the San Rafael City Council last week, will be turned over to the Terra Linda Recreation District at a special meeting tomorrow night.

The Terra Linda Community Services District board last night directed president Joseph R. Gunn III to deliver the deeds of the Del Ganado and Oleander park sites (a total of 4.8 acres) to the recreation district.

Meeting in an adjacent room of the Bernard Hoffman School, recreational district directors set a special meeting for 6 p.m. tomorrow in the school to accept the deeds.

The question of the two park sites halted action on annexation of Terra Linda by the City of San Rafael last week. Councilmen were in the process of setting a public hearing on annexation when they discovered that deeding of the park sites to the city had not been included in the annexation provisions.

"Perhaps the (annexation) petitions should be withdrawn and we should start again—this time including all the provisions," Councilman Fred Jensen declared.

They referred the problem to the city attorney and city manager for a report at the next council meeting on Monday.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said today he believes that the lands will go to the city if the territory is annexed. If part of the district is not in the annexed territory, it may be difficult to obtain the sites, he added.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the act under which the recreational district was established provides for its continued existence even if the area is annexed.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, who returned yesterday from a meeting of the National Municipal League in Phoenix, Ariz., and was not present at last week's council meeting, said he wanted more information of the problem before he made any decision.

Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby declared the city should go ahead with an annexation election. He said residents would

Judge Brusatori Comfortable, Resting Today

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori was resting comfortably in good condition in San Rafael General Hospital today after suffering what appeared to be a heart attack.

The 58-year-old jurist staggered from his chambers at 1:35 yesterday afternoon, clutching his head. He was helped to a couch in the chambers of Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., and given emergency treatment until an ambulance arrived.

Brusatori had been alone in his chambers during a recess in the trial of two San Quentin Prison inmates on perversion charges.

His doctor, Rolla B. Hess, today issued a statement that there is no definite evidence as to what sort of attack is involved.

The judge was given oxygen overnight, but it was discontinued this morning.

Transit Strike End Ordered

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A superior court judge today gave eight leaders of a striking mechanics union until Sunday midnight to call off a metropolitan transit strike or face contempt of court proceedings.

The strike began yesterday after attorneys for the Amalgamated Transportation Union held a temporary injunction against the strike was illegal.

E STREET SITE

Some Favor School For New City Hall

This is the last of four stories on San Rafael's city hall problems, and what proposals have been made for dealing with it.)

By JOHN CHAMBERS

San Rafael city employees may be working in classrooms if the city buys the E Street School as a city hall site.

It is one of the three sites being considered by the city council, which is undecided whether to remodel or build a new city hall.

The San Rafael Board of Education has indicated it may sell the school property on E Street between Second and Fourth Streets within a year. Deed to the school is being held by the state while the school district finishes paying off a one-million-dollar loan.

Advantages of the E Street School as a city hall site according to a 1956 report made by John Blayney, then city planner, include his estimation that 25,000 square feet of floor space could be bought for the same cost as 12,000 square feet at Albert Field.

Blayney said the school

Mrs. Fairhurst, Oldest Marinite, Dies At 106

Mrs. Mary Ellen Fairhurst, Marin County's oldest resident, died yesterday in San Rafael at the age of 106.

Born in Dublin, Ireland, on June 24, 1854, six years before the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln as president of the United States, Mrs. Fairhurst had lived in San Rafael for the past six years. She outlived her late husband, Jackson Fairhurst, whom she married in Liverpool, England, in 1890, by 33 years.

The couple emigrated to the United States on the day they were married, settling in Park City, Utah. From there, in 1901, they traveled to Seattle, and in 1912 took up residence in Tacoma. It was there her husband died in 1927. He was a partner in the wholesale drygoods firm of Warren-Soule-Fairhurst Co.

Her sons, A. W. and C. J. Fairhurst, and a grandson, John, are owners of the Fairhurst Lumber Co. in San Rafael. She is also survived by five other grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Death came in a San Rafael rest home, the result of advanced age. Until a short time before her death she enjoyed "excellent" health, according to her son, C. J. An avid reader, she followed the daily newspapers until last Monday.

The Fairhursts' choice of their first American home came as the result of a chance meeting on the ship which brought them from England.

They had sailed for America three hours after their wedding ceremony with no particular destination in mind. During the trip they met a young man who was the head of a group of building would eliminate drainage of foundation problems and that locating a city hall there would help improve the character of the surrounding area.

CITY HALL OF FUTURE?—The E Street School is expected to be put on the market by the San Rafael Elementary School District next year. Its basement already houses three departments of city government, and at one city councilman believes the building could be converted into a city hall. (Independent-Journal photo)

CITY HALL

Councilman David Menary Jr., who favors remodeling the school as a city hall, said it would enable the city to extend Third Street through to Second Street.

"There is plenty of room on the site," Menary said. "We could remodel the building, and provide landscaping and parking."

He said he thought the job could be done for $200,000 if the present city hall and site were sold.

Blayney said the main disadvantage of using the site for a city hall is commercial. There are very few two-acre sites under one ownership near the center of the city, he said. That makes the site desirable for business use which would bring an increased tax revenue.

An unofficial appraisal of the land, made for the school district in 1954, was about $400,000. The building itself would not be adaptable for commercial use, Blayney said.

Blayney said that nearly all residential development in the area of the school is obsolete so the city might combine city hall development with a federally aided urban redevelopment program.

Most councilmen said they think the city hall—regardless of location—could be paid for in cash. They estimated $250,000 for the sale of the old city hall and site. The remainder, which they guessed would be between $200,000 and $300,000, could be paid out of budget money at $100,000 a year, they said.

Blayney, however, recommended either a bond issue (which would require a two-thirds vote of the electorate) or a lease-purchase agreement under which the cty would lease the proposed site property to a private investor who would construct a city hall according to city plans. The city would then lease the building and gain title to it at the end of a lease period.

'Jubilee Jackpot' Cash Prize Given In Mill Valley

Approximately 200 persons attended the drawing, which took place in the Locust district as well as at the city parking lot near the bus depot. Other winners were given merchandise orders as well as turkeys and hams, chairman Don Chapman said.

Novato Chamber, Council Review Business Law

In a series of early morning meetings, a committee appointed by the city council and a chamber committee have exchanged views on proposed ordinances.

Probable outcome is a flat rate license fee plus $2 for each employee, excluding the first employee.

A meeting at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow in the chamber offices may conclude recommendations from both sides and send the ordinance to the city council for action.

Ross Fire Chief, Wife Wed 25 Years

"We just had a quiet day together," he said today. "We took a drive since it was such a nice day, went out and looked over the county and enjoyed the beautiful scenery."

Asked for the secret of a long, successful marriage, Chief Henrich says, "Well, we were married by State Sen. Burt Bush, and my wife's boss at the time was the Ukiah district attorney, and they both said I'd never be able to get a divorce up there," he smiled. "Now that I'm getting used to it, I guess I'm good for another 25 years."

Henrich was a fireman in Ukiah at the time. In 1942, he became assistant chief of the fire force at Marinship in Sausalito.

He was appointed chief of the Ross department in 1944.

Youth Sets Fire In County Jail

An 18-year-old youth in Marin County Jail ignited a newspaper "to keep warm" about 11 o'clock last night and set off a fire scare.

Sheriff's Deputy Edward Klementovich and Jailer Newall Snyder said they smelled something burning and spotted smoke pouring out of the juvenile cell where six boys were sleeping.

When they entered, Robert Collins, 18, of Hermosa Beach explained he was just trying to keep warm. He is in jail on suspicion of assault, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace.

The other five occupants were all asleep in their bunks, the jailers reported.

Cars On Way To School Collide, Three Injured

Two cars, both en route to school, collided at a Marinwood intersection this morning, sending a 6-year-old girl and two other persons to Marin General Hospital.

The accident happened shortly after 8 a.m. at Miller Creek and Las Gallinas Roads. According to California Highway Patrolman John Courter, drivers of both cars said they did not see the other approaching.

Injured were Mrs. Joyce M. Roncevic, 39, of 463 Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, driver of one of the cars, and her daughter, Michele, 6. Michele suffered contusions of the face and a fractured nose. Extent of her mother's injuries had not been determined. She is employed as a nurse at Marin General Hospital.

Driver of the other car was Daniel Naughton, 18, of 158 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, a student at College of Marin.

He was treated for multiple abrasions and contusions of the face and transferred to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Naughton's car turned completely over and landed on its wheels, according to Officer Courter. The cars were apparently not exceeding the speed limit, the officer said.

Judge Wright set a hearing tomorrow for the school board's motion that he vacate his integration order and let New Orleans schools be separate but equal.

The board, whose offices were the target of a yelling mob that police had to quell with fire hoses yesterday, said it was tired of letting the schools be a "battleground for the fight between state and federal rights."

The board said its action "should in no way be construed . . . as an abdication of our stand for a continuance of our public education system."

The school board has fought strenuously against state laws designed to close down public education rather than integrate it.

"Contrary to the charges of our critics, we contend now, as we have in the past, that we believe in and have fought for segregated schools. However, we do not now believe in and never have stood for sacrificing our system of public education," the board said.

Its motion said the board found itself "entangled in a legal struggle between the legislature of the State of Louisiana on the one hand and the United States judiciary on the other."

It asked that the board be "allowed to operate the schools of this parish on the traditionally segregated basis, pending a final decision . . . concerning the sovereignty of the State of Louisiana as opposed to the sovereignty of the United States of America."

Tunzi was last seen alive Tuesday morning. When he failed to go to the Marshall post office for his mail, Bruce Laughlin went to Tunzi's home this morning and found him dead in the bathroom, dressed in his bathrobe. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Tunzi may have been dead about two days.

An autopsy was to be performed today at the Parent Funeral Home.

SOME OF THE 32 BOWLING WAYS AT NAVE LANES

Here is the shining interior of part of Nave Lanes, Ignacio. The theme is on bowling, but there is a fine dining room, an excellent kitchen, and there are locker rooms and a baby-sitting service. There are automatic pinsetters. Lanes cost about $15,000 each.

Nave Lanes: Fine For Sport, Food

Nave Lanes will offer the finest to the sportsman or diner—all in a Roman setting.

The building on highway 101 south of Novato, has the smoothly rounded lines of the jet age. But its theme is as old as Rome.

William Nave Sr., sons Bob, Rich and Bill Jr., wanted something different.

Walk through the main entrance, and you'll find the corridors move you with curved walls toward the alleys, dining room or billiard room.

Starting from one side of the building, a tour would show you the billiard room, with its five tables. Doors open onto a small patio with its green plants. Nearby is the locker room with 250 lockers.

The 32 lanes are of shining maple for the first 16 feet and the approach, hardwood which will take punishment.

The lanes cost about $15,000 each to construct, with another $800,000 in equipment.

"Please tag your child and his diaper bag" is the sign near the entrance to the nursery, regularly staffed during the day for Nave lanes visitors. Cribs, a patio, toys, cork pin up boards, small tables and chairs complete the nursery. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from noon to 5 p.m.

The dining room, "Nero's," seats 75 persons, in addition to 30 in the atrium, or patio outside the half circle of the room.

"Caesar's Den," off the dining room, can provide cocktails before the glowing brazier in the fireplace. Five bas relief by San Francisco artist Michael Von Meyer carry through the Roman theme by depicting a gladiator and charioteer.

Architect Provided Everything

"The Naves wanted everything to blend and to be beautiful and for people to be comfortable," architect Gordon Phillips says.

But they also wanted something "different" he explains. So from Phillips' San Rafael office came a building design modeled after the "romantic Roman" period, with curving forms and hues intrinsic in the building materials softening both exterior and interior lines of the huge building.

The classical barrel vault of the Romans, the continuous rounded form of it, suggest the lines of the building, Phillips explains, a building in which there are few square or sharp corners.

Admittedly the curved form was more work to design, but the result is a "more delightful building," Phillips believes. Construction costs were kept down by using the natural color and surface of concrete bricks, ceramic tile, tinted plaster for the interior finish—"an integral surface and building material."

The entire building, from design to furniture, landscaping and furniture design and color was worked out with Phillips, his staff and the Naves, in an attempt to blend structure and fittings.

Automatic Pinsetters Really Make Eyes Pop

Bowlers and non-bowling visitors alike gape in amazement when touring the innards of Nave Lanes, particularly at the automatic pinsetters.

The man responsible for their dependable daily operation is a long-time Marin County resident, Mario Lattuada. Mario worked for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad for 36 years as a machinist.

He was born in Italy and came to the United States with his mother in 1913 and has lived in San Rafael since 1924. Mario is mechanical superintendent of the lanes.

The responsibility entails more than the automatic pinsetters or "monsters" as they are frequently called. He must service the heating and air conditioning units, the Brunswick Cluster ball returns, and the Tel-E-Scope desk units.

Ben Fujihara Presides Over Nave Lanes Kitchen, Menu

Ben was born in Sacramento.

His early training in the culinary arts was at the noted Senator Hotel under a famous chef, Alfred Bohn, who also achieved renown at San Francisco's Palace Hotel.

Much of Fujihara's apprenticeship was served at a well-known hostelry, the Hotel Cleveland, in Ohio. As is customary, Ben served as pantryman, fry cook, second cook, and ultimately as chef. A Novato resident, Ben is married and the father of three children.

He has received recognition with awards for his decorative ability in serving buffets. Since the Nave Lanes dining room, known as "Nero's," has opened, Ben has received numerous plaudits for his food.

Coffey's In Charge Of Evening Desk

John, born in Bozeman, Mont., moved to Marin county in 1926 and was a four-star athlete at Tamalpais High.

Later, finishing his schooling at Montana State College, John served in the Air Corps and began his bowling experience at posts in Enid, Oklahoma, and other military installations during his service hitch. He attained the high average of 197 when bowling in some of the squadron leagues.

Evening league play at Nave Lanes is under John's supervision, who when pressed, settles some of the disputes inevitable under the fire of hot competition in some of the scratch leagues.

The jocularity with which John Coffey greets bowlers is not a forced gesture. He is a friendly guy to begin with. His experience at numerous Bay Area and northern California bowling centers stands him in good stead while presiding over the desk at Nave Lanes.

John served for many years with the well known Guardsmen Tournament at the Marina Bowl in San Francisco. Coffey is single and lives in San Rafael.

Jackie Vallee Is Desk Man, Grew Up With Naves

Jackie went through grade school with Richard Nave, played with him on the same San Rafael High School football team which won the 1946 lightweight championship, and served in the Marine Corps with Rich.

In his capacity as assistant manager, Jackie has helped in the formation of many of the 285 leagues now bowling at Nave Lanes. He is responsible each day for lining up the scoring sheets and reporting forms that are used by the league secretaries.

Name Of Nave Familiar In Marin For Decades

The Nave name has been a familiar one in Marin for decades.

William Nave Sr., who with his three sons built the new Nave lanes, is the eldest of five children of Peter Nave who came to Marin county in 1884. The family at that time lived in San Anselmo.

In 1890, on the site of what now is the Nave Lanes on highway 101 south of Novato, the Naves lived in an eight-room home on property which was part of the original Spanish land grant to the Pacheco family.

William Nave Sr. was for many years a cattle buyer and today reminisces about running more than 800 head of cattle on the hills now covered with houses of the Loma Verde subdivision and the Marin Golf and Country Club. At one time, the Naves also operated a small country slaughterhouse.

William Nave Sr. served for 15 years as deputy county assessor under county assessor George Hall. He operated the first cab service in the county. In those years, Nave recalls, they were called "jitneys." He also operated the first garage in north Marin.

Bill Nave served in 1933 and 1934 as Federal Loan Bank Commissioner for Marin and was responsible for loaning more than a million dollars in those years, chiefly to ranchers in the North Marin rural areas.

Bill Sr. is president of the Nave Shopping Center in Novato and is joined by his three sons in the center and in the uniquely designed bowling center.

The eldest of the three sons, Bill Jr. served in the Naval Air Corps as a tail gunner in a torpedo bomber. Bill Jr. and his brother Rich are certified bowling instructors.

Both Bill Jr. and Rich hold secondary teachers' credentials and are college graduates. They served as assistant coaches at San Rafael High School under Paul Miller.

Bill Jr., the oldest of the three brothers, attended the Brunswick management school. Richard Nave served in the Marine Corps and is the youngest of the brothers.

Bob Nave performed an almost impossible job during the construction of the bowling center by keeping everything running on schedule. Bill Nave Sr. insists that Bob knows where every nail is, every wire and could probably tear into the concrete floor at the precise point where a pipe joint is sought. Bob saw service as a paratrooper with the famous 11th Airborne Division.

All three brothers are married; all live in San Rafael.

Bill Gerton Is Leagues Helper

Bill is coordinator of leagues and is active in league recruitment. He has been an avid bowler since 1929.

Bill went to school in nearby Sebastapol and during his military career saw service in almost all parts of the world, including Africa, the Philippines, the Orient and Europe.

Caesar's Den Managed By Amonini

Ray is a handsome, smiling, prematurely gray young man born in San Francisco. He has lived in Marin for eight years.

Ray attracts former customers and newcomers alike with his ability behind the bar and his genuine friendliness. He is widely known through his former co-ownership with Don Pareglio of the Brick Lodge, now San Rafael Joe's.

Amonini candidly admits that he is an indifferent bowler but says he is a better than average golfer, playing in Marin and at the Sonoma Country Club.

He has competed in the annual Barmaster's competition and is working on a couple of new ideas: tentative titles are "Pinsetter's Poison" and "Alley Fever."

U.S. To Reduce GI Families Overseas, Cut Spending To Curb Flow Of Dollars

Ike's 7-Point Program Expected To Squeeze Back Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will seek to slow the flight of dollars and gold abroad by drastically cutting its foreign spending and reducing the number of servicemen's families overseas.

The seven-point program, announced by President Eisenhower, was expected to cut U.S. spending in foreign countries by slightly more than one billion dollars a year, substantially improving the problem of America's international payments deficit.

In addition to reducing the number of servicemen's dependents abroad from 484,000 to 200,000, the plan bars the purchase of foreign goods by military post exchanges, orders foreign aid administrators to "buy American" and seeks new ways to increase American exports.

Eisenhower announced the program yesterday at a hastily called news conference in Augusta. The U.S. international payments deficit means, in simple terms, that this country is spending more overseas than it is making overseas. This deficit, which has been steadily draining U.S. gold reserves, is likely to exceed three billion dollars this year.

Defense and Treasury Department spokesman doubted that the measures would significantly damage the economies of foreign counties, even those of West Germany and Japan where the impact will be greatest.

Military sources expressed fear that the curb on servicemen's families abroad would hurt morale, although Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates said he did not think the order would harm the spirit of American troops overseas.

"I think our people are accustomed to sacrifice," he said. Military persons traditionally have been separated from their families, he added, and they would accept the presidential order.

Eisenhower said, "Of course, it's a most unhappy occasion." He said servicemen's tours of duty overseas might be shortened to compensate for the absence of their families.

Defense Department officials said the 284,000 reduction in dependents would be accomplished gradually, mostly by stopping the movement of families abroad rather than by bringing back wives and children immediately.

The normal return of families at the end of servicemen's overseas tours eventually would reduce the number of dependents abroad to the 200,000 limit. Eisenhower ordered a 15,000-per-month rate of reduction.

Officials said some dependents would continue to be sent overseas while some might be brought home a month or two earlier than their scheduled rotation.

Troops who still will be permitted to take their wives and children abroad may have to serve longer overseas, officials said. Their duty period may be extended from three years to four years.

On the other hand, unaccompanied men may get shorter hitches, possibly only 13 months instead of the current 18 months.

Berlin and Okinawa may be exemtped. They are considered special cases because of their importance to the defense of the free world, which would require the highest morale among the troops stationed there, and because of the importance of the dollar to their economies.

Defense Department spokesmen estimated that the dependent restriction would save 300 million to 500 million dollars annually, after a three-year reduction period.

Treasury Department officials estimated that the International Cooperation Administration, the principle agency for distributing foreign aid, would save about 333 million dollars in its part of the president's deficit-cutting program.

Eisenhower said the program was needed to avoid any inflationary spiral or run on the dollar.

The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that the loss of gold and dollars rose during July, August and September to the highest level of the year. It estimated the outflow hit an annual rate of 4.3 billion dollars which is an increase of 2.9 billion over the preceding three months.

The Cleveland Indians released coaches Ralph Kress and Ed FitzGerald when the baseball season closed.

SOCIAL SECRETARY—Miss Letitia (Tish) K. Baldrige, a school days friend of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, has been appointed new White House social secretary by the wife of the president-elect. Sir Winston 'Cheeful,' Despite Pain

His wife, Clementine spent hours at his bedside and the word last night was that his indomitable spirit was high.

The bone damage nevertheless was causing him pain and he has been advised to lie as still as possible.

Prof. H. J. Seddon, a specialist on spinal injuries who examined Churchill, said: "There is nothing to worry about.

"Sir Winston may be in bed for a few weeks, or perhaps only a few days. Great care must be taken when people of his age are injured."

JOHN DALY QUITS

Hagerty Won't Talk On Network Position

NEW YORK (AP) — White House press secretary James C. Hagerty has refused to confirm or deny reports he will take over as vice president in charge of the American Broadcasting Company's news and public affairs department.

Officially, ABC would make no comment on reports that Hagerty would take over Daly's position after his duties end with the Eisenhower administration.

At President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., Hagerty said only: "When I have any announcement about my future plans, I'll let you know."

Daly, a top executive with ABC the past seven years, submitted his resignation to be effective in one month: His role as moderator of the Columbia Broadcasting System's "What's My Line?" will not be affected.

Daly said he was quitting ABC because of a "fundamental difference on policy" with ABC president Leonard Goldenson.

ABC said only that Daly's resignation has been accepted and announced the temporary appointment of Thomas Velotta, vice president in charge of special affairs for the ABC news and public affairs department.

Daly was said to have opposed the showing by ABC of a "Bugs Bunny" film and "The Rifleman" early on election night while other networks were concentrating on election returns.

Daly's yearly income from all his broadcasting activities has been estimated in industry circles at about $250,000. The same sources indicated his job as ABC vice president earned him around $50,000 annually.

Mr. And Mrs. Ruling

NEW YORK (UPI)—A recent court decision allows tax deduction of expenses for wives who accompany husbands on business trips.

The ruling in the U.S. Fifth Court of Appeals, was based on statements that such trips educated the wife about her mate's business. The new look at his business was said to enlarge her contribution to his success. Time will tell if the ruling's upheld.

Women were first admitted to Democratic primaries in Arkansas in 1918.

Deer Hunting Lures Kennedy In Texas Visit

The president-elect and vice president-elect left Johnson's LBJ Ranch at 6:55 a.m., and drove off in raw, cold weather.

ARRIVED LAST NIGHT

Kennedy arrived at the ranch last night a few hours after the opening of the deer season in Texas.

Johnson was at the wheel as his white limousine drove out the ranch gate and headed east toward one of Johnson's favorite hunting sites.

BRIEF TOUR

Later in the day House Speaker Sam Rayburn planned to travel from his home at Bonham, Tex., to join with Kennedy and Johnson in talks mapping the executive branch switch of power from Republican hands in January.

Still later today, Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, and perhaps other Democrat leaders of the state are expected to be on hand for a round of socializing before Kennedy starts back to Palm Beach.

There was no definite advance word on whether Kennedy and Johnson would hold a news conference or put out a statement on their discussions at the end of the day.

It was the first time Kennedy and Johnson had met since their election victory last week over Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Johnson, casually informal in Western clothes from 10-gallon hat to Texas boots, was waiting alongside the plane when the door swung open. He and his wife, Lady Bird, went aboard and exchanged first greetings with Kennedy there.

Johnson then led his guest to a nearby hangar and introduced him to rancher Simon Burg, representing the nearby village of Stonewall, population 200.

Burg told Kennedy that people of his community were proud and happy about the election outcome.

"We want to wish you a lot of luck and congratulate you on the way you conducted your campaign," Burg said.

Then he presented a 10-gallon hat to the president-elect who held it gingerly—a bit incongruously in his pin-striped business suit — and smilingly but firmly rejected the pleas of photographers that he put it on.

"I'll wear it tomorrow morning," Kennedy promised. "We'll have an unveiling then."

Terra Linda Bond Issue Session Set

Size of the bond issue and date of the election will be decided at the meeting at 8 p.m. in the Bernard Hoffman School.

This was the unanimous decision of the five-man board last night. It followed a three-week delay during which the board first decided to write its own bond issue resolution, but later reneged and turned it over to the county counsel.

DEFEAT LAST YEAR

Following the defeat of a $350,000 recreation bond issue by 66 votes in September, 1959, a recreation steering committee of the Terra Linda Community Services District recommended a $220,000 issue as the highest chance of passing.

Directors last night examined preliminary plans for the recreational development of the Del Ganado and Oleander park sites submitted by San Francisco architects Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes (who worked on the last bond issue).

Plans call for major development at Del Ganado rather than at both parks as in the defeated plan, board chairman Walter J. Fairweather said.

RECREATION BUILDING

Included are purchasing and remodeling of a community recreation building at 650 Del Ganado Road and addition of an L-shaped meeting room to the structure, a swimming pool, and playground facilities for elementary and pre-school children.

The recreation steering commitete said a children's playground would add about $24,000 to the bond issue.

Planned for Oleander Park are planting and landscaping.

Terra Linda Unit Asks For Bomb Shelter Fund

Terra Linda applied last night for federal funds to build a bomb shelter.

The application was made to William W Ward, head of the California Disaster Office in Walnut Creek.

"We feel that Terra Linda is qualified to participate in the bomb shelter program of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization," Johnson declared. He was appointed coordinator by the services district board on Sept. 21.

With a population of 7,000, Terra Linda doesn't have an adequate concrete or brick building to serve as shelter in an emergency, Johnson said. In addition there is only one exit road to Highwaly 101 and it would probably become impassable, the coordinator added.

Johnson said he had no idea of the size or cost of a bomb shelter for Terra Linda, but thought it could be located on one of the park sites.

In other action last night, the services district directors authorized Fire Commissioner Richard Flaherty to buy 2,000 telephone stickers containing the fire department's number and distribute them to residents. He was given $30 to do it.

HAPPY NOTE

'Other Man' In Belvedere Divorce Case Now Gone

The "other man" in the lives of Belvedere attorney Carl Edwin Hoppe and his estranged wife, Marjorie, has left California, leaving the Hoppe household in a much improved state.

With this happy note, Hoppe today stipulated that his wife could continue to live in their home at 101 Belvedere Avenue with custody of their two children, pending arguments in the main divorce proceedings.

"It appears Mrs. Hoppe has regained her emotional stability . . . and has conducted herself in an unusually exemplary manner," Hoppe's attorney, Richard V. Bettini, reported to Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Bettini said he understands that the "other man" Norwegian inventor Gunnar Frenger, 54, has left the state.

Mrs. Hoppe, 41, filed for divorce on Nov. 1, charging cruelty. Hoppe, 42, charged that house guest Frenger had stolen his wife's affections in about two weeks time.

Now, with Frenger gone, Hoppe said he has no objection to Mrs. Hoppe's living at the home and having custody of the children.

Jerome Duffy, Mrs. Hoppe's attorney, declared he would accept that stipulation on condition that Hoppe stays away from the main house and does not harrass or argue with his wife.

Hoppe said he was willing to keep his law books in the beach house so he would not have to bother her when he comes in for papers and books.

Under this truce arrangement, the rest of the divorce proceedings are continuing in Marin Superior Court. Mrs. Hoppe is asking for $1,145 per month support for herself and her children.

She testified that house payments and taxes alone come to about $350 per month.

Only Talk

He had been told that a male voice was heard in the housewife's home at night. As the census taker was about to leave the housewife's home, a masculine voice boomed from the kitchen. "Breakfast is ready, honey." "My parakeet," explained the woman.

Two Airmen Hurt As Car Strikes Auto

Two airmen were hurt by driving into a disabled car parked beside Highway 101 in the Terra Linda area at 1 a.m. today.

A/2c Laurence A. Church, 19, of Covina, who is with the 78th Civil Engineers at Hamilton Air Force Base, later told the California Highway Patrol that he had been driving north at 60 to 65 miles an hour, slowed to 50 or 55 for a construction zone, and braked too late when he saw a car ahead. The stationary car was parked on the road shoulder, officers said.

Church and his companion, John V. Dial, 17, also of the 78th Civil Engineers, were taken to San Rafael General Hospital and later transferred to the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Dial had a cut over his right eye and Church had a cut right middle finger, complained of chest pain, and bled from the mouth. Both men were released after treatment, hospital attendants said.

The driver of the stationary car was Ronnie Dale Wright, 17, of 592 Woodbine Drive, San Rafael. He told the patrol he had engine ignition trouble and parked on the shoulder, fixing his emergency brake and with tail lights on.

Patrolmen Charles Heart and Richard De Marco recommended an engineering survey by the state Department of Highways with a view to posting lower speeds while construction was under way in the Terra Linda area, suggesting 45 miles an hour.

Strawberry Asks More Information For Bond Issue

Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District last night decided that much more information is needed before another bond issue is planned to raise money for recreational activities.

Mrs. James W. Gowen, secretary, said that the trustees also felt a bond issue might not be needed.

Strawberry resident James Allroggen said response to a letter to other citizens asking for community volunteer help on recreational facilities has been very encouraging.

The board, Mrs. Gowen said, feels that the five-acre area must first be graded and it will look into seeing how this can be done and at what cost.

Chicago Matrons' Killings Confessed

OTTAWA, Ill. (UPI)—A muscular former bus boy with a record of sex offenses today confessed he beat to death three Chicago matrons in a lonely, snow-covered canyon in nearby Starved Rock State Park last March.

The state's attorney's office said Chester Otto Weger, 23, a former bus boy at the park, calmly admitted the triple killings after several hours of questioning.

Authorities said he showed "no remorse and a complete lack of emotion" as he told them how he killed Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47; Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, all wives of Chicago business and civic leaders.

La Salle County State's Attorney Harland Warren said he would take Weger to the park for a re-enactment of the crime. A special session of the grand jury was called for this afternoon to consider indictments.

Weger, a short but muscular blond-haired father of two, was charged early today with 11 crimes, including the three killings in Starved Rock.

Assistant State's Attorney Peter Feracutti said Weger was also charged before Justice Goetch with raping a 17-year-old girl, robbery, assault with a deadly weapon and other crimes.

In his oral confession to Feracutti, Weger said he met the three women while out on an afternoon break from his bus boy job in the park lodge.

Weger told authorities the three women were just emerging from the canyon when he accosted them. He said he told the women he intended to rob them and a struggle began.

Weger, who described the killings as a "robbery that got out of hand," said he dragged two of the women to a tree and tied them to it. He said when Mrs. Murphy continued to fight back, he hit her with a tree branch and then beat the other two women.

The cord that he used to bind them was one of the factors that helped tie Weger to the crime. It was the same type used in the kitchen at the Starved Rock State Park Lodge, where Weger worked. He quit his job a few days after the killings.

He told police Mrs. Murphy regained consciousness for a time and he struck her again. He then carried the three women into a canyon cave about 200 yards away. He said he took them into the cave because he heard a plane overhead and wanted to get them out of sight.

He laid the bodies in a neat row, he said, and then searched their purses for money. He neglected to take the jewelry and rings they were wearing, however.

COP Gets $1,900 For Marine Study

A $1,900 grant has been awarded to College of the Pacific for basic research on marine bottom communities and sediments of Tomales Bay.

The grant was made by the National Science Foundation and research will be conducted by David H. Mertes, zoology instructor at the college and a research associate at the college's Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach.

Selected Stockton College and Pacific students will form a research team to study the seasonal cycle of reproductive and alimentary activities of worms and other animal life found in the bay.

Warning Signals Cited In Gas Tax Slowdown

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston warned today of a possible slowdown in the multi-million-dollar flow of state gasoline taxes which have built California's road system.

He cited two warning signals: the trend toward smaller cars which use less gas and the laboratory experiments that could make gasoline engines obsolete.

"The omens are there and those of us in state and local government in California cannot ignore them," Cranston said in a talk prepared for the annual meeting of the County Supervisors Assn.

"Fuel taxes have been the principal financial support of California's highways, streets and roads since 1923, and any factors that might diminish governmental income from these sources are certain to cause some headaches in the centers of state and local government."

While gas taxes will produce a half-billion dollars in the current fiscal year and more than a three-quarter billion by 1970, he said, it may only be because of an added number of cars on the highway.

"Whether the greater volume of vehicles will be enough to offset the anticipated pre-vehicle decline in fuel consumption is something on which we can only speculate at present," Cranston added.

National estimates, he said, note that if the trend to smaller cars continues, fuel tax revenues nationwide will fall 548 million dollars short of estimates by 1964.

Seizure Claims Clark Gable; 'Hollywood King' 30 Years

COMBINED AP & UPI

HOLLYWOOD—Clark Gable, the "king" of Hollywood, died of a heart attack late last night in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital as his wife rushed to his side. He was 59.

His wife, Kay, expecting their first child early next year, was alerted in her room across the hall next to Gable's where she was sleeping when the fatal seizure came.

She dashed to his side, but he did not speak, and minutes later he was officially pronounced dead despite attempts to revive him.

Only minutes earlier he had been sitting up in bed, cleanly shaven, and chatting with a nurse. He had dinner last night with his wife in his room.

Mrs. Gable, who also suffers from a heart ailment, had been staying in the hospital to be close with her husband since he suffered his first attack and was taken there Nov. 6.

Mrs. Gable cried loudly with grief after his death about 11 p.m.

"He suffered no pain," said hospital administrator B. J. Caldwell. "He died instantly."

The strapping he-man with the big grin and big ears was one of the greatest movie idols the world has ever known from the time he became a star in the early 1930s.

Gable's fatal attack came after he had appeared to be on the road to recovery.

Born in Cadiz, Ohio, on Feb. 1, 1901, Gable's film career included an Academy Award-winning performance in "It Happened One Night" in 1934 and tremendous success in such other movies as "Gone With the Wind" and "Mutiny On the Bounty."

He was married five times. His matrimonial record, like his many mediocre movies, was seldom criticized because of his friendly, honest and clean manner.

The world mourned with him in 1942 when his third wife, Carole Lombard, plunged to her death in a plane crash on her return to Hollywood from a war bond rally.

Gable was known as a loner. Despite brash movie roles, the actor was a bashful man, and nervous in crowds.

His favorite pastimes were hunting and fishing.

On the screen, he made women swoon in the days before anyone ever heard of bobby-soxers. He said he had received 5,000 marriage proposals by mail.

"They almost always enclose a picture," he said. "And let me tell you, the toughest job a man ever had is saying 'No'—politely—to 5,000 women."

In a career of 90 pictures, Gable portrayed a man's man, adored by women. Tall, broad-shouldered, husky, he was trade-marked by jug ears—initially they almost blocked his career—and a crackling, staccato voice with a recognizable note of authority.

His phenomenal appeal to both sexes was as versatile as it was durable.

He was a frontiersman in "Call of the Wild," a sailor in Mutiny on the Bounty," a gambler in "San Francisco," a gangster in "Manhattan Melodrama," a daredevil in "Test Pilot," an oil man in "Boom Town."

When time came to cast one of the most male of American fictional heroes—Rhett Butler in "Gone With the Wind"—no one but Gable was seriously considered. It was the greatest money-making film of all time.

His favorite role was that of a newspaperman with Claudette Colbert in "It Happened One Night." The romantic comedy, made when he was on loan to Columbia Pictures, swept the Academy Awards, one Oscar going to Gable. It got him out of a career rut of playing mostly heavies.

Gable was the son of a farmer-oil field worker, and worked in an Akron rubber factory when he was in his teens.

At 19, he joined a touring theatrical troupe at $10 a week and later, in the Northwest, lumberjacked and sold neckties in a department store. Stage roles and movie parts came next.

Early in World War II Gable, then 41, enlisted in the Army and became a $66-a-month corporal in the Army Air Forces officer's candidate school at Miami Beach. Later he was commissioned a second lieutenant and won his wings as a gunner.

He formed a photographic unit, went to England, was made a captain and won the Air Medal for "exceptionally meritorious achievement" in five combat bomber missions. The citation mentioned his "courage, coolness and skill."

The first of Gable's five wives was Josephine Dillon, a dramatic coach 17 years his senior. The second was Maria Langham, a Houston socialite also older than he; the third, Carole Lombard; the fourth, Lady Sylvia Ashley, once the wife of Douglas Fairbanks Sr.

In 1955, he married Kay Williams Spreckels, a then 37-year-old divorcee who had been married three time previously and had two children by sugar heir Spreckels. His wife is his only survivor.

HAD MAGIC QUALITY

Film Personalities Were Devoted To Him

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "The king is dead . . ."

That was the feeling in movie-town today with the passing of jug-eared Clark Gable, the most virile he-man who ever brawled and loved his way across the silver screen.

Gable stood alone and apart from a community populated with inflated egos. No matter the factions, petty feuds and gossip that swirled around "King Clark, he was much-beloved by those who knew him. He had no enemies.

His last co-star, Marilyn Monroe, typified Hollywood's regard for the man early this month when she completed work with him.

"Clark, I found out, is a real king. It was an honor working with him," she said on the final day of shooting "The Misfits."

This feeling for the big guy penetrated throughout the industry. Grips, cameramen, electricians and all the others who help make movies were devoted to him.

To everyone who approached him, Clark flashed his warm grin. He gave you the feeling that at that particular moment you were the most important person he knew.

And it was sincere.

Gable exuded masculinity. In his presence women became more feminine and men experienced a rare camaraderie. It was a magical quality about which he seemed entirely unaware.

While other stars complained about lighting, unflattering camera angles and battled with directors, Gable held his peace.

He believed an actor should take direction and leave the script and technical supervision in the hands of the professionals.

If he found fault with costars and fellow workers he kept his thoughts to himself.

"This is a business, like any other," he once said. "I'm an actor, not a genius. I do what they tell me and it works out pretty well."

Gable cherished his private life and was devoted to his fifth wife, the former Kay Spreckels, and her two children.

He had no illusions about his age and decided last year to leave romantic young lovers to the likes of Rock Hudson. "My days of playing dashing young heroes is over," he said recently.

"I don't think the public likes older guys wooing leading ladies half their age. I don't like it myself. The actresses I started out with 30 years ago have long since quit playing glamour girls. Now it's time I acted my age—59 years old."

Clark first was called "king" during his marriage to Carole Lombard, when they were Hollywood's reigning couple.

The "king" soubriquet referred to his unequaled magnetism at the boxoffice. But with the years the nickname "king"—which amused him—was applied to Gable the actor, the gentleman, the warm human being.

The king is dead of a heart attack, and today Hollywood discovered there is no one to take his place. And the belief is that no one ever will.

OUT WITH FRILLS

Public Education Overhaul Asked

SANTE FE, N.M. (AP)—A drastic overhaul of public education, designed to raise the quality and eliminate the frills, was proposed today by a group of education experts.

ANNUAL MEETING

The proposals were made during the annual meeting of the Council of Chief State School Officers, an association of state commissioners and superintendents of schools.

Highlights of the prepared statements:

G. Bailey Price, executive secretary of the Conference Board of the Mathematical Sciences, told of a Yale experiment in which intuitive geometry is introduced in the fourth grade, vectors in the eleventh grade, and matrix algebra and probability and statistical inference in the twelfth grade.

START ALGEBRA

"Many schools now start algebra in the eighth grade instead of the ninth," he said. "Previously much time has been lost in the seventh and eighth grades in review and on too much drill on trivial social application of arithmetic."

Floyd Rinker of the College Entrance Examination Boards' Commission on English said the problem in his field is to bridge the gap between what is taught in high school and what is required in college.

Robert E. Henze of the American Chemical Society told of two experimental programs being taught to a small number of high school students. In one there is emphasis on "atomic and molecular structures of substances and the nature of chemical bonding between atoms."

George E. Smith of the Indiana State Department of Public Instruction called for a 10-year course in modern foreign languages, starting with all third grade pupils. Those who show aptitude and ability would continue the language through the twelfth grade.

Roy E. Simpson, superintendent of public instruction for California, reported on a survey of the social sciences program in that state. He said the committee agreed that non-academic subjects attached to the social studies, such as driver education and instruction in the ill effects of alcohol and narcotics, be removed.

Some school officials believe driver education should be part of the civics course, because it teaches respect for the law.

Simpson also said it was agreed that the eight academic disciplines which should make up the social studies program are geography, history, political science, economics, anthropology, psychology, sociology and philosophy.

Stabbing Still Mystery At Quentin

An investigation by the San Quentin Prison disciplinary board yesterday failed to uncover the reason behind a stabbing which sent Duane R. Hall, Marin County murderer, to the prison hospital in serious condition.

Hall was sentenced to a life term in 1953 for the murder of a Salinas man, whose body, punctured by screwdriver thrusts, was found on a slope of Mount Tamalpais. Hall was stabbed in the prison library yesterday morning by Stephen M. Eksala, a 20-year-old Contra Costa County robber, who used a table knife, stolen from the mess hall and honed into a razor sharpness, in the attack.

Hall was badly injured in the assault, but was expected to live. He has been working in the library for six and one-half years. Eksala was assigned to the library only last week. He arrived at the prison in May after a year in the reception center at Vacaville.

Eksala was given 29 days in isolation by the board and his case was turned over to the Marin County district attorney.

Curiosity Saves $$

Two men in one car got curious, however, and stopped to pick up the envelope. Inside was $300. They turned it over to police. The money was returned to Donald Cozzolino, a service station operator, who had placed the envelope on the roof of his car, forgot it and drove to the bank.

Auto Repairman Reports Theft Of Truck, Tools

Joseph Faustine, San Rafael auto repairman, worked in his shop for almost two hours yesterday before he discovered his truck and $4,000 worth of parts and tools were missing.

"I went outside to get something from the truck—and the whole thing was gone," Faustine said.

Faustine said the truck must have been missing when he arrived at the shop at 423 Francisco Boulevard about 8:30 a.m., but he didn't notice it until 10 a.m.

The 1953 truck contained $3,000 worth of tools and parts valued at $1,000 according to Faustine. It was insured, he added.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The threat of war hung over the Caribbean today, with President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes and other Guatemalan leaders calling for retribution if alleged Cuban interference in the Central American republic's internal affairs continued.

Ydigoras' government accused the Fidel Castro regime of "aiding and abetting" the latest abortive revolt in Guatemala, and threatened to bring charges against Cuba in the Organization of American States.

Nicaragus, which also has been the victim of a revolt that was put down this week, also accused Cuba of aiding the rebels. Guatemalan Foreign Minister Jesus Unda Murillo said that both Nicaragua and Guatemala would bring charges and prove to the OAS that Cuba had been instrumental in their respective revolts.

Costa Rica, which routed rebel guerilla troops who said they were en route to help in in the revolt against Nicaragua, was calm, still mourning the death of civil guard commander Col. Jose Monge, who was killed fighting the revolutionaries.

Ydigoras was backed up by Manuel Orellana, whose anti-Communist party is a major force in the Guatemalan congress. Orellana said he and his supporters would call for a declaration of war if the government could prove Cuba had a hand in the revolt.

Guatemalan leaders from Ydigoras down warned that Cuban aid allegedly given to the rebels could touch off a war between the two nations.

The warning sent Cuban government officials into hurried conference in Havana, without Castro, who was reported by his office to be "out of town." He was reported in touch with the situation by telephone.

Castro was having his own troubles.

Two-thirds of the members of his hand-picked supreme court were in hiding, trying to avoid the necessity of branding two fellow justices as "traitors."

Only 10 of the court's 30 members had signed a government-sponsored "declaration" denouncing Chief Justice Emilio Menendez and Associate Justice Jose Morell Romero who sought asylum in Latin American embassies Tuesday.

The other 20 were unavailable and had not signed. There was no indication that any of them would seek to leave the country, however.

Mobutu Parades Might

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu marshaled 5,000 of his troops for a march through Leopoldville today in a demonstration of his power over the Congo.

Officially the parade was in observance of Congolese dead of the two world wars but its size was aimed at showing the United Nations command, with which he has been feuding, that he still is in control.

A communique issued by the army strongman yesterday said the observance also would commemorate the installation of his ruling body of commissioners just two months ago.

RESULT OF LAWS

Jobless Insurance Cost Will Increase

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Unemployment insurance taxes are going to cost California businessmen more money in the next two years.

The Employment Department yesterday issued a memorandum outlining how two state measures and one federal law will affect employers' ledgers.

The legislature last year raised the unemployment insurance tax rate from a maximum of 2.7 per cent to a maximum of 3 per cent of taxable wages. The employer pays taxes on only $3,600 of the wages paid each employee.

The same legislature added a two-tenths of 1 per cent tax to take care of unemployment benefits during hard times.

Then Congress raised the employer contribution to the federal unemployment fund to four-tenths of 1 per cent. This begins in 1962.

Under the new state laws, the government figures employers' contributions on a scale ranging from a low of three-tenths per cent to the high of 3. per cent.

How much a businessman pays depends on the amount he has contributed to the state fund and the amount California has had to pay to his former workers.

One reason why employers will have to pay higher taxes is unemployment, particularly in the aircraft and construction industries. This cut down the money in the unemployment fund.

The additional tax to take care of hard times is for those who have exhausted regular unemployment payments.

Plane Halts Run As Birds Enter Engine

BOSTON (UPI)—An Eastern Air Lines DC-8, with 108 persons aboard, was forced to halt its takeoff run at Logan Airport today when birds were sucked into one of the engines.

Last Oct. 4 an Eastern Air Lines Electra crashed on takeoff at the same airport, killing 62 of 72 persons aboard. Some investigators have blamed birds for that disaster.

The airliner involved in today's incident was bound for Philadelphia and Miami, Fla. The craft was brought back to the terminal where mechanics cleaned out the dead birds. No damage to the airliner was evident. However, it was held at the airport for further inspection and the passengers were transferred to other flights.

Nixon Wins In Hawaii, But Recount Scheduled

Both parties have agreed to a recount, however, which could change the tally in either direction.

Democrats pointed out that two complete audits have turned up discrepancies in all but 22 of the state's 240 precincts. They were hopeful a third more complete count might bring a switch to Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The first audit changed apparent victory by Kennedy to a Nixon triumph by 96 votes. The second audit added 45 more votes to Nixon's margin. Present figures give Nixon 92,505 votes to 92,364 for Kennedy.

The Republican governor ran into immediate opposition from his own party's majority leader in the state senate and from state Democratic leaders. They objected not so much to tax relief for the taxpayers, but to the manner in which Rockefeller proposed to institute it.

Visa Renewal Denied

BERKELEY (UPI)—A 26-year-old Scot, only a semester away from obtaining his Ph.D. degree in physics, must leave the country by the end of the month mainly because he participated in demonstrations against the House Un-American Activities Committee.

John Robert Johnston of St. Andrews, a teaching associate in biophysics at the University of California at Berkeley, said yesterday the immigration service has refused to renew his visa.

Johnson said he had been picketing the committee outside San Francisco City Hall last May 13 at the time of the riot inside at which 64 persons were arrested. He was not arrested.

Korea Mob Quelled

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean national police today fired warning shots and tear gas to disperse 1,000 Yonsei University demonstrators demanding the release of 56 students arrested after a riotous attack on the homes of two American officials of the university.

The flareup against the American university officials climaxed a two-month dispute over the dismissal of three professors by the school board for alleged neglect of duties and other reasons.

TO CONSULT BROWN ACT

Larkspur Council Delays Action On Dinner Meetings

Larkspur city councilmen last night postponed a decision on holding dinner meetings until they get an opinion on whether such sessions would be legal under the Brown Act.

Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug suggested this type of meeting to give councilmen and department heads an opportunity to "get better acquainted." He invited the press to attend.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper asked if he could get City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner's opinion on the Brown Act in regard to a dinner meeting.

Sausalito has been holding such meetings, Mayor Storhaug said, and "the Independent-Journal has not said anything about it." (The Sausalito City Council meets for dinner before each regular meeting at the city hall; the dinner meetings are open to the press.)

"I'm not worried about the Independent-Journal," Piper replied. "All they can do is make a lot of noise."

Added Piper: "Personally I am no supporter of the Brown Act. It has hurt government more than it has helped it."

The Brown Act is a law governing meetings of public commissions, boards, councils and other agencies. It requires all meetings to be "open and public," and permits private sessions only to consider hiring and firing and to hear charges against employees.

Piper said that councilmen, for their own protection, ought to check with the attorney.

Councilman Lesly A. Daveler said he could not reconcile himself to the fact that what might be discussed at the dinner meeting would not be discussed in public. He felt there should be "full discussion" of matters, and the "only way to keep from being bored" was to hold such a discussion once. "I'm not in favor of the proposal," he said.

Mayor Storhaug said he didn't think at the dinner meetings that things would be discussed that were to come up at a meeting afterwards. But he added, "it wouldn't bother me if it were discussed twice."

Councilman Daniel Allen said that in certain cases he has differed with the Independent-Journal on its "diligence" in supporting the Brown Act. "It has complicated council's lives . . . but it is the law," he said.

Allen said it would be very valuable for councilmen to talk with department heads, "but I hesitate to start this thing. We have an approach by a local paper which seems to be overdiligent and hampers government. So I hesitate to start this."

Later Allen declared he objected "to the Independent-Journal sitting up there as God."

Councilman James T. Lienkaemper said the council has to view a meeting of this sort as a "work session . . . merely an effort to accomplish a certain amount of discussion necessary to get into the background of subjects which are complex. It's hard to get all the details in the heat of a busy meeting."

The mayor commented that he thought the Brown Act was good. "I don't see anything that violates it in a dinner meeting," he said.

Larkspur Given Plan To 'Stimulate Public'

Larkspur City Councilman James T. Lienkaemper last night offered his fellow council members a list of proposals intended to "stimulate greater public participation in Larkspur city government and thereby to improve council-community understanding."

Lienkaemper said the proposals were submitted to serve as a basis of discussion, with the idea that some policies might be developed in these areas.

He offered suggestions under three main headings: Improvement of communication, enhancing of the effectiveness of council meetings through public participation, and relation of council to commissions.

Highlights of Lienkaemper's proposals:

Establishment of a "complaint log" so that citizen complaints will be known to the council. He noted that regular administrative procedure could deal with most of the problems, but stressed that the council should be informed—perhaps through tabulation of the nature and extent of complaints.

Preparation of an advance agenda in newsworthy form and submitting it to the Independent-Journal and other news media enough in advance so that people would know in time to plan to attend if any items interest them. (Only the press was present for last night's session.)

Sending postcard notices to a certain portion of registered voters each month, in rotation, inviting them to attend the council meeting.

Calling on specially qualified citizens and/or outside experts to help in presentations.

Allotting time at meetings for group discussions and/or study of specific municipal topics.

Council should provide adequate direction to commissions by indicating problems it especially wants studied.

Special temporary citizens committees should be established to carry out specific studies.

Six Injured In Fighting Vehicle Fire

Three Sausalito and Marin City firemen and three citizen volunteers were injured yesterday while fighting fire in a semi-trailer truck which plunged off Waldo Grade near Rodeo Avenue.

Driver Joe Villareal Arrida told the highway patrol the brakes gave away. Arrida leaped from the truck, which plunged 150 feet downhill. He was unhurt.

Sausalito fireman Ralph K. Pedersen said the 150-gallon gasoline tank on the truck ruptured and the truck "went up in a wall of flame." The truck was a complete loss as was the cargo of 300 wall furnaces, all boxed in cardboard.

Firemen worked four hours extinguishing the fire in truck and cargo. In working through the cut aluminum, Pedersen, and Marin City fire warden Frank Machado were cut on the hands, as were three volunteers. Warden Robert Starcher required five stitches to close a wound in his right hand.

With no water at the scene, tank trucks from the Sausalito, Marin City and Marin County Fire Department ran relays to take water to the fire, working under Sausalito Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry and Capt. Frank Machado of Marin City.

Pedersen said Juanita Musson was "our guardian angel" since she, as in other fires, took the men coffee and refreshments.

Christmas Mail Reminder Given

It costs four cents to mail a Christmas card to Canada or Mexico, whether or not you seal the envelope.

Warren H. Williams, San Rafael postmaster, today noted that with the start of every Christmas mailing season, many cards are addressed to Canada and Mexico bearing only three cents postage.

Although the first class mail rate to the two countries is the same as within the United States—four cents per ounce—the rate for unsealed printed matter is four cents for the first two ounces, instead of three cents as for domestic mail, he reminded.

If no return address appears on an envelope bearing three cents postage which is dispatched to Mexico or Canada, the addressee will have to pay postage due, Williams said. If there is a return address on the envelope, it will be returned for additional postage.

Marin Dairyman Cited For Farming Service

Alfred J. Bianchi, Point Reyes Station dairyman, last night was honored with an award for distinguished service to agriculture by the California Farm Bureau Federation at its annual convention banquet in Oakland.

Bianchi, chairman of the Farm Bureau's statewide dairy department, is the seventh California farmer to be so honored.

Bianchi has been a member of Farm Bureau since 1922, which was also the year he started farming. In 1925 he became chairman of Point Reyes Farm Bureau Center, where he is still a member. Bianchi was county president for 14 years, and has been a member of the county Farm Bureau's board of directors since 1925. He is known throughout his area for his intensive work in membership drives.

Bianchi served as Farm Bureau alternate state delegate from Marin County for many years, and from 1950 to 1958 was state delegate. After serving as chairman of Farm Bureau's Region 8 dairy activities, he became vice chairman and later chairman of the federation's statewide dairy department. He has held the latter position during 1958, '59 and '60, and early this year was re-elected to the chairmanship for another 12 months.

This year Bianchi has also been a member of the dairy committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Bianchi has been a member of the San Francisco Milk Producers Control Board since its inception some 25 years ago, serving as chairman of the board for the past five years; is president of the Sonoma-Marin Dairymen's Assn., past president and member of the board of the Consolidated Milk Producers Assn., and was secretary of the American Dairy Assn. for three years.

ALFRED J. BIANCHI
Service record honored

The award winner has been a member of the Marin County Agricultural Stabilization Committee for six years and now serves as chairman. He has been a director of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair since 1937.

In still other activities, Bianchi is vice president of the Valley Livestock Marketing Assn., and a member of the California Beef Council. He has been a director of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael for 18 years.

Report Claims California Lagging In Airport Needs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California is 20 years and 224 million dollars behind in its airport needs, says the State Aeronautics Commission.

The big need is for facilities to serve business and industry in smaller cities, the commission said in a report yesterday.

It said about 1,200 publicly owned, but non-airline, airports are needed, but that only 250 are available.

In past years, federal aid of a maximum 5.6 million dollars yearly has been made available to help build California facilities. But most of it went to large, international-type airports—which the commission said are not needed.

Most of the requests for federal aid, it said, have come from smaller cities and counties, but it doubted whether federal aid would be available in the future.

Pointing up the need for non-airline terminals, the commission noted that California has 13,500 business and private aircraft, while in the United States there are but 2,000 airline aircraft.

Bufano Statue May Be Moved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Is the 12-ton statue of St. Francis which Benny Bufano carved out of 32 tons of black Swedish marble about to lose its home?

Since 1955 the 16-foot-high statue of the patron saint of San Francisco has stood smiling from the steps of St. Francis of Assisi Church in North Beach.

Now the word is that Rev. John J. Curtin, worried about cracks in the stone steps of the church, wants the statue removed to a park. Father Curtin is reluctant to comment.

But Monsignor Leo T. Maher, archdiocesan chancellor, confirmed that Father Curtin has received permission to remove the statue.

After Bufano made it, the statue was in a Paris warehouse for 28 years. In 1955, the late Annunciata Sanguinetti of the St. Francis parish paid the storage bill and had it brought to the United States.

When the first Zionist settlers arrived in Israel, the land was virtually treeless. Since 1948, more than 53 million trees have been planted and Arbor Day, dedicated to reforestation, is a national holiday.

U.S. Lifts Trade Bar On Poland

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today ended U. S. tariff discrimination against Poland in a move obviously intended to drive a wedge between Polish Communists and the Soviets.

He directed that the "most-favored-nation" clause of the Trade Agreements Act of 1951 be re-applied to Poland starting Dec. 12 after an eight-year lapse.

This means that tariffs on Polish imports covered by trade agreements will be at least as favorable as the duties on imports from other nations.

"The termination of the 1952 suspension of such treatment represents a further advance in the development of economic relations between the United States and Poland," the White House said in announcing the action.

The tariff reductions would not affect Polish canned ham, which accounted for 21.9 million dollars worth of Poland's total exports to this country in 1959, valued at 31.7 million dollars.

Lower duties would apply to Christmas tree ornaments, wire, nails, casein, poppyseed and calves hides, the White House said.

Eisenhower's order will make Poland the only Red satellite country to benefit from the most-favored-nation treatment.

The United States canceled this arrangement with Poland on Jan. 5, 1952, but started selling surplus food for Polish currency in 1957 under public law 480.

Since then, agreements totaling 365.3 million dollars have been made with Poland under this law.

Today's action would involve reduction of tariffs on about 5.5 million dolls worth of goods of a 1959 total of 31.7 million, the White House said.

Issue Of Sino-Soviet Differences Tied To China Wanting Formosa

By JAMES D. WHITE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It is now possible to reach a tentative conclusion about the real nature of the much talked of split between Peiping and Moscow over the question of peaceful co-existence.

In a word, co-existence is not the central issue. The real argument—never admitted—seems to be over Red China's determination to take Formosa.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been proclaiming that the great imperialist war with the West predicted by Lenin is not inevitable. The Communist world is now strong enough to deter Western imperialists from waging such a war, and has more to gain through peaceful co-existence—permitting economic and political penetration — than it would through a nuclear war where it too would be left in ruins, the Soviet boss argued.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of Red China has replied that Lenin was right and that anyone who says differently is guilty of being soft on Western imperialism. Behind Mao's obvious defiance of Moscow lay a whole series of statements by Red Chinese leaders to this general effect:

With 650 million people Red China is best suited of all the powers to survive a global nuclear holocaust.

But neither Moscow nor Peiping acknowledges that these deeply antagonistic attitudes amount to a disagreement.

Since 1957, when the first signs of a split appeared, the world has wondered what it really meant.

The answer seems to be that co-existence certainly is involved, but that the big, underlying issue is Formosa.

Peiping claims Formosa as a province of China and Moscow fully supports this claim.

But the tipoff comes from Felix Greene, a British businessman who lives in Palo Alto, and who recently returned from 4½ months in Red China.

The Englishman, a journalist as well as a businessman, said this was a part of a much more hardboiled attitude in Peiping than he had found on his first visit three years ago.

He told a radio panel that the Chinese Reds will insist upon settling the Formosa question on their terms before even considering taking the Chinese seat in the United Nations. They are aware that a U.N. trusteeship for Formosa has been discussed, and they want no part of it.

Green asserts the Red Chinese won't talk on anything else with the United States until American forces withdraw from Formosa—leaving it open to conquest.

Here is where co-existence enters the picture. Moscow is obligated by the Sino-Soviet Treaty of 1950 to come to Red China's aid in the event of "hostilities from the direction of Japan." The United States is committed to the defense of Formosa.

Scouts Name Area Leader

Sias, an official of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., is a former Eagle Scout and has served as district vice chairman for the last two years. He takes over for Dr. E. Mark Hinton, headmaster of San Rafael Military Academy.

Elected as district vice chairman was Sam Young of Novato, a retired Air Force officer who served as district vice chairman while stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base several years ago.

They will be installed at the district's appreciation dinner Dec. 14 at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Burdell Students May Go To Lincoln Next Year

Trustees of the Burdell and Lincoln School districts will meet Nov. 29 to negotiate the possibility of Burdell students attending the Lincoln School next year.

The Burdell School was burned down by youthful arsonists in November, 1958. Since then, pupils have been taught at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato.

The five pupils up to sixth grade expected in the Burdell district during the next school year would attend the Lincoln School, off the Petaluma-Point Reyes Road. The Burdell School was near Stafford Lake.

There now are 12 students in the one-room Lincoln School taught by Mrs. R. W. Sigman.

The meeting Nov. 29 will be the second among trustees to discuss the school change. Trustees say there will be no merger, but the Burdell District will pay a contract fee for sending its youngsters to Lincoln.

The meeting will be in the home of Burdell district clerk James Grossi, and attended by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

College Board To Meet On Pay

Recommendations for changes in salary schedules for teachers, administrators and non-teaching employees will be considered tonight at 8 o'clock by the College of Marin board of trustees.

Also on the trustees' agenda is a proposal to resume adult school classes in Italian and a daytime laboratory class in elementary theory of music.

Well-Intentioned

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Advice can come from unexpected sources. Bill Judkins returned home from a convention, parked his car and went indoors to kiss his wife.

Then he went back out for his luggage. As he was about to re-enter the house, he heard an urgent "Ps-s-s-t!" A stranger delivering handbills said, "Hey, buddy. Better wipe that lipstick off your cheek before you go in."

SAN JOSE SCHOOL — Grading will begin soon for this unusual-appearing new school in the San Jose District in Novato, designed by Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics of San Francisco. When the first phase of construction is completed—the center unit and units on either side—the school will house about 400 students in seventh and eighth grades.

San Jose School Site Grading To Start Soon

Grading of the site for a new San Jose School District intermediate school will begin in about a week.

Low bidder on the project yesterday was Piombo Brothers of San Rafael, who will clear the 17½ acres at San Jose Boulevard and Sunset Parkway for $35,536.

Bids on construction of the $800,000 first section of the school are awaiting approval of plans by the state, Supt. Phillip Schneider reported.

The school, when completed in fall of 1961, will house about 400 youngsters in seventh and eighth grades. Eventually, when all wings of the unit are completed, about 900 students will attend classes.

The first section to be built will consist of 12 classrooms, administration rooms and library. Future sections will add 14 classrooms, a multi-purpose room, showers and locker rooms.

Architect Hired For Firehouse

The architect is Bruce Moody of the firm of Walker and Moody, who resides in Tiburon.

The first remodeling stage is to provide sleeping facilities for the all night firemen is expected to cost approximately $1,500, commission secretary Kelly J. Wheeler said.

Twin Cities Recreation Commission Said In 'Dire' Condition For Money

The Larkspur - Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission is in "dire condition," and may not have enough money to complete its program for the 1960-61 year, Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug told the Larkspur City Council last night.

Storhaug, a member of the commission, said the Larkspur School District has not committed any money to the recreation commission, and probably will not. It was expected to give $1,750, he said.

The cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera are giving $4,250 each to the commission's program. The summer program cost $2,671. The commission now has $2,000 on hand and has about $2,700 coming from Larkspur, the mayor said.

Councilman Daniel Allen said the school district has a sort of moral obligation to give the money. Storhaug said the district was going to do what it could and might give double the amount in July. He said the school district was "charging everything it conceivably can" into the community service tax budget and "they don't have anything left." The mayor said it was "conceivable" that the recreation commission could get by until next June.

The council discussed the work of the committee studying the interim zoning ordinance. Councilmen agreed that fees for variances, use permits and rezoning should be set by resolution, rather than in the ordinance.

Councilman Lesly Daveler noted that the present interim zoning ordinance establishes certain flat fees which may not be realistic. The fees are $15 for a variance and $50 for a use permit or rezoning.

Councilman James T. Linekaemper said the committee would try to make a complete report to the council Jan. 4.

The council also:

1. Accepted the resignation of John Barry from the Larkspur Recreation Commission, and decided to leave it to the commission to recommend a replacement. Barry said that because of his activities with the California State Agents Assn. it was impossible for him to devote the necessary time.

2. Decided to call for bids for the Doherty Drive extension sometime after the Dec. 7 meeting, since approval of the state is expected next week.

3. Heard city manager Ronald E. Piper report he has told the Northwestern Pacific Railroad he would like to discuss purchase of its abandoned right of way from Doherty Drive to the old Baltimore Station site.

4. Asked about the possibility of having a Larkspur post office address for a section of Greenbrae which is in Larkspur but has a San Rafael post office address. Piper said the post office told him it could be considered only if the rest of Greenbrae became part of Larkspur.

5. Referred to the recreation commission a suggestion by Lienkaemper to consider beautifying a small parcel of city property at the pumping station at Midway and Diane Lane. The spot is an "eyesore," Lienkaemper said.

6. Heard a motion from councilman Daveler for adjournment to next Wednesday (Thanksgiving eve), heard a long list of items that Daveler wants discussed, then by a 5-to-0 vote—including Daveler—turned down the idea.

Couple Fetes Half Century Of Marriage

The Elders, who settled in San Rafael in 1937, were married in Dayton, Wash., when both were 20. Shortly after their marriage, they moved to Santa Rosa, where he became employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. as a technician.

Retiring from the telephone company in July of 1956, Elder now devotes his time to gardening at his home at 210 Marin Street. Mrs. Elder is a active bridge player, belonging to several clubs in the county. They spend their summers at a summer home in Mineral, near Mount Lassen.

Saturday night a reception was held for them at the home of their son, Leiton Elder, of 56 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael. More than 40 friends and relatives from throughout the state attended. The younger Elder has been an engineer at Hamilton Air Force Base for 20 years.

Elder is a member of the telephone company Pioneers Club and a Mason. Mrs. Elder, in addition to bridge clubs, is a member of the Eastern Star

Septic Tank Approval Called Key In Planning

Official approval of individual septic tanks is a key point in plans for development of the San Geronimo Valley, according to information put before the valley's master plan committee at the Woodacre Improvement Club last night.

Marin County Planning Director Mary Summers showed two maps, one giving a general idea of what might be done with unincorporated undeveloped acreage largely belonging to the Lagunitas Development Co.

The other map was highly detailed with layout of lots, streets, a golf course on the floor of the valley, a shopping center, some multiple dwellings at the valley edge close to hills, and individual homes on lots no smaller than a quarter-acre and most at least a half-acre or larger.

Though all represented luxurious living, it was stressed that this planning was based on ultimate Public Health Department approval of individual septic tanks unusual in a development of this scope.

Detailed geological and soil tests have shown feasibility of the tanks, it was said, while development of a sewage system would not only entail enormous grading but entail a problem of ultimate disposal. Preliminary official indications have been favorable, Mrs. Summers said, but no formal approval has been given as yet.

LONDON (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor's doctors said she had recovered enough from her painful virus ailment to leave the hospital sometime today.

Miss Taylor was taken to the London clinic by ambulance Sunday when she complained of head pains. Her illness was diagnosed as meningism, a virus infection.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Catholic priest took the mechanics service school course offered by a local manufacturer of outboard motors.

The Rev. Thomas J. O'Leary, a Redemptorist priest, explained he was on his way back to South America where he uses an outboard motorboat as a missionary along the Amazon River.

The largest block of commercial forest land under one management is the 81,314,000 acres in national forests. Of this, some 15 million acres are in national parks or game refuges where no logging or hunting is permitted.

Presenting the 1961
LINCOLN CONTINENTAL
So brilliantly engineered,
so carefully built it is dealer-warranted
for two full years or 24,000 miles,
whichever occurs first*

"Classic beauty in a smart new size." Here is the first fine car that is truly luxurious to drive in today's traffic. Thoughtful engineering has created a superb six-passenger automobile that is 14 inches shorter—yet as heavy or heavier than other American luxury cars, to provide the solid ride you expect. It also has devised center-opening doors that make entrance far more convenient, contour-zoned seats that are cushioned with nearly three times the usual amount of foam rubber, vacuum-locked doors that bolt shut at a flick of the driver's finger, silent, hydraulic windshield wipers with 50 per cent more power, a quality program that puts every car through a 12-mile road test and brings high precision standards of construction to America's largest V-8 engine. A glance reveals the character of this tremendously advanced car, the enduring beauty of true classic design, the excitement of America's only four-door convertible. But it is only at the wheel that you begin to understand the real significance of the new Lincoln Continental, the brilliant blend of sensible size and total luxury. Why not make that discovery yourself, this week? Lincoln-Mercury Division, Ford Motor Company.

*The terms of the extended warranty provide that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers, of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of such maintenance items as filters, spark plugs, ignition points and wiper blades.

TENSION ON THE SIDELINES

Tension filled the air above Redwood High Schools bench last week when the Giants had seen their 19-0 lead melted away to a mere 19-12 margin in final minutes of game against Drake. Players above and Coach Bob Troppmann (below) showed great concern, for in the balance of this game was the Marin County Athletic League championship. For pictorial outcome of the contest, turn to page 16. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

Otto Graham To Announce All-Marin Team Tomorrow

Marin County Athletic League's 1960 football season will come to a dramatic close tomorrow with announcement of the All-League squad and presentation of certificates by former All-Professional quarterback Otto Graham.

Ceremonies will take place at College of Marin's Olney Hall, starting at 4 o'clock, where Graham will appear on behalf of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, of which he is national chairman. Graham, head coach of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, also will answer questions about entrance requirements and football prospects at the Academy.

The former Cleveland Browns' hero will congratulate the All-Marin League stars and pose with them for pictures besides making a speech.

Cal Riemcke, sponsor of the Marin Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, has invited all athletes to the ceremonies—especially the prep football players. Announcement of the All-League team is being withheld until 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The Marin All-League squad has been selected by the coaching staffs at all six schools—headed by Bob Troppmann of Redwood High, Marlin Olsen of Novato, Jim Hanretty of Tamalpais, Dick Read of San Rafael and Harry Moore of Marin Catholic. That, incidentally, is the order in which their teams finished in final standings.

Meanwhile, the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM announced selection of Redwood end John Whitney as final "Prep of the Week" for the season—the third Giant so honored.

In spite of thick mud and a slippery pigskin, Whitney caught a 44-yard touchdown pass last Friday and played an all-around outstanding game to help the Giants in their 19-12 victory over Drake — clinching the league championship.

Other Redwood "Preps of the Week" were tackle Mike Hoffman and halfback Mike Alessio. The I-J and KTIM during the season similarly honored halfback Steve Blair and quarterback Sam Johnson of Drake, end Lu Haas and tackle John Cook of Novato, quarterback Jack Soveregin and tackle Chris Yaeger of San Rafael, fullback Jerry Crowe of Marin Catholic and end Tom Yarborough of Tam.

Pirates' Groat Selected MVP By Landslide

BOSTON (AP) — Dick Groat, captain and shortstop of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, today was selected the National League's most valuable player for 1960, ending the two-year domination of Chicago's Ernie Banks.

Groat, who led the Pirates to their first pennant in 33 years, won in a landslide.

He was named first on 16 of the 22 ballots cast by a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, was listed on every ballot and picked up 276 points in the voting, far ahead of teammate Don Hoak, who was second with 162.

"It's a wonderful thrill, of course," the Pirates' field leader said from his home in Pittsburgh, then quickly gave credit to the team.

"I honestly feel it wouldn't have been possible without the fabulous year enjoyed by the Pirates. Just to play on the club was great, just great. It was a wonderful team effort and I was just a part of it."

He was the first Pirate named to the coveted award since the writers took over the selection in 1931. And his teammates drew all the other first place votes, Hoak getting five and strong-armed outfielder Roberto Clemente one. Clemente finished eighth in the voting.

MAYS THIRD

San Francisco's Willie Mays was named on 21 ballots and was third with 115 points. Banks, Chicago's hard-hitting shortstop who won the last two years, was fourth with 100 points.

Groat, the National League batting champion with a .325 average, came to the Pirates straight from the Duke University campus in 1952.

The 30-year-old native of Swissvale, Pa., included only two home runs in his 186 hits last season, but was generally credited with being the sparkplug of Pittsburgh's drive to the pennant.

He suffered a broken bone in his wrist when struck by a Lew Burdette pitch Sept. 6, and didn't rejoin the team until the final week of the season.

Miracle Horse, Bum Hook Up For Fabulous Daily Double

ALBANY (AP) — Five daily double bettors hooked up a "miracle" horse with a "bum" and came off with payoffs of $8,711.40 each for their $2 bet at Golden Gate Fields.

The same racing reporter happened to ask jockey Roy Yaka what he thought of his mount, Covinan, a starter in the second race.

"I have come to the conclusion that this horse is a bum," Yaka replied.

FOUR COLLECT

Four of the five lucky long-shot players dutifully turned in their names and addresses to the cashier to comply with new federal income tax regulations requiring such information from $2 daily double winners of more than $600. The fifth happy soul did not appear. None was identified.

The $8,711.40 was the third largest in daily double history.

Had a horse named Wide Ration won the second race yesterday every daily double mark in the book would have been wiped out. There was one person who had a $2 ticket on Oriolo and Wide Ration, so the payoff would have been the entire daily double pool after the track and the state's share had been deducted.

That little piece of paper would have been worth $43,-55720.

But Wide Ration finished dead last.

Bears Rated Slight Edge In The Big Game Saturday

Ron Fernandes, who hasn't seen action in three weeks because of an ankle injury, is expected to start at a guard position.

California, with assurance that quarterback Randy Gold will play Saturday, worked an hour and 45 minutes and stressed defense.

Gold, who had been ailing with the flu, returned to practice. Coach Marv Levy said his sophomore signal caller would be in good condition.

History Repeats Itself As Giants Drop Posedel, Just Like Leo Did

CONNOLLY

Chickens, they say, come home to roost. And after checking through my old time sports file, I'm convinced.

I've just read a little item about Leo Durocher, the former Brooklyn manager, who did such a snazzy job.

But Leo, back in 1939, got no plums for allowing pitcher Bill Posedel to slip away from him to the Boston Braves.

The Braves, so my story goes, got the best of the trade that sent Posedel to Boston. Seems Durocher and Posedel had an argument on pitching tactics.

Posedel, using his own methods, couldn't see eye to eye with Durocher and hence the trade.

And now, almost 21 years later, we find the Giants replacing Posedel as a pitching coach because he wasn't born and raised in the Giants' school of baseball.

ONE OF the real tragedies of sport is Freddie Steele, former middleweight champion of the world.

In the height of his fighting prime, Steele lost his manager Dave Miller, who died suddenly and unexpectedly. They were close friends, the closest. The death of Miller took all the heart out of Steele and he quit a long time before his time for retirement.

I know Freddie Steele better than most reporters. He was my "seeing-eye dog" the night Joe Louis knocked out Jimmy Braddock for the heavyweight championship of the world.

I dunno where Freddie is today, but wherever he is I know he still carries the torch for a grand guy and his manager—Dave Miller.

THERE IS a very definite obligation on the part of a baseball manager. And it has been entirely overlooked. I refer to the fact that managers of ball clubs seldom ever live in the city where they manage.

Oscar Vitt, former manager of the Hollywood Stars never lived in Los Angeles. He resided in Oakland and still does.

Alvin Dark, new manager of the S.F. Giants, lives in Lake Charles, Louisiana, and he doesn't intend to move to S.F.

I think inasmuch as Civil Service regulations call for city employees living in the town where they make their living, should also apply to baseball managers.

But who am I to get such an idea across?

SOME OF these days I'm going to corral Eddie Muller, my favorite fight writer, and really give him a roasting.

I have in mind the Robert Edgren Boxing Trophy that has yet to arrive.

Bob Edgren belonged in sports. He died at the age of 65 and was a member of the first U.S. Olympic Games team.

He brought his athletic prowess into the sports writing game, distinguishing his interviews with famous fighters by actually donning the gloves and entering the ring with them.

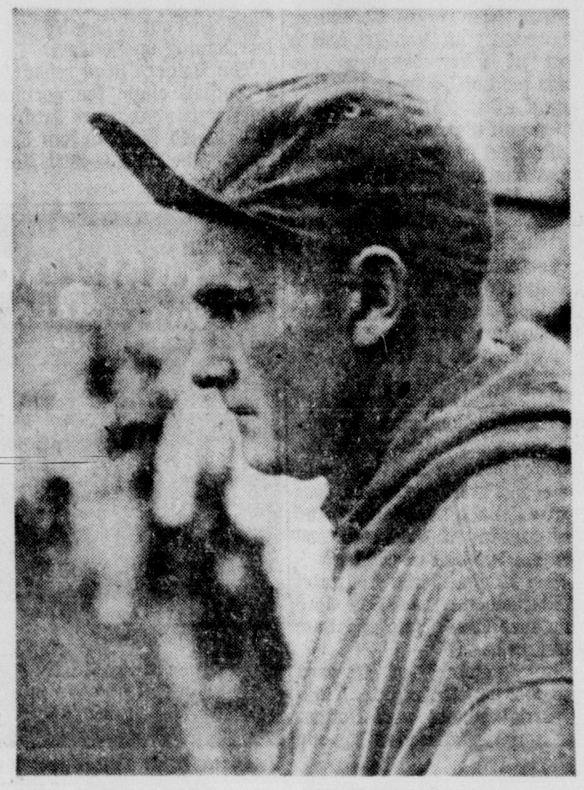
I think Eddie Muller should create some sort of a remembrance to him, if only a Golden Glove Tournament in his memory.



Honolulu Okayed For PCL Club If Sacramento Folds

SPOKANE, Wash. —Sacramento has about a week or 10 days to decide whether to bow out of Pacific Coast League baseball in favor of Honolulu, PCL President Dewey Soriano said last night.

Soriano spoke after league director, meting here, unanimously approved Honolulu as the replacement for Sacramento if the California capital is unable to continue in the league.

"The fans of Sacramento must be considered first," he added. "The club is now $60,000 in debt and that would have to be paid. But if the fans can get up the money to pay off and operate, then the franchise will stay right there."

Soriano indicated he doubts Sacramento can make it.

Fights Last Night

Fresno—Ben Medina, 139½, Fresno, knocked out Art Ramponi, 138, Oakland, 4.

Oakland — Jimmy Abeyta, 117, Oakland, knocked out Rocky Fontnette, 121, San Diego, 2.

FREE RIDE TO A HAPPY ENDING

Jubilant Redwood High players carry their relieved and smiling coach Bob Troppmann off the muddy field on their shoulders after holding on for a 19-12 victory over Drake. Last week's game, final one on the Marin League schedule, gave Giants their second straight championship. Tomorrow the All-League team will be announced at College of Marin. Story on page 15.

Big Game History Thrilling; Another Whopper Expected

Yes, sir! Despite the rumors going around, the annual "Big Game" between California and Stanford will be played this year—as usual.

But never in the history of football will teams with such miserable records compete before such a big crowd as this traditional battle attracts.

California goes into the fray with a 1-7-1 record; Stanford is 0-9. Between them they have won just one game in 18 outings!

But the attendance for the battle will be 76,780—capacity for Cal's Memorial Stadium.

"It's the phenomena of the ages," says Chuck Taylor, one-time Stanford coach and now assistant athletic director. "To think that these teams will play to a sell-out. Especially when the game is being televised regionally and locally."

NO OVER-CONFIDENCE

"There's one thing about this game," says Coach Marv Levy of California, "you can bet that neither team will have overconfidence."

This is the 63rd "Big Game," which started before the turn of the century (in 1892)—when a young fella named Herbert Hoover was managing the Stanford team.

During all those years, California has won 27, Stanford has won 25 and 10 have been ties.

A one-point edge is a fine margin in this Ivy-clad encounter—which sells out annally, no matter where the teams are in the seasonal standings.

SPREAD GROWS

In recent years, the spread is getting a bit wider. For the last four big games, the total point spread is 8—or two per tilt.

There used to be a day when the team with the best record was installed as a heavy favorite—to win by maybe six to 20 points. But no more. The odds-makers took a look at the statistics and found out that one point was a big margin in this torrid encounter.

On the surface, this year's game doesn't have much to offer. But that doesn't hold. In fact, the two top passers in the Big Five will be in competition against each other for the first time.

It'll be Dick Norman, sometimes called the greatest collegiate passer in the country, for Stanford. He has thrown the ball 180 times, completed 84 for 924 yards. His percentage of completions is .467—and would have been greater with good ends.

CAL'S GOLD

For California it's Randy Gold, a sophomore. He has tossed 116 times, completed 64 for 692 yards. He has a .551 completion average.

Additionally Stanford has Skip Face, the northern California "Back of the Year."

After these fellows, "names" are hard to find. But you can bet your bottom dollar that every man on both teams will play his best game of the season.

MacKay In Finals

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, entered the finals of the New South Wales singles tennis championships when he beat Rod Laver 1-6, 5-7, 14-12, 6-4, 7-5 today.

Ski Slopes Galore

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan will have a record 74 ski areas in operation when the first enthusiasts hit the slopes this winter, the State Tourist Council says.

Let's Face It: 49ers Lack Long-Gainer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Latest NFL statistics sadly proved again today that lack of the long-gainer is costing the San Francisco 49ers heavily.

Among the loop's top 18 quarterbacks, the 49ers' tandem of John Brodie and Y. A. Tittle both have a high percentage of completions, but are at the bottom in average yards gained per pass.

Tittle has hit on 64 of 115 tosses for a 5.73 per pass average. Brodie has completed 50 for 96 at 4.92 a completion. Only 10 completions by the two tossers have gone for 20 yards or more.

GOOD ENDS, BUT . . .

Ends like Clyde Conner, R. C. Owens and Monty Stickles have the good moves and hands to complete the short ones, but lack the speed to go out and get the long ones.

The 49ers are trying to make a flanker out of sprint king Ray Norton, but he is reported having trouble hanging on to passes in practice. But Norton is expected to see action Sunday against Dallas anyway.

Coach Red Hickey has said he will use Norton "Only when the situation demands." With the 49ers 3-4 on the year, the situation could become demanding any day now.

Edelweiss Resort Opens Ski Season

Edelweiss ski resort, on Highway 50 will open the 1960-61 skiing season this weekend, managing owners Ken and Bunny Cotton announced yesterday.

Edelweiss has two feet of snow on all slopes, and skiing conditions should be good. The double-chair lift will be running. However, there will be only limited accommodations available, with the cafeteria open only for lunch. Until Dec. 16, Edelweiss will be open on weekends only for limited skiing.

The early snow that has fallen marks one of the earliest openings in the history of the ski resort. The resort did not open until late December last year.

QUEEN SANDY OVERWHELMED

Venturi Defends Almaden Title Starting Today

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Defending champion Ken Venturi and a host of other big-name pro stars teed off today in the first round of the $7,500 Almaden Open golf tourney.

Favored to give Venturi the most trouble were Bobby Rosburg, Dutch Harrison, Jimmy Clark, John McMullin and Charles Sifford.

Yesterday, pro Bob Duden an damateurs Val Beatriz of Oakland and Carl McLaughlin of San Jose won best-ball honors with a 60 in the pro-amateur tuneup for the event.

Duden fired an individual 67 on the Almaden course to pace his threesome. Duden won the tourney here in 1958.

Second at 63 were San Jose professional Bob Wagner and Mel Figeira of San Jose and Warren Mitchell of Oakland.

Professional Jerry Loustalot of Sacramento and San Jose amateurs Frank Valo and Bart Fanning had 64.

Raiders To Hold Clinic Saturday

OAKLAND (AP)—The Raiders go back to work today for a light workout. They've got a bye coming up Sunday.

The Raiders have scheduled a football clinic for northern California youngsters Saturday at Triangle Field in San Francisco. The field is near Kezar Stadium.

S.R. Bowling Star Fires 749 Series

Don Bickford, young manager of Diablo Bowling Supplies and the highest bowler in Marin County, ripped off a sensational season-record three-game series of 749 pins Tuesday night in the classic league at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Bickford finished off his series with a breathtaking 279 game cheered by a large gallery. Working on nine straight strikes, his 10th try left the 10 pin standing—wobbling, but still upright to ruin his bid for a 300. He struck on the last ball. Bickford's first two games were 225 and 249 with seven straight strikes in the latter game.

In his last three series of competition Bickford, who packs a 208 average, has scored 710, 660 and 749.

Last week he won the Northern California Match Game Championship and qualified for the National All-Star Tournament in San Bernardino in January. A victory there would send him to world competition back east.

Bickford's 749 Tuesday night rubbed some of the polish off another sparkling series of 712 by Zeno Gelatti Jr. as the Country Club Classic enjoyed its highest scoring night of the season. Gelatti put together games of 216, 268 and 228.

ON THE WOMEN'S front Jean Molino, secretary of the Marin Women's Bowling Assn., turned in a nifty 514 three-gamer, featuring a 205 solo in the Coffee Cuppers League at Greenbrae Lanes.

GEORGE DOBBS, manager of the restaurant and cocktail lounge at Country Club Bowl, has retired because of ill health and his friends are wishing him a speedy recovery.

Warriors Handed 3d Straight Loss

The Philadelphia Warriors, who couldn't lose early in the season, now can't win.

The Eastern Division leaders in the National Basketball Assn. suffered their third straight setback as they lost 119-118 last night to the red-hot Detroit Pistons. It was the Pistons' fourth straight victory.

In other games last night the Syracuse Nations smothered the Cincinnati Royals 124-87 and the Boston Celtics outpointed St. Louis 124-106.

The Warriors won their first nine games.

STEVENS

It is time, I think, to talk about the greatest piscatorial pastime prevailing from now until the 28th day of February, 1961. I refer to the catching of tide-run winter steelhead.

As a general rule the steelhead trout enter the coastal streams immediately following the runs of silver salmon. Probably the month of December can be called the actual time when the steelhead start running in the "loop" streams, despite the fact that the season officially opens on Nov. 1. In the northern streams steelhead frequently appear earlier. In the streams south of the Bay cities, the season doesn't open until Dec. 1, and fishing is permitted only on opening and closing days, Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Most of the loop streams depend upon a good rain to open a channel to the ocean through the bars that build up at the mouth. When the bar is opened the steelhead leave the ocean and come into the fresh water on their annual spawning runs. Here they remain in the deep holes and lagoons fairly near the mouth of the river to become used to the increased oxygen in the fresh or brackish water. They may haunt these "resting" spots for days and even weeks before starting upstream to the spawning grounds.

THE BEST period for successful fishing is usually from two to three days after the rains have come and the color of the water is neither too clear or too muddy, but assumes a "milky" appearance. As the level of the water lowers and all color disappears, it becomes increasingly hard to get a rise from such fish that are still around. Whereas the roe-berry is the killer when the water is milky, it fails when the water is crystal clear (the exception is when a light rain roughens the surface and hides rod, line and angler).

THE NEXT storm generally sends most of the "resters" upstream; new ones come in and take their place and cycles are repeated.

After spawning and before returning to the ocean the fish again haunt the resting hole until they gain back their tolerance of the decreased oxygen, hence it is toward the end of the season, from the middle of February to the 28th that a number of spawned fish are hooked. Bear in mind, however, a spent steelhead caught in tide water will often put up as game a fight as one fresh in from the ocean.

IT IS AN unfortunate fact that quite a few misinformed steelhead fishermen treat a spent fish with contempt despite the gameness he has shown. As a matter of fact, I have yet to meet a man or woman who can tell the difference between a fresh-run fish and a downstreamer when it is served at the dinner table. Many people confuse a spawned steelhead with a spawned salmon. Believe me, there is no comparison. Those same misinformed hombres never consider whether a brook trout or a rainbow has laid her eggs. Yet they should know a steelhead is a trout—actually it is a sea-going rainbow trout. One of the most tragic sights I ever saw was the bank of the Navarro littered with dozens of discarded steelhead, a few of which had spawned so recently that a residue of the roe was still present. That was many years ago and seldom does it happen today, thank goodness.

I will have more — much more — to pass along on the how, when and where to try for steelhead in future columns, but space grows short, so I will close on the subject with a warning.

THE SUCCESS or failure of a steelhead fishing trip is predicated on the conditions of weather and water. The wise guy will check on both before shoving off for any given stream. Take a check, not a chance. It may be raining hard in Marin County and the Bay Area region while the sun is shining to the north along the coast, or vice versa. Light showers (after the first two or three hard rains) may make for ideal conditions. A hard rain back in the hills will kill all chances. The tributary streams carry silt from woods and fields into the main streams. When contemplating a trip check with the weather bureau or the airports as to amount and location of rain. Spend a dime or two and contact someone on the scene to learn if the stream is barbound (when the mouth of any stream closes, fishing is a waste of time) or if the color is conducive to fishing. And that's that.

U.S. Grand Prix Scheduled Sunday

RIVERSIDE (AP)—A score of world-famous drivers began to assemble today for the Grand Prix of the United States. The auto race will be at the Riverside Raceway Sunday.

The local course measures 3.275 miles, and the race over the twisting strip will consist of 75 laps.

Cruisers To Be Headed By McCarthy

Newton B. McCarthy of Mill Valley will be installed Dec. 10 as commodore of the Sausalito Cruising Club for 1961, replacing John Gudelj of San Francisco.

McCarthy, who lives at 95 Cornelia, moves up from vice commodore and that post will be held by Harry Kramer of Mill Valley. McCarthy is state director of the U.S. Treasury's savings bond program with offices in San Francisco.

Once with the Dollar Steamship Line during which time he sailed around the world 11 times, McCarthy now owns what he calls the "smallest brigantine in the world." The craft is 17 feet long, has two masts and carries seven sails.

Richmond outfielder Don Lock hit 35 homers for Binghamton, N.Y., last season. His total set an Eastern League record.

USC Official Fears Sports Saturation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the University of Southern California says he fears for the future of collegiate athletics in Los Angeles because of the saturation of the area by professional teams.

Dr. Norman Topping pointed out that New York once had an abundance of sports attractions "and all they did was kill off each other."

"Los Angeles is going the way of New York," said the educator yesterday. "We should take a page from history and learn.

"I am going to appeal to the Coliseum Commission to extend us a reduction in rental rates, starting next year."

The Trojans and UCLA pay 10 per cent for use of the Coliseum, the same as the pro teams—the Chargers, Rams, Dodgers and the proposed new American League team.

Topping says he is opposed to establishment of an American League team in Los Angeles and that he is making his feelings known on this through Lou Carroll, attorney for the National League.

Bernie Everson, who made fame as Native Dancer's exercise boy, now is devoted to It's a Great Day. He sleeps in the adjoining stall.

LYTTON SQUARE RESTROOMS VOTED

Mill Valley To Hire Policeman For Park School Street Crossing

After pleas from worried mothers and fathers of Park School children, the Mill Valley City Council last night authorized hiring a special policeman to direct traffic in front of the school at 360 East Blithedale Avenue.

The policeman is to be on duty during hours to be worked out by City Manager A. E. Almcrants with the police.

Robert H. Andresen, president of the Mill Valley School District Board, told the council last night, after a scheduled report on the crossing by a traffic expert failed to appear: "The study stage is passed. We should be in the action stage."

William Everts boomed out: "This situation has been going on since 1958. I've watched the kids come burning up that road. I suggest there be a cop there until the problem is solved."

Applause rang out from the audience.

The council also yielded to requests that toilets be restored in the Greyhound Bus Depot on Lytton Square and asked that bids on cost of restoration be submitted to see if the city can afford the facilities.

Many people spoke in favor of the reopening of the toilets, led by secretary-manager Granville L. Beedle of the chamber of commerce, who spoke for the merchants.

Fred Berick, owner of the Old Mill Tavern which is across the intersection from the depot, said "I have been handling the toilet business in Mill Valley for a long time . . . I'm not going to do it any more." He threatened to put up a sign telling people to go to the city hall.

"I'll help you with the sign," Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said, "to be sure my name is spelled right." The audience laughed.

Councilman George Blackwell said the toilets must be tiled, must be put in first class condition and must be closed at night. He said, if the city has to spend between $5,000 and $6,000 on the two toilets, it might mean a five-cent tax increase.

Councilman Michael Wornum said, "in a city of 10,000 people, we should be able to keep open one set of restrooms in the center of town." The audience applauded.

He later suggested they be pay toilets.

Greyhound Bus Lines, by letter, said it would not pay any money to help with restrooms unless it added the cost to the passenger's tickets.

In another action concerning Greyhound, the council voted 4-1, Wornum dissenting, to deny the application of Greyhound to lease land near Project 17 to store its buses.

Also at last night's meeting:

1. The council turned down 3-2 a request for reconsideration of its Nov. 2 denial of a variance to Dorothy Kell to permit her to construct a residence on a substandard lot at 647 Throckmorton Avenue. Voting "no" were Mayor Huber and Councilman Wornum.

2. An ordinance annexing Cascade Reservoir to the city was adopted.

3. Given first reading was an ordinance creating the office of finance officer; it also authorizes City Auditor Warren G. Lefort to work with the fiscal department in streamlining the accounting system, at a fee not to exceed $2,400.

4. Hearing on an amendment of the zoning ordinance to create a commercial-recreation district and change the minimum acreage from five acres to two acres was postponed to Dec. 7.

5. The bid from Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. of $1,734 for a new police car, with trade-in of an old car, was accepted. It was the only bid.

6. The chamber of commerce was granted $250 to help pay for Christmas decorations for the city.

7. Low bidder Huettig and Schromm of Palo Alto received a contract at $3,751 for planting on Miller Avenue center strip between Tamalpais High School and Evergreen Avenue.

8. Councilmen agreed to deannex a small parcel of property on East Blithedale Avenue between Ashford Avenue and Tower Drive. The property is a ditch, often water filled.

9. City Manager Almcrants reported the planning commission favors use of "Plan B" in developing Corte Madera Ridge property and wishes to use the plan as basis for a public hearing Dec. 13. "Plan B" would employ some cluster type development, houses built close together, as well as some conventional type of single family residential development.

SIREN SIAMESE BLAMED FOR TOMCAT'S ZEAL

ALAMEDA (UPI) — A hearing will be held next Wednesday in an attempt to decide whether Herman the tomcat or a group of blue-blooded female Siamese felines next door was the aggressor in their stormy relationship.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Cook have sued Herman's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowler, for $3,500 in damages. They claim Herman attacked Mrs. Cook in his zeal to befriend her cats.

The Cooks are also seeking to have surgery performed on the yellow and white striped Herman as a guarantee the blood line of the expensive Siamese will not be disrupted.

But Mr. and Mrs. Bowler have now countersued, charging that Herman had been approached "in a connubial manner" by the Siamese.

Attorneys said "They (the Siamese cats) have lured, cajoled and through every known Siamese cat blandishment have caused Herman to throw caution to the winds."

The countercharge said Herman is only a "red-blooded American tomcat . . . led astray by the plaintiff's females, being the more deadly of the species . . ."

The Bowlers are asking $1,500 damages to soothe Herman's hurts.

Architect Ruled Out For Recreation Area

There will be no city architect hired by Mill Valley to work out plans for buildings in Project 17, the city's 17-acre recreational area.

The Mill Valley City Council defeated two moves last night to hire one.

Councilman Michael Wornum moved that Mill Valley architect Eugene Crawford be hired. The proposal was defeated 3-2, Mayor Robert D. Huber and Councilmen George Blackwell and George D. Monardo voting "no."

A second motion by Monardo to appoint city engineers Stanley M. Bala and Jesper C. Strandgaard as architects was also defeated, with Mayor Huber, Councilmen Blackwell and Joseph E. Sheeks voting "no."

City Manager A. E. Almcrants was then instructed to send a letter to the Mill Valley Optimist Club to advise it may submit a new plan for a locker room and toilet facilities for Project 17. A previous plan was turned down by the planning commission and council.

When Mount Holyoke College for women opened in 1837, its Book of Duties said: "The young ladies are to be required to walk one mile per day until the snow renders it desirable to specify time instead of distance." The time was set at three-quarters of an hour.

California Leads U.S. In Special Districts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — California probably has more special districts than any other state, and the number keeps growing, reports Controller Alan Cranston.

At the end of the 1958-59 fiscal year, most recent available statistics, Cranston said there were 3,038 of them, carrying on 66 different special activities, ranging from fire protection to street lighting.

Marin County with 74 special districts has the 13th highest number in the 58 counties. This is two more than in the year earlier. It does not include multi-county ditsricts, like the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, the rapid transit district and the smog district.

Marin's districts received $5,579,000 during the year, but only $1,066,000 of it was tax revenue. The major portion of it was in fees paid primarily to the county's two biggest districts, Marin General Hospital District and Marin Municipal Water District.

The districts' revenue, however, did not equal its expenditures, Cranston said. The districts spent $6,567,000. Presumably the extra million dollars came from bonds which had been sold earlier.

The revenue for the fiscal year was $300,000 higher than it had been the year before. But expenditures for the previous year was nearly a million and a half dollars less.

Cranston made the accounting in a special report showing that more than 1,000 districts have been added to the list in the last year, and reporting their monetary transactions for the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The districts took in more than 287.5 million dollars and spent about 264.2 million. Income was up 61.8 million dollars over the previous fiscal year, expenditures up 54.5 million.

B'nai B'rith Women Presenting Dolls For Democracy At Shows

"So you see, children, America is just like a great big jigsaw puzzle. You've all worked jigsaw puzzles and you know it takes pieces of all shapes, sizes and colors to make the complete picture. And it takes people of all races, religions and nationalities to make this great nation of ours. And that's why we are all proud to be Americans, aren't we?"

The group of wide-eyed girls now file slowly past the table on which are arranged replicas of Abraham Lincoln, Jackie Robinson, Emma Lazarus and Father Flanagan. The Doll Lady has just completed a presentation of short stories of these famous Americans, pointing out that athough they are different, they are alike in one important way:: They were and are great Americans, setting good examples for all of us to follow.

This presentation is sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) of B'nai B'rith and performed by Marin Chapter B'nai B'rith Women.

Mrs. Philip Landa of Navato, chairman of the Dolls for Democracy program, is arranging for such shows before Girl Scout, Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scout groups of the area. Working with her as Doll Ladies are Mesdames Richard Osterman, Richard Wagner, Morris Bode, Joseph Land, M. J. Greenberg, Morton Colvin and Aaron Schwartz.

Presentations were recently made to two Blue Bird groups in San Anselmo led by Mesdames Guido Zanotti and W. A. Lehigh; four Blue Bird troupes in Novato; three Camp Fire troupes led by Mesdames Theodore Lilienthal, Hume Kincaid and Norman Mitchell.

Future showings have been requested by Girl Scout troupes in Greenbrae whose leaders are Mesdames Raymond Ponath and Harold Sonnenberg; five Girl Scout troupes in Fairfax arranged by neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Jerry Schuman; Blue Birds in Mill Valley led by Mesdames John J. O'Brien and Eric C. Johnson; Cub Scouts of Corte Madera whose pack leader is Ken Graham.

Other presentations are scheduled for January and February. The program will be made available to any interested groups who contact Mrs. Landa for shows during and after that time.

Leaving Marin ahead of the others, Executive Director of the Marin Council, Miss Dorothy Erthle, attended special sessions planned for the professional workers before the convention convened.

For consideration before the delegates were changes in the constitution and various proposals submitted by councils throughout the United States.

West Novato P-TA Honors 31 Teachers

These foreign teachers, all of whom teach English in their homelands, have been sent to the United States for six months under Fulbright grants and Smith-Mundt fellowships to study methods of teaching English at San Francisco State College.

Lloyd Pritchard from Costa Rica, master of ceremonies and spokesman for the group, introduced each te acher individually to the membership and then presented a program in which the entire group sang and danced each other's native songs and dances. Particularly enjoyed by the children present was the pantomiming by Hideshi Sato of Japan as he did a comic Japanese dance.

Earlier in the evening the visiting teachers were entertained at a buffet dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Sereda. This dinner was hosted by members of the P-TA board.

Roger Garety Guest Of Legal Secretaries

A thumbnail sketch of the origin and functions of the Grand jury was the subject of the talk by District Attorney Roger P. Garety, guest speaker at the recent dinner meeting of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association, held at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon.

Garety stated that it has been said the Grand Jury had its beginnings in certain institutions in Athens; however, its origin and development can be traced to England and the commonlaw. According to statute, the Grand Jury is composed of citizens of a county, 19 in California, who are sworn to inquire into public offenses committed and triable in a county. The selection is at the control of the judges. Each of our three superior court judges submits 10 names of interested citizens who are willing to serve. Of that 30, 19 are drawn by lot. If they are qualified and able to serve they are the Grand Jury. The presiding judge selects a foreman, and they serve for one year, or until discharged by the presiding judge.

The district attorney further stated that the functions of the Grand Jury are to consider crimes within the county which are reported to them and evidence presented. If they are satisfied there is a reasonable and proper cause to believe a person guilty of a crime, they return an indictment. They do not decide the guilt of the accused beyond a reasonable doubt—that is the work of the trial jury. The Grand Jury also is charged by statute to inquire into the needs of the various county offices, and charged with the responsibility of examining the books of the offices of the county, particularly those to do with revenue, examine the salaries of the auditor, supervisors and district attorney, and makes recommendations in that regard. Garety's talk was followed by a question and answer period participated in by the association's members.

A brief business meeting followed, conducted by president Elsie Caminita. Mrs. Jean Martin was initiated to membership by vice president June Tanforan. Reports were given by Mrs. Gladys O'Neal on the recent Day in Court, and on the sale of dolls which have been dressed by the club, and the possibilities of a future sale of those remaining.

An invitation from the Sonoma County Legal Secretaries Association was read, inviting the local association to their next meeting on Nov. 21 in Santa Rosa. It also was announced that the next meeting of the Marin Association will be in the form of a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Jan Steuer in San Rafael.

THREE YOUNGSTERS and a patroness of the Cathedral School for Boys in San Francisco displayed the paintings which will be given away at the 1960 Imported Car Show in Brooks Hall, in San Francisco, Nov. 21-27. The youngsters, all of San Rafael and attending the school include George and Steven O'Neill, surrounding their mother Mrs. John S. O'Neill and Christopher Hoy, son of the Rev. Trevor A. Hoy, director of religious education for the diocese. Members of the auxiliary will be official hostesses at a cocktail party opening the car show on Monday, Nov. 21. Seated in the car is Stan Petersen of Napa, renowned tempera painter of sports car scenes and donor of the paintings. (Aero photo)

Decorations Guild Members Gather Materials For Sale

Recently Mrs. R. P. Forster of Fairfax, Mrs. A. E. Ward of San Rafael, Mrs. Phyllis Green of San Anselmo, and Mrs. John A. Kauscha of Larkspur went on a field trip to Napa County. They brought back bushels of tree moss, used as backing for Christmas wreaths and other articles now in the making at the Guild's daily workshops.

Planning a similar trip are Mrs. Gordon Zimmer, president of the Decorations Guild, and Mrs. Calvin Terwilliger, both of Mill Valley. Their destination will be a friend's estate, where they will obtain eucalyptus bark for Yule logs, among other materials.

The logs will be one of the featured items at the Guild's annual Christmas Greens Sale Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 16, 17 and 18, at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Mrs. Fred H. Sloat of San Anselmo is chairman of this part of the sale preparations.

Mrs. Zimmer has issued a special appeal for fresh greens, asking Marin residents who plan to trim their evergreens to wait until the early part of December. The cuttings, she explained, can be used in the Guild's workroom. Holly, mistletoe, and dried materials such as cones are also needed.

Delivery may be made to the Decorations Guild building at the Center, or pickup may be arranged by calling the Center office. It is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, when the Decorations Guild Building also is open to the public during the current early sale of items prior to the Greens Sale.

Smith Alums Plan Sale Of Dates

Marin County Smith College alumnae made plans this week for their annual sale of dates to finance the award scholarship for a local girl to attend the Eastern college at the home of Mrs. Edgar Chiswell in Belvedere.

A New Trick

A new trick of the eye technique in the jewelry world is responsible for schizophrenic pins. The split-personality pins are tailored on one side, studded with jewels on the other. A simple twist lets you change the pins's forward face. The reverse idea also is showing up in earrings, with ear fitting clips wearable on one side to show a solid design. Flipped over, there's an enamel motif.

Helen Gapen Oehler Lectures, Exhibits

Helen Gapen Oehler, nationally known Mill Valley artist, will be giving her illustrated lecture, "Faces of Africa," twice within a week.

Tomorrow night she will be the featured speaker at a family dinner night sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in San Rafael, and Monday she will give the same lecture at 7:30 p.m. at the Oakland Public Library under the auspices of its education department. It is open to the public.

Mrs. Oehler's work is appearing in two current annual exhibits, the Crocker Gallery in Sacramento from Nov. 6 to Dec. 4, and at the Santa Cruz annual exhibit through the month of November.

North Marin P-TA Council To Join Clothing Drive

The decision to support "World Clothing Week", a clothing drive sponsored by the Christian Children's Fund, a non-denominational charitable organization, was made at a recent meeting of the North Marin P-TA Council.

According to a letter read by William J. J. Smith, the clothing collected is used in not only the depressed rural areas of the United States "for kids who can't go to school because they haven't a rag or shoe to wear" but for "kids in Asia, who sleep on the streets and spend the daylight hours begging or stealing; kids everywhere who have neither home nor parents."

The drive headed by Mrs. Philip Rosenberg, will start December 5 and continue through December 9, with each P-TA unit being responsible for clothing collected by their respective schools. Boxes and barrels will be set up at all the Novato schools. It is hoped that much good used clothing, both children's and adult's, too will be deposited.

Mrs. Charles Ridgeway, president, submitted the following list of names as being North Marin P-TA council's present executive board and chairman: Mrs. George Pelmear, 1st vice-president; Wm. J. J. Smith, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. James Sturken, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Panholzer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Coniglio, treasurer; Ray Monson, auditor; Mrs. F. J. Picchi, historian; Mrs. Ralph Graber, parliamentarian; Mrs. Fred Babo, music chairman; Mrs. Wm. Dougherty, Honorary Life membership; Mrs. Roy Kanoff, hospitaltity; Mrs. L. W. Peterson, library; Mrs. Wm. Schneeflock, magazine; Mrs. Rex Rolle, mental health; Mrs. LeRoy Wehrer, membership; Mrs. Philip Rosenberg, publicity; Mrs. Peter Ferrarese well-baby clinic; Mrs. John Coulter, character and spiritual life; Mrs. Grant Nelson, Founder's Day; Mrs. Walter Haught, civil defense.

Also listed were the unit presidents: Mrs. W. J. Groves, Hill; Robert Money, Marion; Mrs. James Studley, West Novato; Mrs. Harold Marsh, Olive; Mrs. Louis Graxiola, Lu Sutton.

Marinwood Second Series Set Monday

This program will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Convis, co-presidents of the Marinwood Home and School Club.

Skaters' Reunion

Former skaters at Marin Skateland are invited to a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lavine, 135 A King Street, Larkspur on Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. Jim Wade of Stinson Beach is assisting.

New Officers Of Mill Valley Tennis Club Are Announced

Other officers who will take over their duties at the December luncheon meeting are Mesdames Jack Creighton, vice chairman; Warren Hodgdon, social chairman; Gordon Harrington, secretary; Paul Clark, treasurer; James Rutledge, women's tennis; William Breeze, junior tennis; Melvin Klyce, hospitality; John Laurie, publicity; William Daegling, swimming; George Wickham, high school activities; Eugene Crawford, junior high school activities; Gabriel Lehrer, elementary school activities; Donald Gallagher, art, and James Stephenson and Warren Erskine, phone committee.

At one end of the room, sailing over a white paper goal post, was the souvenir football from the Los Angeles Rams' championship year of 1951 when Larry Brink was on the team. Football gear such as helmets and sweaters were used around the walls, together with red berries and trophies and footballs on the mantel and piano.

Table decor consisted of the berries and miniature football players and tiny facsimiles of the pennants of all the professional football teams in the American and National Leagues.

Annual reports called for by Mrs. Ziegler were those of women's tennis, presented by co-chairman Mrs. Crawford in the absence of Mrs. Hirsch; swimming, given by chairman Mrs. Robert B. Earl, and junior tennis activities, presented by chairman Mrs. Breeze.

Mrs. Breeze announced that the club's Junior Wightman Cup girls' team had been named outstanding for hospitality among the girls' teams in Northern California Tennis Association, and she displayed the engraved plaque they had received as an award.

She credited the friendliness of the girls and the fine cooperation of the club's co-manager, Mrs. Gene Marker, in providing exceptional service.

Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, mother of Mrs. William Peavey of Mill Valley, was the founder of the National Wightman Cup program. A native of California and a former tennis champion, she lives in Boston and at 74 years of age is still playing tennis and giving lessons.

On behalf of the outgoing board Mrs. Larry Brink, secretary, presented Mrs. Ziegler with a large bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and fall leaves.

Other outgoing board members in addition to those named are Mesdames Stephenson, assistant secretary; R. S. Gilfillan, treasurer; Laurie, junior tennis activities co-chairman, and Robert Laughead, reservations.

Tunic Is The Top Garment With Big Choice Of Length

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—California sportswear designers have come up with numerous variations in their collections for spring and resort wear, especially in the length of jackets.

By the end of the second day of the California Fashion Creators' 10th annual national press week, it's becoming increasingly clear that the tunic is the top garment with the biggest choice of lengths. To hew to the definition of tunic, its shortest length is about hip-bone, shown either loosely fitted or more frequently loosely belted.

Longer tunics of mid-thigh length, shown over either pleated or slender skirts make up the handsomest of the elegant casual dresses in rich silk linens or raw silk from India.

Lengthened further, the tunic stops just short of the knee, and takes on a faintly reminiscent look of Nehru's coat . . . but here almost invariably sleeveless. Worn with sleek tapered pants, that match or contrast, the result is a charmingly feminine look with exotic overtones.

Diametrically opposed to this lengthened silhouette outer tops are brief enough to end just below the bosom. Others tie in a knot, and both expose bare midriffs. Cropped tops of waist length just miss fitting the figure.

'Juniors Roaring Twenty Follies' To Be Held Dec. 3 At Ignacio

The event, to be held Saturday evening, Dec. 3 at the Marin Golf and Country Club in Ignacio, will begin at 6:30 with cocktails and hors d'oevres and show time is set for 8 o'clock.

Upon entering, guests must knock three times and give the secret password and only then will they be allowed to enter and turn the calendar back to the days of the gay and glorious twenties. Dim lights, beaded lampshades and velvet fringed tablecloths will create the mood.

CHORUS LINE

The show will open with a chorus line of 12 girls in follies costumes. The chorus line will include Mesdames Ronald Hill, Richard Lloyd, William Slocum, Gordon Walker, Leonard d'Arteney, Domenic Selmi, William Donohoe, Auxiliary president, Robert Rouse, Donald McCarthy and Terrence Rooney. Five couples will sing and dance the "Charleston" and "Varsity Drag." These are Messrs. and Mesdames William Donohoe, Jack Coddington, Robert Rouse, Mrs. James Hetrick and Mrs. Leroy Wilkie.

Chairman of this "first of its kind" for the Junior Auxiliary is Mrs. William Roberts of Marinwood. Her ideas have inspired the entire theme for the evening, and acting as co-chairman is Mrs. Alex McClure. In charge of costumes are Mesdames Jack Coddington and Donald McCarthy. Invitations and reservations chairman Mrs. Clyde Jones has announced that reservations are limited to 250 guests.

AUTHENTIC DRESS

Commentating the fashion show, which will depict authentic dress of the day, will be Mrs. John Roll acting as Miss Louella Parsons. Each model will act out some star of the Roaring Twenties, such as the familiar names of Clara Bow, Greta Garbo, Mae West, Mary Pickford and Gladys Glad, the statesque beauty of the Ziegfeld Follies, and Vilma Banky, who made so many movies with Rudolph Valentino. Those who will be acting out one of these personalities will be Mesdames Ralph Tierney, John Parsons, Marcel Fiore, Gimi Sessi, Robert O'Donnell, Ronald Hill, Rome Brustati, Charles Gondyck, Richard Lloyd and Jose Alicastro.

Conclusion of the evening is scheduled for 9:30, when many groups have planned to go on to dinner at various restaurants and private homes. All funds derived from this occasion go to help those needy children who are under the care of the Catholic Social Service Agency of Marin County.

At Fonteyn Reception

Cecile Preble, who has her school of ballet in San Anselmo, attended by reception given Dame Margot Fonteyn of Britain's Royal Ballet in the Peacock Court of Mark Hopkins Hotel on Thursday. The reception was given by the Northern California Branch of the Royal Academy of Dancing. Miss Preble was accompanied by one of her pupils, eight year old Wendy Evans of Mill Valley. The two also attended the master classes taught by the stars of the Royal ballet.

Square Dance Party

The Stump Jumpers will hold a square dance party on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the IDESI Hall in Novato.

Bill Owens will call and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hachmayer will be hosts.

They're Holy Terrors On School Bus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is a school bus ride a learning experience.

Now there's a question that begs for an answer, and maybe one of the big foundations could sponsor some nation-wide research. Until then, we'll have to go along with about 100 school superintendents who batted the question around at an education convention earlier this year.

They agreed, emphatically, that a school bus ride is a learning experience.

"It's a basic extension of the school program," they said. "It develops the democratic processes. Children learn certain arts on a school bus, like the art of conversation."

To one bemused observer on the sidelines, the discussion didn't seem realistic. As the educators themselves might put it, their judgments were not based on a life experience within their peer group.

Trouble is, these folks never drove a school bus. I did, for three never-to-be-forgotten weeks. Against the nightmarish background, here are some statements made during the discussion, and some balancing comment from one who knows:

Comment — The democratic way to do it is for the driver to pick out the biggest bully on the bus, and threaten to make him walk home if he doesn't keep the other little monsters quiet.

WCTU To Review '60 At Meeting

Business session begins at 11:30 followed by noontide prayer and luncheon.

The afternoon devotion will be given by Mrs. Ray Kitzmiller on "Not Where You Live, But How." Scripture from St. Luke 6:31: "And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

This being the Thanksgiving season, there will be a review on what the WCTU has done in 1960.

Mrs. H. R. Soderstrom will give a resume of Chapters four and five from the Study Book on "What Alcohol Is and What It Does."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Chevrolet Sports Wagon Arrives At Two Marin Auto Display Rooms

Long awaited by many—I know, because I've heard them say it—has been a chance to look at Chevrolet's Greenbriar sports wagon in the Corvair line.

Both De Long Chevrolet, San Rafael, and Campbell-Bishop in Mill Valley now have a model in their showrooms available for inspection; Anderson Chevrolet in Novato is expecting a delivery any day.

Equipped with six doors and rated for a 1,600-pound payload, the 95-inch Greenbriar can be converted from a nine-passenger bus to a wide assortment of duties by rearranging the seats.

All dealers have received deliveries of the Corvair Lakewood station wagon—a conventional type six-passenger model. It offers 68 cubic feet of cargo capacity—10 cubic feet of lockable storage space under the hood.

FOUR YEARS AGO, manufacturing and industrial employment in Marin County accounted for 1,486 persons on an annual payroll of $6,750,000. Last year the figures went up to 1,937 persons and $10,100,000 respectively.

Carroll Snyker, executive vice president and manager of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, told a meeting of the real estate board he estimates 1960 reports will wind up with about 2,400 persons so employed and a $12,750,000 payroll, indicating that, slow as it may seem, the county is showing some progress in industrial growth.

In suggesting the possibility of a promotional brochure for the county he received suggestions from members for data to be incorporated in it ranging from information on schools, transportation and traveling times, to recreational activities for children.

Also — added one member brightly—something to explain why Marin County property is so much higher than any place else.

Snyker urged real estate men having suitable properties for industrial use to list them with the Development Foundation as many inquiries are channeled through the organization —also to call on the Foundation for statistical information helpful to prospective buyers.

SPEAKING of industrial sites, the H. C. Little Burner Co. property at Woodland and Du Bois, San Rafael, still hasn't captured a potential occupant.

True, it's large, with five acres of ground and some 60,000 square feet of space under roof, calling for a substantial investment — but it's already equipped with modern offices, loading docks and spur track facilities.

All adding up to an attractive, almost ready-made location—if the price is right.

PROBABLE MARIN food-buying habits—or are they? Households located in cities of between 2,500 and 50,000 inhabitants make 25 per cent fewer foodstore trips than do large city dwellers, according to market research studies. They spend about the same on each visit as families in larger cities—consequently their total annual expenditures are less.

But people living in towns of 2,500 or less make more shopping trips and their total expenditures are greater.

Farm area families spend 40 per cent less in grocery stores than small-town residents and make one-third fewer trips—and eat off the fat of the land.

Or, so they say.

The working agreement between St. Louis and Rochester has been dropped by mutual consent. The pact was supposed to run until 1962.

Yule Decor Planned For Mill Valley

Christmas decorations in Mill Valley this year will be a community affair.

Grammar school pupils will make ornaments for large Christmas trees; Tamalpais High School students will make a plywood caroler scene; the 666th Aircraft and Airways Communications Squadron on Mount Tamalpais will put up the trees as well as decorations. The city, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will assist, and merchants, under the chamber of commerce, will finance material costs.

Chairman Norman Black said decorations will go up Nov. 25, the day after thanksgiving.

Seven 30-foot lighted trees will be placed on the center strip of Miller Avenue between the high school and the Locust district shopping center. Trees are to come from Marin Municipal Water District lands on Mount Tamalpais.

In the Throckmorton business area, Redwood garlands will be set on poles and strung with red lights. There will be a lighted Christmas tree in the square as well as a carolers scene. Plans for decorations of a similar nature are being worked out for the East Blithedale Avenue area, Black said.

Shopper Wins Prize For Name

The nine stores in the newly formed group now will be known as the Central Grant Avenue Merchants Assn. About 100 names were submitted.

The next meeting of the organization will be in about two weeks.

HEAD SQUIRE—Bill Magee of Lucas Valley has been named manager and buyer of the new Squire Room of Junior Esquire in San Rafael. The new department will feature clothing for college age men and "the gentleman who is young in heart," said Magee, who has been with Junior Esquire more than a year.

Author In Marin

One of the co-authors of "Laboratory and Field Studies in Biology" is John J. Burke, head of the science department of George Washington High School in San Francisco and resident of 25 Monte Vista, Larkspur. The book, recently published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, was sponsored by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council.

Portable Crane Lift Operating In Marin

A portable crane lift, believed to be the only one of its kind in the Bay Area, and capable of raising cruisers and sailboats weighing more than 11 tons from the San Rafael channel to dry land, is a new addition to the boat service facilities of San Rafael Marin Repair at Harbor and Canal Streets, San Rafael.

The lift operates on a 35-horsepower motor and is driven on channel iron tracking over the water. Two reinforced slings cradled under the bow of boats up to 45 feet in length hoist them above ground level. They may then be transferred to any part of the firm's yard for repair and painting by do-it-yourself owners or by the company's own mechanics, or for storage.

Still maintained is the firm's shipway and winch equipment

The new lift is part of an over-all remodeling program which began in September, following the firm's incorporation last May. Principals in the operation are Harold Potter, 57 Oxford Drive, San Rafael, president; Richard McCarthy, 252 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, vice president; and Howard Bean, San Mateo, secretary-treasurer.

Tightening Of Loans For Harbors Indicated

BURLINGAME (AP)—There are strong indications there will be a tightening of regulations covering state loans for building small boat harbor facilities.

The California Commission on Small Boats and Harbors will make such a decision either at its January meeting in Fresno or at the one after that.

Tuesday the commission heard opposing views on the proposal.

C. R. Kirby, commissioner for the Port San Luis Harbor District in the San Luis Obispo area, attacked the proposed requirement that when land is purchased it be cleared through a title company. Kirby said some of the lands involved were submarginal and that title companies will not touch them.

Julius H. Selinger, San Rafael attorney representing the California Inland Harbor and Fishing Resorts Association, voiced support of proposals to tighten up methods by which loans are repaid by cities.

Moss Landing asked the commission for $500,000 for a water system. The chairman, Donald Loker, directed his staff to meet with Dick Myers, harbor master at Moss Landing, to work out details.

Redwood City was given $30,000 as an addition to its $300,000 harbor marina loan because of increased costs.

Fusselman, Ludy, Blair Should Act To Clear Air

It has been that way increasingly since the county elections last June.

At that time, Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who for several years had been a frequent dissenter on the five-man board of supervisors, won reelection handily.

They were defeated by George Ludy of Inverness and J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley. Ludy and Blair—and the backers who elected them — have been in agreement with Fusselman's expressed points of view.

So it has been apparent that when the new "order" takes office right after the first of the year, what's left of the old majority (Supervisors Walter R. Castro of San Rafael and William A. Gnoss of Novato) will become a minority.

Fusselman, the dissenter, will command a majority composed of himself, Ludy and Blair. There are some who half-way expect Gnoss to join with the Fusselman force.

Fusselman never was a supporter of the county administrator idea, the county counsel idea, nor the civic center plans. Likewise, he frequently balked at Assessor Bert Broemmel's requests for supervisorial backing to continue county-wide reappraisals to keep the tax rolls up to date.

Soon after the June election, talk spread through the courthouse that Fusselman would use his new majority to "dump" County Planning Director Mary Summers and Public Works Director Marvin Brigham.

Further, the Fusselman-Ludy-Blair trio would abolish the separate office of county counsel. They would abolish the office of county administrator. And there would be no further work contracted on the civic center.

The assessor's budget would be curtailed, leaving him insufficient personnel to carry on continuing reappraisal. This was not all, but it is enough to convey the type of talk going through the courthouse.

As we say, the result was unrest and turmoil which has NOT been good for our county government.

All we have heard from Fusselman, Ludy and Blair is denials that they have met to make concrete plans. But there is plenty of evidence that they have been together for discussion on more than one occasion since election day last June.

What have been the results of the unrest and turmoil so far?

Some good people have left county service: County Counsel Leland Jordan and County Administrator Don Jensen. Planning Director Mary Summers has announced her intention to leave during the coming year.

There are those who say that Mrs. Summers was offered a deal through an intermediary; if she would publicly signify her intention to quit, she wouldn't be harassed or fired when the Fusselman command takes over.

There are those who say that the assessor, too, was offered a "deal" by another intermediary who described himself as representing Fusselman, Ludy and Blair. "Pull in your horns on this reappraisal stuff and get in line or the new majority will ruin you at budget time," Broemmel was told, so the story goes.

What can be done about this unhappy state of affairs?

Fusselman and the majority he commands—Ludy and Blair— could clear the air quickly.

And we believe they should, in the interest of getting county government back down to earth.

They ought to say yes or no on abolition of the separate office of county counsel, on the administrator, on continuing reappraisal. They ought to clarify Brigham's status.

Employees who are going to be axed still have six weeks to find another job before the first of the year.

Those whose fears are unfounded could quit worrying and get back to work.

Our columns, of course, are open as always to Messrs. Fusselman, Ludy and Blair to help in this necessary job of clearing the courthouse air. We hope they act quickly to bring this unhealthy situation to swift conclusion.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

The Government Ought To Give Fat People Reduction In Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—It is time the federal government did something to help the fat man.

At it is now, nobody does much for the fat man except jeer him.

Yet fat people are vital to the American economy. Since we have some 25 to 30 million overweight people, they outnumber farmers or manufacturers by a large margin.

Congress regularly rushes to the rescue of the farmer with crop benefit payments and to the aid of the manufacturer with protective tariffs.

But the only government help fat people get is a periodic warning from the U. S. Public Health Service that if they don't lose weight they probably won't live as long.

The government should encourage them to reduce by offering them solid inducements, just as it helps the farmer and the manufacturer and the oil well owners.

For example, why not a fat depletion allowance on your income tax?

Under this plan your doctor would indicate how much overweight you were, and give you a diet. Then when you went to pay your income tax, the collector would give you a 1 per cent reduction for each pound you had lost, in recognition of your valiant and patriotic effort to save a worthwhile part of America—namely yourself.

A FEDERAL FAT control program such as herein outlined may sound like another raid on the Treasury by another special privilege group.

Actually, it isn't. Unlike the federal farm surplus program it probably would more than pay its own way—because it would keep millions of former fat people alive longer, paying taxes years beyond their expected span.

ONE THING you can say about any one who opposes this program of national recognition.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Basic Facts Of Election Results

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Now that John Kennedy will be our next president (bitter pill to some of us), there is no question that, for the good of our country, we must all co-operate. BUT, we must never lose sight of certain basic facts to be re-evaluated in 1964, especially by "labor" which apparently had much influence in the national election, if not locally.

1. Will the economy rise at a faster rate than during the Eisenhower-Nixon administration?

2. Will the dollar remain relatively stable, or will it do a Truman?

3. Will taxes increase?

4. Will we stay out of war?

5. Will civil rights take a big forward step?

6. Will we maintain and improve foreign relations?

If any of these questions become answered in the negative, Democrats as well as Republicans should begin to wonder if they have not been sold down the river on the oft-repeated phrase that "the Democratic party is the party of the people."

Republicans: Let's not be pessimistic or deliberately try to dump the apple cart just so you can say, "I told you so."

Democrats: Bear in mind that the margin of victory was so slim that there is not a "mandate of the people" and that the people do not want a radical shift in policy or program. You represent all the people, not just Democrats.

Democrats and Republicans: The large voter turnout indicated an unprecedented interest and the power of the ballot. Let's keep that power and be sure that our representatives "toe the line" in keeping their campaign promises. Let's make sure that they were not just lullabies. Be constantly alert to our power as a voter and not just forget the election now that it is over.

Labor (what a poor title for men who earn their living): Apparently the people (including union members) want candidates who will represent all the people, not just labor. Let the sound trouncing of the labor-sponsored candidates in the Assembly and state-senatorship be a warning. It is not a question of their personal attributes (who could have wanted finer men) but it is common knowledge that no labor-sponsored representative will vote against a labor measure no matter how badly or unwisely drafted on the assumption that any labor-favored legislation is good legislation. This does not mean that our newly elected representatives will be anti-labor.

Capital (if there is such a thing as we are all capitalists to a degree): There is no such thing today as a status quo. Strict conservatism is dead. But you must guard against a rush to the new, which so-called liberals may wish to make without consideration that often a mixture with the old makes a better brew.

These are just the opinions of one man but may well represent the fellings of many others.

Death Knell Of Public Schools?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As an appendage to the excellent I-J editorial and Henry MacArthur's column of comment on the resolution adopted by the Cal. County Superintendents' Assn., may I submit the following paragraph, taken from an article appearing in a recent issue of American School Board Journal.

"One of the most interesting developments in American education is the recent shift from public to non-public schools at the elementary and secondary levels. Between 1940 and 1956, enrollment in non-public schools grew four times as fast as enrollment in public schools. Twenty-nine per cent of the additional children who sought admittance to school in this period chose non-public schools. The shift is indeed remarkable when one stops to consider that a much greater share of the cost of staffing, constructing and financing is borne by parents who send their children to private and parochial schools than those who send their children to tax supported schools. For the satisfaction of thinking that they are sending their children to a superior school, they are willing to pay a price. It has been estimated that the trend toward non-public schools saved the taxpayer 1.8 billion dollars in 1955-56."

In repudiating critical intelligence, are not the superintendents sounding the death knell for the public school system?

Should we, whether or not we can afford private school education, renounce the right to be thinking human beings for fear we might undermine the public schools by analyzing them?

Puerto Ricans Vote Contrary To Advice Of Their Three Bishops

WASHINGTON — As in the American elections this year, the religious issue showed itself elsewhere. In the race for the Puerto Rican governorship all of the issues which were present but muted in the Presidential campaign were sharp and tangible and out in the open.

In Puerto Rico the issue was propelled into the election by the Catholic hierarchy, not by the candidates or by the small number of Protestants who live there. The three Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico read two pastoral letters from their pulpits "forbidding" members of the church—about 90 per cent of the population — to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin and decreeing that disobedience would be a "sin."

This clerical intervention on American soil and its effects have some bearing on the problems President Kennedy might have to face. They tend to confirm one statement which Mr. Kenendy often made and call into some doubt two other Kennedy assurances.

He said many times that he was sure that American Catholics would not take voting orders on how to vote. Well, the Puerto Rican Americans showed with a venegance that they wouldn't take such orders, regarding these orders as invalid and improper. They voted overwhelmingly for Gov. Munoz Marin who was elected to a fourth term by a larger vote than ever.

BUT THE PASTORAL letters could give President Kennedy some concern. He often remarked that he was confident his church would not bring any pressures to bear on him and he said that he could not conceive that there could be any conflict between his loyalty to his oath of office and his conscience as a Catholic.

The Catholic bishops of Puero Rico did bring pressure to bear against their chief of state and they sought to enforce that pressure by trying to control the votes of members of the church. This is direct and massive pressure.

The San Juan correspondent of the "New York Times" reported that when it was "unable to advance Catholic dogma from the pulpit with sufficient success," the church turned to attempting to control the elections in order to force the government to give "legal backing to its moral strictures."

Mr. Kennedy does, of course, speak authoritatively for his conscience and for his own assurance that there could be no conflict with his constitutional oath. But a spokesman at the Vatican stated that the Puerto Rican Catholic bishops "were within their authority" in telling the members of the church how to vote and in telling Gov. Munoz Marin how to act and in prescribing disobedience as a "sin." This view is not unanimously held by all members and clergy of the Catholic Church.

It is reassuring that it didn't work, that these American voters refused to be told. I suspect that most Catholic laymen in the U. S. dissent from and resent this clerical intervention. It helps us to see that the "religious issue" is not a matter of theology but a matter of the proper role of the church and its clergy in temporal affairs. There is a vast difference between the right of advocacy, which should be denied no one, and the right to "forbid."

Screening Group Narrows Field Of Applicants For Hospital Job

SOMETIME NEXT month a new administrator will be striding through the corridors of Marin General Hospital, taking over the tough task of running the overcrowded hospital.

For the past seven weeks a special screening committee has been searching for the man to fill this job — ever since the present administrator, S. Ames Pence, announced that he will leave about Dec. 1 for a new position in scientific research.

The post of Marin General administrator apparently is a much coveted one. About 250 applications have poured in so far, and new ones are coming in at the rate of 10 a day. Most are from the midwest, south and east.

WHAT WILL HE be like, this new hospital head?

Odds are he'll be between 40 and 55 years old, a tried administrator who has been in full charge of a hospital and had a number of years of experience.

He may have a master's degree in hospital administration, but not necessarily. He will be a man who considers running the hospital adequately his first job. He may participate in professional and community activities, but these he will feel are secondary to his main task.

The new administrator probably will have had special experience in hospital planning and equipping and will have a good business management sense. He may be a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators. And he'll have no history of "subversive affiliations or ultra-liberal activities."

THESE ARE some of the general qualifications the hospital board has set forth as a guide for the screening committee — ideals that board members consider desirable in an administrator.

A woman, incidentally, will not be considered for the post —because of what a spokesman termed the "intricacies of working with the medical staff and personnel." A woman might be handicapped, despite her capabilities, it is felt.

The man who is finally selected will have no easy task ahead of him. He will have to run a hospital and maintain good service while a building program is underway. It'll require a lot of juggling, and a lot of ability.

MARIN GENERAL is overcrowded—and this is the big problem. In September, for example, the hospital operated at 104 per cent of capacity on the surgical floor, 101 per cent on the medical floor. During the month 168 babies were born. The hospital has the only maternity section in Marin County, outside Hamilton Air Force Base hospital limited to military dependents.

How does Marin General meet this problem? Until a new 116-bed wing is completed and relieves the crowding, some patients are put in halls or shifted around to other floors. Some, scheduled for admission for non-emergency operations or treatment, are put off for another day.

So the committee is screening very carefully the applicants for the post of administrator.

SINCE PENCE is scheduled to leave about Dec. 1, the board wants to hire a replacement as soon as possible and maintain an unbroken chain of authority.

The screening committee—composed of two prominent hospital administrators and a Marin County marketing executive who represents local citizens—already has narrowed the field down to about eight possibilities for interview by the hospital board. The board will make the final decision.

Possibilties for the post of assistant administrator (which is also vacant) also are being considered as the committee pores over the applications. The best of these will be referred to the new administrator for his study.

On the screening committee are Alfred Maffly, administrator of Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley since 1933 and president elect of the California Hospital Assn.; Harold H. Hixson, administrator of the University of California hospitals, San Francisco, and Mel J. London of Ross, vice presidenti n charge of marketing at Calaveras Cement Co.

LEAVES SATURDAY

Three From Marin To Sail On Wanderer

Three men from Marin will be aboard the schooner Wanderer when it sails at noon Saturday for the South Seas from Fishermen's Wharf in San Francisco.

Omer Darr of Mill Valley will captain the vessel, as on last summer's voyage. Medical man will be Dr. Gray Stahlman of 126 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito. The third Marinite is Richard Pinneo of 117 Third Street, San Rafael.

Dr. Stahlman, who is to be the doctor for the round trip, will be met in Tahiti by his fiancee, Gloria Drake of 78 Central Avenue, Sausalito, who will fly there. They will be married in Tahiti and return together on the Wanderer.

Passengers, about 15, will be charter members, each paying his part of the way, according to organizer Marvin Hand.

It will call first at Pitcairn Island, where one passenger, Mrs. Robert Willis of Alabama, will deliver some cotton cloth and "T" shirts for the natives. The ship will also visit Henderson Islands, Mongareva Islands, the Tuamotus and Moorea, and return about mid-March.

Reason for the San Francisco debarcation point, Hand said, is to enable passengers to load directly from their cars on the pier.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Nov. 17, the 322nd day of the year with 44 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Mercury.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1877, the D'Orly Carte Opera Co. gave its first production, Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "The Sorcerer" in London's Opera Comique theater.

In 1881, Samuel Gompers organized the federation of organized trades and labor unions of the United States and Canada.

A thought for today: U.S. writer Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "Nothing can bring you peace but yourself."

Enthusiasm Greets Suggestion For Day Honoring Our School Teachers

Teachers work hard, get few rewards and need recognition. Might we have a National Teachers' Day to honor them?

A girl named Patricia Ann Bryson wrote to me suggesting a National Teachers' Day. I relayed it to you last month and was amazed at your response. A snowstorm of letters came, every one of them agreeing with Patricia Ann.

Most teachers are too modest. The public takes them for granted. But we parents know how much they help our children.

Johnny is at odds with the world. He fights with other kids and refuses to read or write. Then he gets into the room of an understanding, capable teacher who spots his trouble and rescues him, and in no time at all he's back on the beam. That sort of thing happens a thousand times a month, but we parents are the only ones who know it.

Teachers are important another way. They are the bulwark of democracy. They teach our children how to think and indoctrinate them in good citizenship and patriotism. It is no accident that dictators grab the schools when they take over a country and mold the younger generation to fit their pattern. They know how important teachers are.

Could we have a National Teachers' Day? One way to get it would be through a Presidential proclamation. Many of our other special days were started that way. If you approve of the idea of a National Teachers' Day write to President Eisenhower and suggest that he proclaim it.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My boy is 12, and quite popular. Two girls are after him. They follow him home from school and phone him at odd hours. They won't leave him alone, even though he's not interested in them. What's wrong with the girls?"

Mrs. B. K.

(A) Probably nothing. Girls become interested in boys several years before boys become interested in girls. They're behaving normally, and so is your son.

Marin Motel Group Elects Officers

Other officers elected at a luncheon meeting in the Wiltshire Towers restaurant were vice president Paul Thompson of the Villa Rafael Motel, San Rafael, and secretary-treasurer Mrs. Ray Morice of the Mission Lodge, Novato.

The association was formed as a Marin chapter of the California Motel Assn. on Oct. 19. Six of the 30 motels in the county joined as charter members.

Officers will meet on Dec. 7 for approval of bylaws and final admission of charter memberships. The membership will meet on Jan. 11.

Youth Given 30 Days For Speeding

A 19-year-old Petaluma youth must spend 30 days in Marin County Jail for speeding in Santa Venetia Sept. 24 at a time when his driving privilege was suspended.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday sentenced H. Merle Hicklin to the jail term, with work furlough privilege.

Sheriff's Deputy Harvey Teague testified Hicklin was going about 65 to 70 miles per hour on North San Pedro Road about 1:30 or 2 a.m. Another youth and two girls were in the car.

The judge noted that Hicklin's driver's license had expired, and he was already on probation for reckless driving and running a stop sign.

DES MOINES (AP)—There are ex-Iowans almost everywhere, it seems to the home folks.

Recently a Des Moines paint company released some balloons. One found its way to the yard of Mrs. Edythe N. Welch at North Chatham, N. Y., about 17 miles from Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Welch wrote to the Des Moines firm. Her husband was born in Dubuque, Iowa, had lived in Des Moines, and his father once was a business executive here.

A BOILING POT

Sausalito Man Tells Of Visit To Africa

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"Africa can be likened to a pot that is getting ready to boil over. Every politician wants to tip that pot so it will spill to his advantage. He doesn't care how many Africans or other people get scalded as long as it is to his advantage."

This is one of the impressions of Carl Spring of Sausalito, who, with his wife, returned last week after a three and one-half month visit to central, southwest and eastern Africa.

Traveling by car over 11,000 mimles to visit the country and watch wild animals "in the bush," the Springs found many changes from their prior 1951 visit, not the least being a feeling of "impersonal tenseness."

Two major changes were in transportation and clothing. There were few bicycles in 1951; now they are numerous. There are also markedly more Afrikanders driving commercial and farm vehicles, and there is an increase in air service.

Clothing, which used to be tribal dress on the edge of cities, has changed. "Now, due to further permeation of civilization into the hinterland," Spring said, "you have to go farther from the cities to find the native dress."

The Springs found Kruger National Park "practically ruined for game viewing by just too many people and too many automobiles," Spring said. "We are pretty demanding on our game viewing . . . Up in Rhodesia, we could really get close to nature and see game."

Spring said "all of Africa has been taught to cry for freedom." Over the areas they visited, they saw many youngsters holding up their fingers in the "V for victory" sign and saying "Uhuru," meaning freedom in Swahili.

"There seems to be a general misunderstanding that when freedom comes, everything will be free," Spring said. "The food in the store, the white man's property, his farm, house, his family or his industrial holdings."

He said there is a visible lack of maintenance of property, a decrease in the size of the merchants' stock of goods, a flight of capital and no replacement of worn-out items.

The Springs had "excellent lion luck" at Tsavo Park near Mount Kilamanjaro, which means they saw lots of lions. Mrs. Spring said: "Where the grass is gray the lions are gray. Where it is yellow, the lions are yellow. And that goes for the other game."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Spring said they were delighted to hear a rhinosceros mew like a cat, a zebra bark and an elephant roar instead of trumpet.

Spring said they did not come upon any sign of animosity against them. He said there was a sense of "impersonal tenseness" in Africa.

Resources Held Key To U.S. Survival

WASHINGTON (AP)—Survival of the United States as a nation may depend on wise use of its natural resources, the Army Engineers, the nation's main dam builders, in a report printed by a special Senate Committee on National Water Resources.

Army engineers called attention to wasteful exploitation of resources, including reckless timber cutting and other practices which added to erosion and caused costly flood damage.

"Modification of existing laws is now far more important than it has been in the past," the engineers' report said.

"Today our resources are, as it were, under our feet,' and the very existence of the nation may depend upon the efficient use of those resources."

The engineers noted that many witnesses heard by the committee had testified the ation would be hard-pressed to supply enough water in the next century to satisfy demands for food, industrial and other use by a fast-growing population.

The engineers said flood control laws, under which they operate, should be changed "to make them responsive to emerging needs caused by rapid and radical changes.

"Dams and reservoirs should be planned to regulate the rivers for all purposes.

"If a stream could be fully regulated there would be no floods . . . a reservoir system capable of providing a high degree of regulation is simply a means of converting floods to a steady flow so the stream will be of greater value for power generation, water supply for irrigation and municipal use, pollution abatement, navigation and other purposes."

Army engineers build dams, levees and other facilities costing about $300 million a year. They have recommended that the program be increased to $500 million annually.

Blood Donated

Residents of Marinwood and Terra Linda donated almost 200 pints of blood—75 pints over their quota—during the visit of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank mobile unit on Nov. 3. The two areas donated about 100 pints each.

COAST TO COAST UNDER ROBOT CONTROL

Two supersonic Republic F-105 Air Force jets race through the sky from Florida to California under robot control. The pilots handled the controls only for takeoff and landing of the 1,400-mile-an-hour fighter-bombers on the flight.

In 1613 the Virginia Company sold its rights to the Bermuda Islands to a London business group for about $10,000. Now the tourist business alone in the islands is worth an estimated 25 to 30 million dollars a year.

Plans for the new offices were announced early in October. The division and district headquarters will be at the southeast corner of Third and Brooks streets on the site of the old PG&E gas plant, which is to be razed.

Halloween Collection Was Record

A record Halloween collection for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) was made in Marin County with a total of more than $3,500, according to announcement by Mrs. Eric Moeller.

Mrs. Moeller said that between 3,000 and 4,000 children in the county canvassed Halloween night. Their collections have been going to the First National Bank in San Rafael for the past two weeks. The money will go for milk and medicine for children in foreign lands.

Collections by areas follow: Corte Madera $158.94, Fairfax $53.74, Kentfield $190.33, Laguitas School District $25.39, Mill Valley $316.38, Novato $550, Reed District $240, Ross $147.56, San Anselmo $204.35, San Quentin $10.63, San Rafael $833.38, Dixie District $534.76, Sausalito $77, Marin City $25.01, forts $91.

Librarian Quits Sausalito Post

Mabel Wosser, librarian at the Sausalito Public Library since 1937, has retired as of Nov. 1, it was announced at Tuesday's Sausalito City Council meeting.

City Manager Charles A. Brown said Miss Wosser has agreed to remain for six weeks from her retirement date until the library board recruits a qualified librarian to fill her place.

Miss Wosser has had a permanent appointment since 1937 but worked at the library as a substitute for five or six years prior to that. She is from an old Marin family and lives with her three sisters at the old family home at 517 Pine Street. She has retired under the city retirement plan.

Film Benefit Tomorrow For Junior Museum

"Adventures of Tom Sawyer," the Mark Twain story, will be shown tomorrow afternoon in three Marin theaters as the sixth annual benefit movie of the Junior Museum Service League.

The show will start at 1:30 p.m. at the San Rafael Theater in San Rafael, Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo and Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley. Children with tickets will be admitted at 1 p.m. and the box office will open at 1:15 p.m.

There will be a short subject and cartoons in addition to the feature film.

Tickets may be purchased at the theaters, or at the San Rafael Toy Shop, PayLess Drug Store and Junior Museum in San Rafael, Toy and Hobby Mart in Sausalito, both Dimitroff's Art Stores in Mill Valley, Pini Hardware and Johnson's Hardware in Novato, Hoy's Music Store in San Anselmo, Bank Pharmacy in Fairfax, Jewel's Toy Box in Kentfield and from members of the Service League.

Teacher Pay Session Scheduled In Novato

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District will meet with a teacher committee Tuesday to negotiate a teacher salary schedule.

Representatives of the Novato Teachers Assn. will sit down with trustees and an outside financial consultant. Teachers have asked for confirmation by Dec. 15 that salaries for the next school year will go up.

Trustees at Tuesday night's meeting took the first step toward implementing the four-million-dollar construction program approved by voters. Architects Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics of San Francisco were ordered to prepare plans for a six-room addition to the high school.

Supt. W. J. J. Smith reported district officials are continuing negotiation for purchase of about three acres southwest of the present high school site and adjacent to it. Appraisals are being made, he said. The site, with an additional five acres from the high school, would be used for a school for 450 youngsters.

GORDON A. PHILLIPS

Architect

From the drawing board to reality

Contractor WILCO CONSTRUCTION COMPANY'S Walt Wilson teamed with nearly thirty of the finest craftsmen in Northern California in completing this modern and different bowling center. First of all, the ground had to be absolutely level. There had to be a grading operation. Then the carpenters preparing the forms for the concrete base . . . the cement workers and finishers. The number of carpenters and piles of material grew. Soon electricians, plumbers, bricklayers joined what appeared to be a horde of workmen. Thick rolls of blueprints were being scanned seemingly at every point of the construction.

As you'll note, the design of the building, particularly the front, is without corners. Everything is circular. This is harder to build and obviously, much costlier. By now, it's difficult to remember what a confusing maze a structure of this type is in its early stages. The plasterers spraying ceilings and walls, apparently unending coils of wire, stacks of wire lath, tripping the unwary, and trespassing onlooker.

Finally the master craftsmen from Brunswick arriving to put down the fine maple flooring of the lanes. Things are beginning to shape up. Equipment arrives and is stacked, inevitably in the way. Sheet metal men bang away on the various phases of their work, the cabinetry is being sanded ready for the painters. Suddenly one day the automatic pinsetters were clacking away and the big door opening day neared.

No phase of the construction that would contribute to the visitors' pleasure and comfort must be overlooked. Everything has to be checked and double checked. But now the day has arrived. Just about everything is completed.

This is Nave Lanes.

SOME OF THE 32 BOWLING WAYS AT NAVE LANES

Here is the shining interior of part of Nave Lanes, Ignacio. The theme is on bowling, but there is a fine dining room, an excellent kitchen, and there are locker rooms and a baby-sitting service. There are automatic pinsetters. Lanes cost about $15,000 each.

Nave Lanes: Fine For Sport, Food

Nave Lanes will offer the finest to the sportsman or diner—all in a Roman setting.

The building on highway 101 south of Novato, has the smoothly rounded lines of the jet age. But its theme is as old as Rome.

William Nave Sr., sons Bob, Rich and Bill Jr., wanted something different.

Walk through the main entrance, and you'll find the corridors move you with curved walls toward the alleys, dining room or billiard room.

Starting from one side of the building, a tour would show you the billiard room, with its five tables. Doors open onto a small patio with its green plants. Nearby is the locker room with 250 lockers.

The 32 lanes are of shining maple for the first 16 feet and the approach, hardwood which will take punishment.

The lanes cost about $15,000 each to construct, with another $800,000 in equipment.

"Please tag your child and his diaper bag" is the sign near the entrance to the nursery, regularly staffed during the day for Nave lanes visitors. Cribs, a patio, toys, cork pin up boards, small tables and chairs complete the nursery. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from noon to 5 p.m.

The dining room, "Nero's," seats 75 persons, in addition to 30 in the atrium, or patio outside the half circle of the room.

"Caesar's Den," off the dining room, can provide cocktails before the glowing brazier in the fireplace. Five bas relief by San Francisco artist Michael Von Meyer carry through the Roman theme by depicting a gladiator and charioteer.

Architect Provided Everything

"The Naves wanted everything to blend and to be beautiful and for people to be comfortable," architect Gordon Phillips says.

But they also wanted something "different" he explains. So from Phillips' San Rafael office came a building design modeled after the "romantic Roman" period, with curving forms and hues intrinsic in the building materials softening both exterior and interior lines of the huge building.

The classical barrel vault of the Romans, the continuous rounded form of it, suggest the lines of the building, Phillips explains, a building in which there are few square or sharp corners.

Admittedly the curved form was more work to design, but the result is a "more delightful building," Phillips believes. Construction costs were kept down by using the natural color and surface of concrete bricks, ceramic tile, tinted plaster for the interior finish—"an integral surface and building material."

The entire building, from design to furniture, landscaping and furniture design and color was worked out with Phillips, his staff and the Naves, in an attempt to blend structure and fittings.

"Your Friends"

Automatic Pinsetters Really Make Eyes Pop

Bowlers and non-bowling visitors alike gape in amazement when touring the innards of Nave Lanes, particularly at the automatic pinsetters.

The man responsible for their dependable daily operation is a long-time Marin County resident, Mario Lattuada. Mario worked for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad for 36 years as a machinist.

He was born in Italy and came to the United States with his mother in 1913 and has lived in San Rafael since 1924. Mario is mechanical superintendent of the lanes.

The responsibility entails more than the automatic pinsetters or "monsters" as they are frequently called. He must service the heating and air conditioning units, the Brunswick Cluster ball returns, and the Tel-E-Scope desk units.

Ben Fujihara Presides Over Nave Lanes Kitchen, Menu

Ben was born in Sacramento.

His early training in the culinary arts was at the noted Senator Hotel under a famous chef, Alfred Bohn, who also achieved renown at San Francisco's Palace Hotel.

Much of Fujihara's apprenticeship was served at a well-known hostelry, the Hotel Cleveland, in Ohio. As is customary, Ben served as pantryman, fry cook, second cook, and ultimately as chef. A Novato resident, Ben is married and the father of three children.

He has received recognition with awards for his decorative ability in serving buffets. Since the Nave Lanes dining room, known as "Nero's," has opened, Ben has received numerous plaudits for his food.

Coffey's In Charge Of Evening Desk

John, born in Bozeman, Mont., moved to Marin county in 1926 and was a four-star athlete at Tamalpais High.

Later, finishing his schooling at Montana State College, John served in the Air Corps and began his bowling experience at posts in Enid, Oklahoma, and other military installations during his service hitch. He attained the high average of 197 when bowling in some of the squadron leagues.

Evening league play at Nave Lanes is under John's supervision, who when pressed, settles some of the disputes inevitable under the fire of hot competition in some of the scratch leagues.

The jocularity with which John Coffey greets bowlers is not a forced gesture. He is a friendly guy to begin with. His experience at numerous Bay Area and northern California bowling centers stands him in good stead while presiding over the desk at Nave Lanes.

John served for many years with the well known Guardsmen Tournament at the Marina Bowl in San Francisco. Coffey is single and lives in San Rafael.

Jackie Vallee Is Desk Man, Grew Up With Naves

Jackie went through grade school with Richard Nave, played with him on the same San Rafael High School football team which won the 1946 lightweight championship, and served in the Marine Corps with Rich.

In his capacity as assistant manager, Jackie has helped in the formation of many of the 285 leagues now bowling at Nave Lanes. He is responsible each day for lining up the scoring sheets and reporting forms that are used by the league secretaries.

Name Of Nave Familiar In Marin For Decades

The Nave name has been a familiar one in Marin for decades.

William Nave Sr., who with his three sons built the new Nave lanes, is the eldest of five children of Peter Nave who came to Marin county in 1884. The family at that time lived in San Anselmo.

In 1890, on the site of what now is the Nave Lanes on highway 101 south of Novato, the Naves lived in an eight-room home on property which was part of the original Spanish land grant to the Pacheco family.

William Nave Sr. was for many years a cattle buyer and today reminisces about running more than 800 head of cattle on the hills now covered with houses of the Loma Verde subdivision and the Marin Golf and Country Club. At one time, the Naves also operated a small country slaughterhouse.

William Nave Sr. served for 15 years as deputy county assessor under county assessor George Hall. He operated the first cab service in the county. In those years, Nave recalls, they were called "jitneys." He also operated the first garage in north Marin.

Bill Nave served in 1933 and 1934 as Federal Loan Bank Commissioner for Marin and was responsible for loaning more than a million dollars in those years, chiefly to ranchers in the North Marin rural areas.

The eldest of the three sons, Bill Jr. served in the Naval Air Corps as a tail gunner in a torpedo bomber. Bill Jr. and his brother Rich are certified bowling instructors.

Both Bill Jr. and Rich hold secondary teachers' credentials and are college graduates. They served as assistant coaches at San Rafael High School under Paul Miller.

Bill Jr., the oldest of the three brothers, attended the Brunswick management school. Richard Nave served in the Marine Corps and is the youngest of the brothers.

Bob Nave performed an almost impossible job during the construction of the bowling center by keeping everything running on schedule. Bill Nave Sr. insists that Bob knows where every nail is, every wire and could probably tear into the concrete floor at the precise point where a pipe joint is sought. Bob saw service as a paratrooper with the famous 11th Airborne Division.

All three brothers are married; all live in San Rafael.

Bill Gerton Is Leagues Helper

Bill is coordinator of leagues and is active in league recruitment. He has been an avid bowler since 1929.

Bill went to school in nearby Sebastapol and during his military career saw service in almost all parts of the world, including Africa, the Philippines, the Orient and Europe.

Caesar's Den Managed By Amonini

Ray is a handsome, smiling, prematurely gray young man born in San Francisco. He has lived in Marin for eight years.

Ray attracts former customers and newcomers alike with his ability behind the bar and his genuine friendliness. He is widely known through his former co-ownership with Don Pareglio of the Brick Lodge, now San Rafael Joe's.

Amonini candidly admits that he is an indifferent bowler but says he is a better than average golfer, playing in Marin and at the Sonoma Country Club.

He has competed in the annual Barmaster's competition and is working on a couple of new ideas: tentative titles are "Pinsetter's Poison" and "Alley Fever."
